Practices Textual Itineraries Production:

Compiling Texts in Eighteenth-Century Britain Rebeca Araya Acosta, 2024-08-23 This book argues that the act of compiling texts together into collections in the eighteenth century is politically and epistemologically significant Focusing on the reception of Scottish Enlightenment ideas and ranging across an Edinburgh print shop an excluded religious community in the North of England and the story worlds of novelists and poets the study reveals compilation to be a politically resistant activity it challenged centralizing and homogenizing tendencies within the growing British empire in the latter half of the eighteenth century and actively built counternarratives Rebeca Araya Acosta offers a fresh view of eighteenth century literary transaction and shows how practices of compilation in the period were more diversified and had a far greater impact on readers than their modern descendants

Writing History from the Margins Claire Parfait, H  l  ne Le Dantec-Lowry, Claire Bourhis-Mariotti, 2016-09-13 With contributions from leading American and European scholars this collection of original essays surveys the actors and the modes of writing history from the margins of society focusing specifically on African Americans Nearly 100 years after The Journal of Negro History was founded this book assesses the legacy of the African American historians mostly amateur historians initially who wrote the history of their community between the 1830s and World War II Subsequently the growth of the civil rights movement further changed historical paradigms and the place of African Americans and that of black writers in publishing and in the historical profession Through slavery and segregation self educated and formally educated Blacks wrote works of history often in order to inscribe African Americans within the main historical narrative of the nation with a two fold objective to make African Americans proud of their past and to enable them to fight against white prejudice Over the past decade historians have turned to the study of these pioneers but a number of issues remain to be considered This anthology will contribute to answering several key questions concerning who published these books and how were they distributed read and received Little has been written concerning what they reveal about the construction of professional history in the nineteenth century when examined in relation to other writings by Euro Americans working in an academic setting or as independent researchers

Practices of Ephemera in Early Modern England Callan Davies, Hannah Lilley, Catherine Richardson, 2023-02-03 This collection is the first to historicise the term ephemera and its meanings for early modern England and considers its relationship to time matter and place It asks how do we conceive of ephemera in a period before it was routinely employed from the eighteenth century to describe ostensibly disposable print In the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries when objects and texts were rapidly proliferating the term began to acquire its modern association with transitoriness But contributors to this volume show how ephemera was also integrally related to wider social and cultural ecosystems Chapters explore those ecosystems and think about the papers and artefacts that shaped homes streets and cities or towns and their attendant preservation loss or transformation The studies here therefore look beyond static records to think about moments of process and transmutation and accordingly get closer to early modern experiences identities and practices Sustaining TEL: From Innovation to Learning and Practice Martin Wolpers,Paul A. Kirschner,Maren Scheffel,Stefanie Lindstaedt,Vania Dimitrova,2010-09-27 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 5th European Conference on Technology Enhanced Learning EC TEL 2010 held in Barcelona Spain in September October 2010 The 24 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 150 submissions The book also includes 10 short papers 26 poster papers 7 demonstration papers and one 1 invited paper British Literature and Print Culture Sandro Jung,2013 The essays collected here offer examinations of bibliographical matters publishing practices the illustration of texts in a variety of engraved media little studied print culture genres the critical and editorial fortunes of individual works and the significance of the complex interrelationships that authors entertained with booksellers publishers and designers They investigate how all these relationships affected the production of print commodities and how all the agents involved in the making of books contributed to the cultural literacy of readers and the formation of a canon of literary texts Specific topics include a bibliographical study of Aphra Behn s Oroonoko and its editions from its first publication to the present day the illustrations of John Bunyan s Pilgrim s Progress and the ways in which the interpretive matrices of book illustration conditioned the afterlife and reception of Bunyan s work the almanac and the subscription edition publishing history collecting reading and textual editing especially of Robert Burns s poems and James Thomson s The Seasons the printing for the author practice the illustrated and material existence of Sir Walter Scott s Waverley novels and the Victorian periodical The Athenaeum P 4 of cover Lyric Tactics Ingrid Nelson,2017-01-13 In Lyric Tactics Ingrid Nelson argues that the lyric poetry of later medieval England is a distinct genre defined not by its poetic features rhyme meter and stanza forms but by its modes of writing and performance which are ad hoc improvisatory and situational Media and Mapping Practices in the Middle East and North Africa Alena Strohmaier,Angela Krewani,2025-10-01 A few months into the popular uprisings in the Middle East and North Africa MENA region in 2009 10 the promises of social media including its ability to influence a participatory governance model grassroots civic engagement new social dynamics inclusive societies and new opportunities for businesses and entrepreneurs became more evident than ever Simultaneously cartography received new considerable interest as it merged with social media platforms In an attempt to rearticulate the relationship between media and mapping practices whilst also addressing new and social media this interdisciplinary book abides by one relatively clear point space is a media product The overall focus of this book is accordingly not so much on the role of new technologies and social networks as it is on how media and mapping practices expand the very notion of cultural engagement political activism popular protest and social participation The Cambridge Handbook of Literacy David R. Olson,Nancy Torrance,2009-02-09 This handbook marks the transformation of the topic of literacy from the narrower concerns with learning to read and write to an interdisciplinary enquiry into the various roles of writing and reading in the full range of social and psychological functions in both modern and developing societies It does so by exploring the nature and development of writing systems the relations between speech and writing the history of the social uses of writing the evolution of conventions of reading the social and developmental dimensions of acquiring literate competencies and more generally the conceptual and cognitive dimensions of literacy as a set of social practices Contributors to the volume are leading scholars drawn from such disciplines as linguistics literature history anthropology psychology the neurosciences cultural psychology and education

Networks of bishops, networks of texts Gianmarco de Angelis, Francesco Veronese, 2022-11-15 This volume is the first one in a collection connected to the PRIN project on Ruling in hard times Patterns of Power and practices of government in the making of Carolingian Italy Its focus lays on bishops and their networks of relationships in late 8th and 9th century Italy The episcopal contribution to the inclusion of the Lombard kingdom in the Carolingian social and political landscape is especially analyzed from the perspective of the cultural exchanges of ideas texts and manuscripts that bishops created or used to carry out their public and pastoral duties Each paper focuses on a specific episcopal figure or area reconstructing the scope and extent of the relationships of which they were the pivot The aim is to provide as comprehensive a picture as possible of the cultural networks that crossed Carolingian Italy and the ways in which bishops shaped and made use of them

Early Modern English Literature and the Poetics of Cartographic Anxiety Christine Barrett, 2018 This fascinating study explores how Renaissance era maps fascinated people with their beauty and precision yet they also unnerved readers and writers The volume shows how late sixteenth and seventeenth century poets channelled the anxieties provoked by maps and mapping creating a new way of thinking about how literature represents space

Mapping Tourism Stephen P. Hanna, Vincent J. Del Casino, 2003 At first glance the relationships among tourists tourism maps and the spaces of tourism seem straightforward enough tourists use maps to find their way to and through the sites of history culture nature or recreation represented there Less apparent is how tourism maps and those using them construct such spaces and identities As the essays in Mapping Tourism clearly demonstrate the extraordinary interaction of work with leisure and the everyday with the exotic makes tourism maps ideal sites for exploring the contested construction of place and identity Construction sites in the New Berlin Alabama s civil rights trail Quebec City a California ghost town and Bangkok s sex trade are among the spaces the essays examined Taken together these essays allow us to see tourist space as it truly is contested ever changing and replete with issues of power

From Lived Experience to the Written Word Pamela H. Smith, 2022-09-30 How and why early modern European artisans began to record their knowledge In From Lived Experience to the Written Word Pamela H Smith considers how and why beginning in 1400 CE European craftspeople began to write down their making practices Rather than simply passing along knowledge in the workshop these literate artisans chose to publish handbooks guides treatises tip sheets graphs and recipe books sparking early technical writing and laying the groundwork for how we think about scientific knowledge today Focusing on metalworking from 1400 1800 CE Smith looks at the nature of craft knowledge and skill studying present day and historical practices objects recipes and artisanal manuals From these sources she considers how we can reconstruct centuries of largely lost knowledge In doing so she aims not only to unearth the techniques material processes and embodied experience of the past but also to gain insight into the lifeworld of artisans and their understandings of matter Travel Writing Carl Thompson,2025-04-11 The new edition of Travel Writing is an accessible and interdisciplinary guide to this prolific and popular literary genre Carl Thompson offers a clear and concise overview of the long history of travel writing from the ancient world to the present day Considering a wide range of primary sources from Sir Walter Raleigh to Jenny Diski the extensively updated second edition introduces the genre and outlines key debates within the field such as gender sexuality postcolonial studies and visual culture explores the genre s autobiographical dimensions and different approaches for depicting the self surveys a range of canonical and more marginal works featuring new discussion of refugee and migrant narratives and LGBTQ travel writing includes a new chapter walking readers through the developments in the genre since the first edition such as online forms environmentalism and ecocriticism and travel writing as an increasingly transnational multicultural genre With a comprehensive glossary and further reading Travel Writing Second Edition is an ideal primer to the genre for students bridging the gap between distant times and distant places as well as offering literary studies scholars an essential overview of current debates in the field Advances in Discourse

Studies Vijay Bhatia,John Flowerdew,Rodney H. Jones,2008-03-10 Methods of approaching the study of discourse have developed rapidly in the last ten years influenced by a growing interdisciplinary spirit among linguistics and anthropology sociology cognitive and cultural psychology and cultural studies as well as among established sub fields within linguistics itself Among the more recent developments are an increasing critical turn in discourse analysis a growing interest in historical ethnographic and corpus based approaches to discourse more concern with the social contexts in which discourse occurs the social actions that it is used to take and the identities that are constructed through it as well as a revaluation of what counts as discourse to include multi modal texts and interaction Advances in Discourse Studies brings together contributions from leading scholars in the field investigating the historical and theoretical relationships between new advances in discourse studies and pointing towards new directions for the future of the discipline Featuring discussion questions classroom projects and recommended readings at the end of each section as well as case studies illustrating each approach discussed this is an invaluable resource for students of interdisciplinary discourse analysis Health and Risk

Communication Rodney Jones, 2013-07-03 Health and Risk Communication provides a critical and comprehensive overview of the core issues surrounding health and risk communication from the perspective of applied linguistics. It outlines the ways applied linguistics differs from other methods of understanding health and risk communication, assesses the benefits and limitations of the approaches used by different scholars in the field, and offers an innovative framework for consolidating past research and charting new directions. Utilizing data from clinical interactions and everyday life, this book addresses a number of crucial questions including: How are the everyday actions we take around health constructed and constrained through discourse? What is the role of texts in influencing health behaviour, and how are these texts put together and interpreted by readers? How are actions and identities around health and risk negotiated in situated social interactions, and what are the factors that influence these negotiations? How will new technologies like genetic screening influence the way we communicate about health? How does communication about health and risk help create communities and institutions, and reflect and reproduce broader ideologies and patterns of power and inequality within societies? Health and Risk Communication: An Applied Linguistic Perspective is essential reading for advanced students and researchers studying and working in this area.

Exploring the Spatiality of the City across Cultural Texts Martin Kindermann, Rebekka Rohleder, 2020-10-19 Exploring the Spatiality of the City across Cultural Texts: Narrating Spaces. Reading Urbanity explores the narrative formations of urbanity from an interdisciplinary perspective. Within the framework of the spatial turn, contributors from disciplines ranging from geography and history to literary and media studies theorize narrative constructions of the city and cities and analyze relevant examples from a variety of discourses, media, and cities. Subdivided into six sections, the book explores the interactions of city and text as well as other media and the conflicting narratives that arise in these interactions. Offering case studies that discuss specific aspects of the narrative construction of Berlin and London, the text also considers narratives of urban discontinuity and their theoretical implications. Ultimately, this volume captures the narratological, artistic, material, social, and performative possibilities inherent in spatial representations of the city.

Entangled Itineraries Pamela H. Smith, 2019-05-22 Trade flowed across Eurasia around the Indian Ocean and over the Mediterranean for millennia, but in the early modern period, larger parts of the globe became connected through these established trade routes. Knowledge embodied in various people, materials, texts, objects, and practices also moved and came together along these routes in hubs of exchange where different social and cultural groups intersected and interacted. Entangled Itineraries traces this movement of knowledge across the Eurasian continent from the early years of the Common Era to the nineteenth century, following local goods, techniques, tools, and writings as they traveled and transformed into new material and intellectual objects and ways of knowing. Focusing on nonlinear trajectories of knowledge in motion, this volume follows itineraries that weaved in and out of busy, crowded cosmopolitan cities in China, in the trade hubs of Kucha and Malacca, and in centers of Arabic scholarship such as Rey and Baghdad, which resonated in Bursa, Assam, and even as far as southern France Contributors explore the many ways in which materials practices and knowledge systems were transformed and codified as they converged swelled at times disappeared and often reemerged anew Critical Perspectives on Colonialism Fiona Paisley, Kirsty Reid, 2013-11-20 This collection brings much needed focus to the vibrancy and vitality of minority and marginal writing about empire and to their implications as expressions of embodied contact between imperial power and those negotiating its consequences from below The chapters explore how less powerful and less privileged actors in metropolitan and colonial societies within the British Empire have made use of the written word and of the power of speech public performance and street politics This book breaks new ground by combining work about marginalized figures from within Britain as well as counterparts in the colonies ranging from published sources such as indigenous newspapers to ordinary and everyday writings including diaries letters petitions ballads suicide notes and more Each chapter engages with the methodological implications of working with everyday scribbles and asks what these alternate modernities and histories mean for the larger critique of the imperial archive that has shaped much of the most interesting writing on empire in the past decade
