Representing and (De)Constructing Borderlands Weronika Łaszkiewicz, Grzegorz Moroz, Jacek Partyka, 2016-02-08 This volume stems from the assumption that broadly understood borderlands as well as peripheries provinces or uttermost ends of different kinds are abodes of significant culture generating forces From the academic point of view their undeniable appeal lies in the fact that they constitute spaces of mutual interactions and enable new cultural phenomena to surface grow or decline and as such are worth thorough and constant scrutiny However they also provide the setting for radical clashes between ideologies languages religions customs and as the media report every single day armies or guerrilla units Living within such areas of creative dynamics and destructive friction or visiting them even vicariously as the contributors to the volume do is tantamount to exposing oneself to a difference One's response to this difference either in the form of rejection or more preferably acceptance or a mixture of both is not merely an index of one's tolerance a platitudinised term itself that all too often hides an attitude of comfortable indifference but an affirmation of humaneness Borderlands are paradoxical if not aporetic loci They simultaneously connote territories on either side of a border in a literal sense and a vague intermediate state or region in a metaphorical sense Encapsulating the idea of border the term indicates both inescapable nearness and unavoidable or perhaps unbridgeable separateness The studies included in the volume focus on various aspects of borderland art and literature on analyses of selected works and on the peculiarities of cultural and literary representations Thus the borderland landscape both literal and metaphorical comes to be seen as a factor contributing to the emergence of new distinct and identifiable themes and motifs as well as theoretical frameworks
