1949 Geneva Conventions Commentaries International:

Commentary on the Third Geneva Convention ,2021-09-09 The application and interpretation of the four Geneva Conventions of 1949 and their two Additional Protocols of 1977 have developed significantly in the seventy years since the International Committee of the Red Cross ICRC first published its Commentaries on these important humanitarian treaties To promote a better understanding of and respect for this body of law the ICRC commissioned a comprehensive update of its original Commentaries of which this is the third volume The Third Convention relative to the treatment of prisoners of war and their protections takes into account developments in the law and practice in the past seven decades to provide up to date interpretations of the Convention The new Commentary has been reviewed by humanitarian law practitioners and academics from around the world This new Commentary will be an essential tool for anyone involved with international humanitarian law

Commentary on the Second Geneva Convention ,2017-12-21 The application and interpretation of the four Geneva Conventions of 1949 have developed significantly in the sixty years since the International Committee of the Red Cross ICRC first published its Commentaries on these important humanitarian treaties To promote a better understanding of and respect for this body of law the ICRC commissioned a comprehensive update of its original Commentaries of which this is the second volume Its preparation was coordinated by Jean Marie Henckaerts ICRC legal adviser and head of the project to update the Commentaries The Second Convention is a key text of international humanitarian law It contains the essential rules on the protection of the wounded sick and shipwrecked at sea those assigned to their care and the vessels used for their treatment and evacuation This article by article Commentary takes into account developments in the law and practice to provide up to date interpretations of the Convention The new Commentary has been reviewed by humanitarian law practitioners and academics from around the world including naval experts It is an essential tool for anyone working or studying within this field

The 1949 Geneva Conventions Andrew Clapham,Paola Gaeta,Marco Sassòli,Iris van der Heijden,2015 The four Geneva Conventions created in 1949 remain the fundamental basis of contemporary international humanitarian law They protect the wounded on the battlefield those wounded or shipwrecked at sea the treatment of prisoners of war and civilians in a war zone However since they were adopted warfare has changed considerably In this groundbreaking commentary over sixty experts from multiple disciplines within international law investigate how the Geneva Conventions are applied today It places the Conventions in the light of the developing obligations imposed by international law on states and individuals most notably through international human rights law and international criminal law The context in which the Conventions are applied and interpreted has changed considerably since they were first written The borderline between international and non international armed conflicts is not as clear cut as was once thought and is complicated further by the use of armed force mandated by the United Nations and the complex nature of certain internal armed conflicts The influence of other developing branches of international law such as human rights law and refugee law has been considerable The development of international criminal law has breathed new life into multiple provisions of the Geneva Conventions This commentary adopts a thematic approach to provide detailed analysis of each key article taking into account both judicial decisions and state practice Cross cutting chapters on issues such as transnational conflicts and the geographical scope of the Conventions also give readers a full understanding of the impact of the Geneva Conventions in their contemporary context This commentary on four of the most important treaties in international law is unmissable for anyone working in or studying situations of armed conflicts

Commentary on the Third Geneva Convention, 2021-09 The Third Geneva Convention remains the most comprehensive instrument for the protection of prisoners of war in international law today Its purpose is to ensure that all such prisoners are treated humanely and held in decent conditions regardless of which side they belong to The ICRC produced its original Commentary on the Third Convention in 1960 Seventy years later there is a need to look at the provisions of this fundamental treaty through the prism of new developments in law and practice As with all international law the Convention is a living instrument and it must be interpreted and applied in light of contemporary circumstances In view of the decreasing respect for the basic human values enshrined in international law the updated Commentary on the Third Geneva Convention is timely It crucially clarifies the status of prisoners of war and the treatment due to them so that what these rules mean today is understood by all The Convention aims to protect the physical and mental integrity of prisoners of war and to ensure that the detaining authorities provide for their physical and psychological needs Under its provisions murder torture and any other form of inhumane or degrading treatment are prohibited Prisoners of war must have access to food health care and hygiene facilities and it is mandatory to identify detained persons and to enable them to maintain contacts with the outside world so that they do not go missing

Commentary on the Additional Protocols Claude Pilloud, Yves Sandoz, Christophe Swinarski, Bruno Zimmermann, 1987-05-07 Annex I is commented by Philippe Eberlin

Commentary on the First Geneva Convention International Committee of the Red Cross, 2016-12-15 The application and interpretation of the four Geneva Conventions of 1949 and their two Additional Protocols of 1977 have developed significantly in the sixty years since the International Committee of the Red Cross ICRC first published its Commentaries on these important humanitarian treaties To promote a better understanding of and respect for this body of law the ICRC commissioned a comprehensive update of its original Commentaries Its preparation was coordinated by Jean Marie Henckaerts ICRC legal adviser and head of the project to update the Commentaries The First Convention is a foundational text of international humanitarian law It contains the essential rules on the protection of the wounded and sick those assigned to their care and the red cross and red crescent emblems This article by article Commentary takes into account developments in the law and practice to provide up to date interpretations of the Convention The new Commentary has been reviewed by humanitarian law practitioners and academics from around the world It is an essential tool for anyone working or studying within this field

Devaney,2021 A unique overview of the relationship between international law and global security Major areas of coverage include armed conflict human rights the environment and technology Book jacket International Criminal Law: Cases and Commentary Antonio Cassese,2011-02-24 The decisions presented in the book are helpfully accompanied by short introductions setting out the circumstances of each case and brief commentaries on the importance of the decision and principles illustrated Book Jacket A Humanitarian Critique of International Humanitarian Law Kailash Jeenger,2025-08-28 This book offers a critical assessment of international humanitarian law by employing mainly the Third World Approaches to International Law TWAIL which encompass the critical Marxist gender critical race and post colonial theories The book contains a materialist account of the historical development of the law in order to investigate its problematic foundations and reveal how the imperialist and capitalist tendencies shaped the content of this law It discusses the history of exclusion of the Third World from the negotiations and application of the law It underscores how the law helped the colonizers maintain their domination The book also engages deeply with the negotiating history of the 1949 Geneva Conventions and the 1977 Protocols in order to understand the perspectives of the Third World and the dominating nations It further examines critically the rules and principles of international humanitarian law in order to inquire into their real character and see to what extent they fulfil the humanitarian goals especially when this body of law is glorified and marketed in the name of International Humanitarian Law The critical analysis of the rules and principles highlights the gaps in the protection of victims of armed conflict and exposes their vague and unworkable language that often facilitates and legitimates violence The book thus questions and challenges the humanitarian face of international humanitarian law As the book offers a critical perspective it is going to be an unavoidable reference material on the subject especially for students pursuing masters doctoral and post doctoral programs The multi disciplinary nature of the subject renders the book useful in a variety of courses in social sciences and humanities at different levels The utility of the book is not confined to the academic world only and it is beneficial for international bodies humanitarian actors army officials diplomats think tanks non governmental organizations human rights activists and research organizations Commentary on the Law of the International Criminal Court Mark Klamburg,2017-04-29 Research Handbook on Human Rights and Humanitarian Law Robert Kolb,Gloria Gaggioli,2013-01-01 This volume by Robert Kolb and Gloria Gaggioli contributed by some of the most renowned experts in the field devotes an impressive amount of legal analysis to the most diverse aspects of the interplay between international humanitarian law and international human rights law in situations of violence in theory and practice It is bound to become an indispensable tool for scholars and practitioners alike Marco Pedrazzi University of Milan Italy This fascinating Handbook explores the interplay between international human rights law and international humanitarian law offering expert analysis on the increasingly complex issues surrounding their application in conflict areas across the world Contributors to this volume provide a comprehensive treatment of the ongoing relationship between human rights law and humanitarian law from the historical background and origins of the two bodies of law to their various applications today Divided into four parts Historical Background Common Issues The Need for a Combined Approach and Monitoring Mechanisms the Handbook presents a rich and varied spectrum of original research and thought from some of the brightest minds in the field This groundbreaking volume will surely have great appeal for anyone with a professional or academic interest in human rights law and humanitarian law from students to professors to practitioners in the field The Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949 Oscar M. Uhler, International Committee of the Red Cross, 1958 The Torture Debate in America Karen J. Greenberg, 2005-11-21 As a result of the work assembling the documents memoranda and reports that constitute the material in The Torture Papers the question of the rationale behind the Bush administration's decision to condone the use of coercive interrogation techniques in the interrogation of detainees suspected of terrorist connections was raised The condoned use of torture in any society is questionable but its use by the United States a liberal democracy that champions human rights and is a party to international conventions forbidding torture has sparked an intense debate within America The Torture Debate in America captures these arguments with essays from individuals in different disciplines This volume is divided into two sections with essays covering all sides of the argument from those who embrace absolute prohibition of torture to those who see it as a viable option in the war on terror and with documents complementing the essays
