

Instructions on how to use Adobe Reader for to Fill out the Academic Analysis & Life/Work Experiences Form

Download Adobe Acrobat Reader

ALWAYS use Adobe Reader rather than Preview when filling out your form. The fields will appear to work in Preview, but data will be lost when you send it! Mac users may choose to set Adobe Reader as their default PDF viewer.

Before opening any form, be sure that you have the most recent copy of Acrobat Reader installed on your computer. Older versions may not allow all aspects of the form to work. To update your Adobe Reader go to the following link and download <http://get.adobe.com/reader/>

1. Save/Download the Form

Blank feedback forms are available via e-mail

Mac Users: DO NOT view or open the forms directly from a mail attachment; instead save (or download) the form into your desired location (e.g. your desktop), and then open it from within Adobe Reader. Step 2.

PC Users: Click on download button, then choose save (rather than open) and specify a desired location to save it. Then navigate to location you saved forms in and open forms directly, and skip to step 3.

2. Opening the Form

You can open the form from the location you saved it in step 1, but be sure it is open in Adobe Reader and NOT Adobe Preview. If you're unsure if Adobe Reader is your default program you can open your Applications folder and select Adobe Reader 9 from the list (or do a search for it). Once found, it is helpful to drag Adobe Reader from applications folder to your dock for future easy access.

Once this application is open click on the File menu, choose the "Open" tab.

Navigate to the location where you saved the form in Step 1 (e.g. desktop). Using this method, the form will open using Adobe Reader.

3. Fill Out and Save the Completed Form
