Acting Learning And Change Creating Original Plays With Adolescents:

Acting, Learning and Change Jan Mandell, Jennifer Lynn Wolf, 2003 When adolescents create and act in their own plays something more than a production and performance results As Jan Mandell and Jennifer Wolf attest the power of the arts in learning can lead to a real passion for justice and the courage to question For teachers it can mean new ways of thinking about the gifts and talents of their students as learners and explicators of their own skills and knowledge This book documents what happened when Wolf traveled to Minnesota to observe and participate in Mandell s drama classes Quickly both began to dive into research to question more intensely what occurs in the classroom document the social nature of student learning and study teacher change and conditions of professional development Their focus is on how the accumulation and adaptation of knowledge takes place as students and teachers act together in their learning Mandell and Wolf offer a highly practical model of teacher research as well as a detailed method of performing arts education They include in every chapter academic essays classroom activities theatre exercises and interviews with students They supply more support in the appendixes an annotated bibliography sample lesson plans coaching statements research guidelines and more

Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts, Volume II James Flood, Shirley Brice Heath, Diane Lapp, 2015-04-22 The Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts Volume II brings together state of the art research and practice on the evolving view of literacy as encompassing not only reading writing speaking and listening but also the multiple ways through which learners gain access to knowledge and skills It forefronts as central to literacy education the visual communicative and performative arts and the extent to which all of the technologies that have vastly expanded the meanings and uses of literacy originate and evolve through the skills and interests of the young A project of the International Reading Association published and distributed by Routledge Taylor Francis Visit <http://www.reading.org> for more information about International Reading Association books membership and other services

Applied Theatre and Intercultural Dialogue Elliot Leffler, 2022-11-18 This book examines applied theatre projects that bring together diverse groups and foster intercultural dialogue Based on five case studies and informed by play theory it argues that the playful elements of theatre processes nurture a unique intimacy among diverse people However this playful quality can also dampen explicit conversations about participants cultural differences and defer an interrogation of people s own entrenchment in systemic power imbalances As a result addressing these differences and imbalances in applied theatre contexts may require particular strategies

Identity-Focused ELA Teaching Richard Beach, Anthony Johnston, Amanda Haertling Thein, 2015-03-05 Countering the increased standardization of English language arts instruction requires recognizing and fostering students unique identity construction across different social and cultural contexts Drawing on current sociocultural theories of identity construction this book posits that students construct multiple identities through use of five identity practices adopting alternative perspectives exploring connections across people and texts negotiating identities across social worlds developing agency through critical analysis and reflecting on long term identity trajectories Identity Focused ELA Teaching features classroom activities teachers can use to put these practices into action in ways that re center implementing the Common Core State Standards case study profiles of students and classrooms from urban suburban and rural schools adopting these practices and descriptions of how teachers both support students with this instructional approach and share their own identity construction experiences with their students It demonstrates how as students acquire identity focused practices through engagements with literature writing drama and digital texts they gain awareness of the ways exposure to different narratives beliefs and perspectives serves to mediate their own and others identities leading to different ways of being and becoming over time

Contemporary Adolescent Literature and Culture Maria Nikolajeva, Mary Hilton, 2016-05-13 Offering a wide range of critical perspectives this volume explores the moral ideological and literary landscapes in fiction and other cultural productions aimed at young adults Topics examined are adolescence and the natural world nationhood and identity the mapping of sexual awakening onto postcolonial awareness hybridity and trans racial romance transgressive sexuality the sexually abused adolescent body music as a code for identity formation representations of adolescent emotion and what neuroscience research tells us about young adult readers writers and young artists Throughout the volume explores the ways writers configure their adolescent protagonists as awkward alienated rebellious and unhappy so that the figure of the young adult becomes a symbol of wider political and societal concerns Examining in depth significant contemporary novels including those by Julia Alvarez Stephenie Meyer Tamora Pierce Malorie Blackman and Meg Rosoff among others Contemporary Adolescent Literature and Culture illuminates the ways in which the cultural constructions adolescent and young adult fiction share some of society s most painful anxieties and contradictions
