Thriller in Contemporary American Cinema examines how political thriller films deconstruct and reflect the sociopolitical realities of the second half of the twentieth century as well as the first two decades of the twenty first century The book highlights the convergence between the cinematic narrative its underlying political discourse and the audience's perception of it Through a critical lens it analyzes how contemporary films utilize characterization narrative and suspense to examine topics of governance malfeasance and power dynamics By referring to films such as The Manchurian Candidate Zero Dark Thirty and Snowden this book traces the evolution of the political thriller questioning how its narratives mirror issues such as covert operations the erosion of democracy and governmental surveillance In turn the conspiratorial and underlying paranoid nature of these films serves as a reflection of societal anxieties and a metaphorization of the levers of power in America's modern day democracy. Consequently, this book serves as a contribution to the growing body of research on political cinema and the way it simultaneously reflects and shapes political life through its role as a sociocultural phenomenon. The 1950s Decade in Photos Jim Corrigan, 2010-01-01. Describes the important world, national, and cultural developments of the decade 1950-1959.

After the End of History Samuel Cohen, 2009-10-01. In this bold book, Samuel Cohen asserts the literary and historical importance of the period between the fall of the Berlin wall and that of the Twin Towers in New York. With refreshing clarity he examines six 1990s novels and two post 9/11 novels that explore the impact of the end of the Cold War: Pynchon's Mason Dixon, Roth's American Pastoral, Morrison's Paradise, O'Brien's In the Lake of the Woods, Didion's The Last Thing He Wanted, Eugenides's Middlesex, Lethem's Fortress of Solitude, and DeLillo's Underworld. Cohen emphasizes how these works reconnect the past to a present that is ironically keen on denying that connection. Exploring the ways ideas about paradise and pastoral difference and exclusion, innocence and righteousness, triumph and trauma deform the stories Americans tell themselves about their nation's past, After the End of History challenges us to reconsider these works in a new light, offering fresh insightful readings of what are destined to be classic works of literature. At the same time, Cohen enters into the theoretical discussion about postmodern historical understanding. Throwing his hat in the ring with force and style, he confronts not only Francis Fukuyama's triumphalist response to the fall of the Soviet Union but also the other literary and political end of history claims put forth by such theorists as Fredric Jameson and Walter Benn Michaels. In a straightforward, affecting style, After the End of History offers us a new vision for the capabilities and confines of contemporary fiction.

The Making of Modern America Gary Donaldson, 2012-10-18. The second edition of Dr. Gary A. Donaldson's highly successful textbook The Making of Modern America introduces students to the cultural, social, and political paths the United States has traveled from the end of WWII to the present day. This edition details not just the United States' rich cultural history but elegantly repositions it as integral to our understanding of any portion of this country's past. Donaldson provides a factual foundation for students and then pushes them to interpret those facts, framing the discussions essential to any complete study of American history. The Making of Modern America, Second Edition, is updated to include an expanded chapter titled America After the New Millennium, which more retrospectively and completely details the 21st century's first decade. A new chapter titled The Second Bush and Obama: From the War on Terrorism to the Audacity of Hope updates readers on the calamitous end to President George W. Bush's second term, the Obama administration's first term challenges, and the Great Recession. Newly revised readings, each profiling an historical event, speech, or figure, from Lee Harvey Oswald to Bill Gates to Condoleezza Rice, at the conclusion of each chapter.
