censorship of protest songs and teaching foreign languages using songs Teaching German in Twentieth-century America
 David P. Benseler, Craig W. Nickisch, Cora Lee Nollendorfs, 2001 Teaching a foreign language and culture is always a challenge but it has been especially problematic to teach the German language and culture in the United States in the twentieth century The tradition of Germany's great poets and thinkers of the past has been joined by a starker legacy Through explorations of such topics as the world wars the Holocaust women in the language teaching profession Jewish contributions and technology's impact on scholarship this volume inspects the fascination and frustrating relationships of the two cultures as they interact through the teaching of German in American educational systems from small liberal arts colleges to large and famous universities This volume resulted from a conference Shaping Forces in American Germanics held in Madison Wisconsin in September 1996 Everybody's America David Witzling, 2012-09-10 Everybody's America reassesses Pynchon's literary career in order to explain the central role played by the racialization of American culture in the postmodernist deconstruction of subjectivity and literary authority and in the crisis in white liberal culture It charts the evolution of both these cultural transformations from Pynchon's early short stories composed in the late 1950s through Gravity's Rainbow published in 1973 This book demonstrates that Pynchon deploys techniques associated with the decentering of the linguistic sign and the fragmentation of narrative in order to work through the anxieties of white male subjects in their encounter with racial otherness It also charts Pynchon's attention to non white and non Euro American voices and cultural forms which imply an awareness of and interest in processes of transculturation occurring both within U S borders and between the U S and the Third World In these ways his novels attempt to acknowledge the implicit racism in many elements of white American culture and to grapple with the psychological and sociopolitical effects of that racism on both white and black Americans The argument of Everybody's America however also considers the limits of Pynchon's implicit commitment to hybridity as a social ideal identifying attitudes expressed in his work that suggest a residual attraction to the mainstream liberalism of the fifties and early sixties Pynchon's fiction dramatizes the conflict between the discourses and values of such liberalism and those of an emergent multiculturalist ethos that names and valorizes social difference and hybridity In identifying the competition between residual liberalism and an emergent multiculturalism Everybody's America makes its contribution to the broader understanding of postmodern culture Contemporary Latin American Cultural Studies Stephen Hart, Richard A. Young, 2014-02-24 Contemporary Latin American Cultural Studies is a collection of new essays by recognised experts from around the world on various aspects of the new discipline of Latin American cultural studies Essays are grouped in five distinct but interconnected sections focusing respectively on I the theory of Latin American cultural studies II the icons of culture III culture as a commodity IV culture as a site of resistance and V everyday cultural practices The essays range across a wide gamut of theories about Latin American culture some for example analyse the role that ideas about the nation and national icons have played in the formation of a sense of identity in Latin America while others focus on the resonance underlying cultural practices as diverse as football in Argentina TV in Uruguay cinema in Brazil and the bolero and soaps of modern day Mexico Contemporary Latin American Cultural Studies has an introduction setting the ideas explored in each section in their proper context The essays are written in jargon free English all Spanish terms have been translated into English and are supplemented by a concluding section with suggestions for further reading
