Body Self And Society Body Self And Society:

Body, Self, and Society Anne E. Becker, 2013-11-25 Anne E Becker examines the cultural context of the embodied self through her ethnography of bodily aesthetics food exchange care and social relationships in Fiji She contrasts the cultivation of the body self in Fijian and American society arguing that the motivation of Americans to work on their bodies shapes as a personal endeavor is permitted by their notion that the self is individuated and autonomous On the other hand because Fijians concern themselves with the cultivation of social relationships largely expressed through nurturing and food exchange there is a vested interest in cultivating others bodies rather than one s own The Body Social Anthony Synnott, 1993 In this captivating book Anthony Synnott explores a subject which has been woefully ignored our bodies He surveys the history for thinking about the body and the senses then focuses on specific themes gender beauty the face hair touch smell and sight He concludes with a review of classical and contemporary theories of the body and the senses Thinking about the body will never be the same after reading this book The New Blackwell Companion to Social Theory Bryan S. Turner, 2016-09-26 A comprehensive new collection covering the principal traditions and critical contemporary issues of social theory Builds on the success of The Blackwell Companion to Social Theory second edition with substantial revisions entirely new contributions and a fresh editorial direction Explores contemporary areas such as actor network theory social constructionism human rights and cosmopolitanism Includes chapters on demography science and technology studies and genetics and social theory Emphasizes key areas of sociology which have had an important impact in shaping the discipline Contemporary Social Theory Anthony Elliott, 2009-01-13 This book is Humanity & Society ,1994-11 as a whole arguably the definitive undergraduate textbook on contemporary social theory Written by one of the world's most acclaimed social theorists Anthony Elliott provides a dazzlingly accessible and comprehensive introduction to modern social theory from the Frankfurt School to globalization theories and beyond In distilling the essentials of social theory Elliott reviews the works of major theorists including Theodor Adorno Herbert Marcuse Michel Foucault Jacques Lacan Jacques Derrida Anthony Giddens Pierre Bourdieu Julia Kristeva Jurgen Habermas Judith Butler Slavoj Zizek Manuel Castells Ulrich Beck Zygmunt Bauman Giorgio Agamben and Manuel De Landa Every social theorist discussed is contextualized in a wider political and historical context and from which their major contributions to social theory are critically assessed This book is essential reading for students and professionals in the fields of social theory sociology and cultural studies as it is both an original enquiry and a consummate introduction to social theory Embodying Punishment Anastasia Chamberlen, 2018-10-05 Embodying Punishment offers a theoretical and empirical exploration of women s lived experiences of imprisonment in England It puts forward a feminist critique of the prison arguing that prisoner bodies are central to our understanding of modern punishment and particularly of women's survival and resistance during and after prison Drawing on a feminist phenomenological framework informed by a serious engagement with scholars such as Maurice Merleau Ponty Simone de

Beauvoir Erwin Goffman Michel Foucault Sandra Lee Bartky and Tori Moi Embodying Punishment revisits and expands the literature on the pains of imprisonment and offers an interdisciplinary examination of the embodiment and identities of prisoners and former prisoners pressing the need for a body aware approach to criminology and penology The book develops this argument through a qualitative study with prisoners and former prisoners discussing themes such as the perception of the prison through time space smells and sounds the change of prisoner bodies the presentation of self in and after prison including the centrality of appearance and prison dress in the management of prisoner and ex prisoner identities and a range of coping strategies adopted during and after imprisonment including prison food drug misuse and a case study on women s self injuring practices Embodying Punishment brings to the fore and critically analyses longstanding and urgent problems surrounding women s multifaceted oppression through imprisonment including matters of discriminatory and gendered treatment as well as issues around penal harm and argues for an experientially grounded critique of punishment

This book covers topics such as ethics and law patient safety and policymaking and is a useful resource for government officials policymakers healthcare professionals academicians scientists and researchers The Social Construction of Sexuality and Perversion A. Beckmann, 2009-09-29 This book deconstructs the pathologizing category of sadomasochism in order to account for the lived realities of consensual SM play emphasizing the connection between the corporeal and the political in contemporary consumer cultures It discusses the homogenization of desire and ownership and use of body and sexual ethics and the Social Sciences Nathan Mitchell, 1999 Is ritual a forgotten way of doing things That is the question posed famously by Romano Guardini in a letter written in 1964 to liturgists meeting in the German city of Mainz Guardini believed that the future of liturgical renewal lay not in improved texts nor in the recovery of some mythic golden age nor in the rearrangement of furniture but in relearning ritual behavior Christian ritual Guardini believed is not the contemplative act of an individual but the public deed of an assembly a community gathered in faith and prayer in obedience to Jesus command Can people and presiders today relearn this communal way of doing Can they learn to read ritual acts simply by doing them by performing them without being self conscious theatrical and fussy Over the past thirty five years Christian liturgists have sought to reinterpret ritual s multiple meanings by transplanting insights from the social sciences sociology anthropology Have the transplants worked This book tries to answer that question Advertising Tower William O. Gardner, 2020-05-11 On a

December morning in 1925 a newspaper journalist reported receiving 25 different handbills in an hour s walk in downtown Tokyo advertising everything from Western style clothing and furniture to sweet shops charity organizations phonograph recordings plays and films The activities of advertisers and the new entertainment culture and patterns of consumption that they promoted helped to define a new urban aesthetic emerging in the 1920s This book examines some of the responses of Japanese authors to the transformation of Tokyo in the early decades of the twentieth century In particular it explores the themes and formal strategies of the modernist literature that flourished in the 1920s focusing on the work of Hagiwara Kyojiro 1899 1938 and Hayashi Fumiko 1903 1951 William Gardner shows how modernist works offer new constructions of individual subjectivity amid the social and technological changes that provided the ground for the appearance of mass media Hagiwara's conception of the poem and poet as an electric radio advertising tower provides an emblem for the aesthetic tensions and multiple discourses of technology media urbanism commerce and propaganda that were circulating through the urban environment at the time while Hayashi's work with its references to popular songs plays and movies suggests an understanding of everyday life as the interface between individual subjectivity and a highly mediated environment

Echoes of the Tambaran Paul Roscoe, David Lipset, 2011-10-01 In the Sepik Basin of Papua New Guinea ritual culture was dominated by the Tambaran a male tutelary spirit that acted as a social and intellectual guardian or patron to those under its aegis as they made their way through life To Melanesian scholarship the cultural and psychological anthropologist Donald F Tuzin was something of a Tambaran a figure whose brilliant and fine grained ethnographic project in the Arapesh village of Ilahita was immensely influential within and beyond New Guinea anthropology Tuzin died in 2007 at the age of 61 In his memory the editors of this collection commissioned a set of original and thought provoking essays from eminent and accomplished anthropologists who knew and were influenced by his work They are echoes of the Tambaran The anthology begins with a biographical sketch of Tuzin's life and scholarship It is divided into four sections each of which focuses loosely around one of his preoccupations The first concerns warfare history the male cult and changing masculinity all in Melanesia The second addresses the relationship between actor and structure Here the ethnographic focus momentarily shifts to the Caribbean before turning back to Papua new Guinea in essays that examine uncanny phenomena narratives about childhood and messianic promises The third part goes on to offer comparative and psychoanalytic perspectives on the subject in Fiji Bali the Amazon as well as Melanesia Appropriately the last section concludes with essays on Tuzin's fieldwork style and his distinctive authorial voice Interpreting Emotions in Russia and Eastern Europe Mark D. Steinberg, Valeria Sobol, 2011-06-01 Bringing together important new work by an international and interdisciplinary group of leading scholars Interpreting Emotions in Russia and Eastern Europe approaches emotions as a phenomenon complexly intertwined with society culture politics and history The stories in this book involve sensitive aristocrats committed revolutionaries aggressive nationalists political leaders female victims of sexual violence perpetrators and victims of Stalinist terror citizens in the former Yugoslavia in the wake of war workers in post socialist Romania Balkan Romani Gypsy musicians and veterans of the Afghan and Chechen wars These essays explore emotional perception and expression not only as private inward feeling but also as a way of interpreting and judging a troubled world acting in it and perhaps changing it Essential reading for those interested in new perspectives on the study of Russia and Eastern Europe past and present this volume will appeal to scholars across the social sciences and humanities who are seeking new and deeper approaches to understanding human experience thought and feeling Dancing Mind, Minding Dance Doug Risner, Jennifer McNamara, 2023-06-05 Dancing Mind Minding Dance encompasses a collection of pivotal texts published by scholar and researcher Doug Risner whose work over the past three decades has emphasized the significance of social relevance and personal resonance in dance education Drawing upon Risner's breakthrough research and visionary scholarship the book contextualizes critical issues of dance making in the rehearsal process dance curriculum and pedagogy in 21st century postsecondary dance education the role of dance teaching artists in schools and community environments and dance gender and sexual identity especially the feminization of dance and the marginalization of males who dance This book concludes with Risner's prophetic vision for employing reflective practice in order to address social justice and inclusion and humanizing pedagogies in dance and dance education throughout all sectors of dance training and preparation Beginning with his first book Stigma and Perseverance in the Lives of Boys Who Dance 2009 Risner has distinguished himself as the leading education researcher scholar and practitioner to improve young dancers education and training and in humanistic ways The book will appeal to dance educators and teachers dance education scholars and researchers choreographers parents and care givers of dance students and those who work as teaching artists arts administrators private sector dance studio directors and teachers as well as arts education researchers and scholars broadly The chapters in this book except for a few were originally published in various Taylor Francis journals Life in a Japanese Women's College Brian J. McVeigh, 2013-09-13 One third of the Japanese female workforce are office ladies and their training takes place in the many women s junior colleges Office ladies are low wage low status secretaries who have little or no job security Brian J McVeigh draws on his experience as a teacher at one such institution to explore the cultural and social processes used to promote femininity in Japanese women His detailed and ethnographically informed study considers how the students of these institutions are socialized to fit their future dual roles of employees and mothers and illuminates the sociopolitical role that the colleges play in Japanese society as a whole The Body in Asia Bryan S. Turner, Yangwen Zheng, 2009 The past few decades have seen growing interest in the study of the body However the increasing number of exciting and influential publications has primarily if not exclusively focused on the body in Western cultures The various works produced by Asian scholars remain largely unknown to Western academic debates even though Asia is home to a host of rich body cultures and religions The peoples of Asia have experienced colonization decolonization and now globalization all of which make the body in Asia a rewarding field of research This unique volume brings together a number of scholars who work on East Southeast and South Asia and presents original and cutting edge research on the body in various Asian cultures Introduction to Contemporary Social Theory Anthony Elliott, Charles Lemert, 2022-04-24 In this comprehensive and clear introduction to contemporary social theory Anthony Elliott and Charles Lemert explore the major theoretical traditions from the Frankfurt School to the digital revolution and beyond Fully revised and updated this second edition has been expanded to consider the most recent developments in social theory including a new chapter on the digital revolution and the increasingly significant impact of technological developments such as artificial intelligence machine learning and robotics on society culture and politics Introduction to Contemporary Social Theory provides the reader with a superb overview of key developments in social theory including the Frankfurt School American pragmatism structuralism post structuralism feminism globalization and world systems theory In doing so the textbook explores the ideas of a wide range of social theorists including Theodor Adorno Herbert Marcuse Talcott Parsons Erving Goffman Harold Garfinkel Michel Foucault Jacques Lacan Jacques Derrida C Wright Mills Anthony Giddens Pierre Bourdieu Julia Kristeva J rgen Habermas Judith Butler Slavoj i ek Manuel Castells Cornel West Immanuel Wallerstein and Zygmunt Bauman This textbook provides stylish exposition with powerful social critique and original insights It will be indispensable to students and academics alike
