Personality Donald G. Dutton,1998-08-06 Physical violence may be the most overt manifestation of relationship abuse but maltreatment of intimate partners takes many other forms as well This integrative work explores the nature of male abusiveness by focusing on the development of a particular personality constellation one that is easily threatened jealous and fearful and that masks these emotions with anger and demands for control Presenting results of controlled research with over 400 batterers Dutton shows that many abusers exhibit high levels of trauma symptoms This symptomatology is cogently linked to elements of childhood experience including witnessing of violence the use of shaming techniques by parents and insecure attachment and in turn to such characteristics as terror of abandonment and the inability to regulate one s emotions or deal with conflict effectively A concluding chapter focuses on treatment The Silent Past and the Invisible Present

Psychiatry in the Scientific Image Dominic Murphy, 2012-01-13. An analysis of the understanding, classification, and explanation of mental disorders that proposes that psychiatry adopt the best practices of the cognitive sciences. In Psychiatry in the Scientific Image, Dominic Murphy looks at psychiatry from the viewpoint of analytic philosophy of science, considering three issues: how we should conceive of, classify, and explain mental illness. If someone is said to have a mental illness, what about it is mental? What makes it an illness? How might we explain and classify it? A system of psychiatric classification settles these questions by distinguishing the mental illnesses and showing how they stand in relation to one another. This book explores the philosophical issues raised by the project of explaining and classifying mental illness. Murphy argues that the current literature on mental illness exemplified by the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders is an impediment to research; it lacks a coherent concept of the mental and a satisfactory account of disorder and yields too much authority to commonsense thought about the mind. He argues that the explanation of mental illness should meet the standards of good explanatory practice in the cognitive neurosciences and that the classification of mental disorders should group symptoms into conditions based on the causal structure of the normal mind.

Philosophical Issues in Psychiatry Kenneth S. Kendler, Josef Parnas, 2015-09. This multidisciplinary collection explores three key concepts underpinning psychiatry: explanation, phenomenology, and nosology, and their continuing relevance in an age of neuroimaging and genetic analysis. This book opens with Dr. Kenneth S. Kendler's introduction to the philosophical grounding of psychiatric practice. Chapters in the first section of the book then address the concept of explanation, from the difficulties in describing complex behavior to the categorization of psychological and biological causality. In the second section, contributors discuss experience, including the complex and vexing issue of how self-agency and free will affect mental health. The third and final section examines the organizational difficulties in psychiatric nosology and the instability of the existing diagnostic system Each chapter includes both an introduction by the editors and a concluding comment by another of the book's contributors Contributors John Campbell PhD Thomas Fuchs MD PhD Shaun Gallagher PhD Kenneth S Kendler MD Sandra D Mitchell PhD Dominic P Murphy PhD Josef Parnas MD DrMedSci Louis A Sass PhD Kenneth F Schaffner MD PhD James F Woodward PhD Peter Zachar PhD This is a serious and important book it is certainly one that researchers scholars and anyone involved in trying to explain the nature of psychiatric disorders to a skeptical audience ought to read British Journal of Psychiatry Kenneth S Kendler MD is the Rachel Brown Banks Distinguished Professor of Psychiatry at the Medical College of Virginia where he is also a professor of human genetics and the director of the Virginia Institute for Psychiatric and Behavioral Genetics He is the author of Genes Environment and Psychopathology Josef Parnas MD DrMedSci is a professor of psychiatry and the consultant medical director for the Department of Psychiatry at Copenhagen University He is the codirector of the National Danish Research Foundation's Center for Subjectivity Research
