Aviation and Tourism Anne Graham,Andreas Papatheodorou,Peter Forsyth,2016-04-08 Transport is an essential element of tourism providing the vital link between the tourist generating areas and destinations Good accessibility which is determined by the transport services provided is a fundamental condition for the development of any tourist destination Moreover the transport industry can be a major beneficiary of tourism because of the additional passenger demand that may be generated Aviation is an increasingly important mode of transport for tourism markets Whilst geography has meant that in modern times air travel has always been the dominant mode for long distance travel and much international tourism moves towards deregulation and in particular the emergence of the low cost carrier sector have also increased aviation s significance for short and medium haul tourism trips Thus developments in aviation can have very major implications for many leisure and business tourism markets However the characteristics and needs of leisure travellers are generally so very different from business travellers that this necessitates a separate consideration of these markets if a detailed understanding of the relationship with aviation is to be gained In spite of the obvious closeness between the aviation and tourism industries there are very few specialist texts on this subject Most tourism focused books consider aviation as just one component of the tourism industry which needs to be discussed whereas aviation specialist texts rarely concentrate on just leisure travel In addition there is very little literature that gives a detailed appreciation of the complexities and potential conflicts associated with the development of coherent and effective aviation and tourism policies Therefore it is the aim of this book to fill this important gap which exists with a comprehensive in depth study of the relationship between aviation and leisure travel The book deals exclusively with issues related to the relationship between aviation and leisure travel It does this with an analysis of the theoretical concepts relevant to the subject area combined with a detailed investigation of current practice within the aviation and tourism industries Each chapter is illustrated with case study material that will reinforce the understanding of the issues that are being examined

Information and Communication Technologies in Tourism 1997 A.Min Tjoa,2012-12-06 For the fourth time now experts in tourism from various countries come to attend the ENTER conference in order to inform themselves and others about the current developments in the usage of information and communication technologies The

ENTER conference is thought as a platform for the exchange of ideas experiences opinions and visions among scientists and practitioners The visions presented at the last three ENTER conferences have triggered many requirements of important on going and planned projects in the application of communication and information technologies in tourism The scope of the papers of this proceedings covers the most recent and relevant to pics in our area of interest The sessions are primarily devoted to intelligent agents and systems the future role of global reservation systems the new chances of data base applications due to the most recent technological developments and above all the role of the Internet and Intranet I would like to express my cordial thanks to all institutions actively supporting this event namely The Edinburgh Lothian Tourist Board The International Federation of Information Technology in Tourism IFITT Several people spent numerous hours organizing the scientific programme of EN TER The names of most of them will appear in the following pages
