Troubling Tricksters Deanna Reder, Linda M. Morra, 2010-02-10 Troubling Tricksters is a collection of theoretical essays creative pieces and critical ruminations that provides a re visioning of trickster criticism in light of recent backlash against it The complaints of some Indigenous writers the critique from Indigenous nationalist critics and the changing of academic fashion have resulted in few new studies on the trickster For example The Cambridge Companion to Native American Literature 2005 includes only a brief mention of the trickster with skeptical commentary And in 2007 Anishinaabe scholar Niigonwedon Sinclair a contributor to this volume called for a moratorium on studies of the trickster irrelevant to the specific experiences and interests of Indigenous nations One of the objectives of this anthology is then to encourage scholarship that is mindful of the critic s responsibility to communities and to focus discussions on incarnations of tricksters in their particular national contexts The contribution of Troubling Tricksters therefore is twofold to offer a timely counterbalance to this growing critical lacuna and to propose new approaches to trickster studies approaches that have been clearly influenced by the nationalists call for cultural and historical specificity

Optimality in Translation Ali Darwish, 2008 Translation may be regarded as a response to a problem of communication usually between two language bound cultural entities The act itself is a multi dimensional and multi layered process involving in one consensual domain problem solving and decision making This book explores translation as a decision making process under constraints It examines these constraints and develops a three tier decision based translation model that can be used in self evaluation of translations and in translation quality assessment The model is anchored in optimality theory and regards translation as a temporary system of conflicting forces embodied by constraints yielding an optimal translation within these constraints

Critical Encounters in Secondary English Deborah Appleman, 2015-04-28 Because of the emphasis placed on nonfiction and informational texts by the Common Core State Standards literature teachers all over the country are re evaluating their curriculum and looking for thoughtful ways to incorporate nonfiction into their courses They are also rethinking their pedagogy as they consider ways to approach texts that are outside the usual fare of secondary literature classrooms The Third Edition of Critical Encounters in Secondary English provides an integrated approach to incorporating nonfiction and informational texts into the literature classroom Grounded in solid theory with new field tested classroom activities this new edition shows teachers how to adapt practices that have always defined good pedagogy to the new generation of standards for literature instruction New for the Third Edition A new preface and new introduction that discusses the CCSS and their implications for literature instruction Lists of nonfiction texts at the end of each chapter related to the critical lens described in that chapter A new chapter on new historicism a critical lens uniquely suited to interpreting nonfiction and informational sources New classroom activities created and field tested specifically for use with nonfiction texts Additional activities that demonstrate how informational texts can be used in conjunction with traditional literary texts What a smart and useful book Mike Rose University of California Los Angeles This book has enriched my understanding both of teaching literature and of how I read I know of no other book quite like it Michael W Smith Temple University College of Education I have recommended Critical Encounters to every group of preservice and practicing teachers that I have taught or worked with and I will continue to do so Ernest Morrell director of the Institute for Urban and Minority Education IUME Teachers College Columbia University
