

Passage One

The California Gold Rush

The discovery of gold in what is now California started one of the largest migrations of people in history. In just a few years, San Francisco changed from a town of about 800 people to a city of 35,000. Many thousands of people, often desperate but hoping to get rich, participated in the California Gold Rush.

On January 24th, 1948, John Sutter hired many people to build a sawmill on the southern end of the American River, which is now the California town of Coloma. One person he hired was James Marshall. While digging at the site, Marshall saw some tiny golden flakes, and reported his findings to Sutter. Sutter tested the small nuggets and they were gold! No one is sure about who actually found the first gold, but Marshall first reported it, so he was given credit. Soon after Marshall found gold, other workers had found more gold. This started what is now called "Gold Fever". Soon news had spread that gold was discovered, and a gold rush had started.

Word spread quickly about the discovery of gold. Samuel Brennan, who was a businessman and journalist, left San Francisco and traveled to Coloma to see if the stories were true. After confirming the story and
