France Since the Liberation Gino Raymond, 2024-02-20 This book focuses on the tension between the modernising thrust that places France on a trajectory of convergence with comparable liberal democracies and the defence of a national specificity that can act as a brake complicating France's relationship with its neighbours its present and its past This ambivalence in French political and social life stems from the conscious attempt to rebuild the nation after the trauma of Occupation during World War II and the new beginning provided by the Liberation The government of the Fourth Republic embraced the pursuit of a modernisation that would enable it to regain its place among the world's leading democratic states However this modernising ambition co exists with the belief in a specific destiny and a unique sense of mission that are intrinsic to the emergence of a sense of nationhood after the revolution of 1789 Raymond defines a critical perspective that draws together historical economic social and political issues into a coherent understanding of what makes France the way it is today Written with both academic rigour and a highly accessible clarity of style this volume is a valuable resource for students educators and researchers in French and European Studies

A lasting three year transformation process turned out to be an unpredictable factor for the traditional German and French foreign policy principles within a novel geopolitical environment. In this respect this study deals with the comparative foreign policy analysis of Germany and France with regard to the transformations in the MENA since 2011. Analysis is done on the basis of constructivist role theory in connection with the Civilian Power concept. Major interest of this study is dedicated to the analysis of the foreign policy repertoire and identity of Germany and France towards the transition countries in North Africa. A question is to be answered if the challenges provoke continuity or change.
