2014 Exemplar Life Orientation:

Narrative, Calling, and Missional Identity in 1 Peter David Shaw, 2023-11-13 A story well told and subsequently imbibed by its recipients has the power to shape one's beliefs, identity, and way of life. So what happens when a person or community is swept up in such a story? In this study, Shaw draws upon the dual methodologies of Narrative Transportation and Social Identity theories to consider how 1 Peter's use of Old Testament narratives and language serves to transport its recipients into an identity defined as elect sojourners. Amidst suffering, 1 Peter calls the Anatolian believers to a priestly ministry, blessing their antagonists as they await their eternal glory in Christ. The Partisan Next Door Ethan C. Busby, Adam J. Howat, Jacob E. Rothschild, Richard M. Shafranek, 2021-09-29 In the United States, politics has become tribal and personalized. The influence of partisan divisions has extended beyond the political realm into everyday life, affecting relationships and workplaces as well as the ballot box. To help explain this trend, we examine the stereotypes Americans have of ordinary Democrats and Republicans. Using data from surveys, experiments, and Americans' own words, we explore the content of partisan stereotypes and find that they come in three main flavors: parties as their own tribes, coalitions of other tribes, or vehicles for political issues. These different stereotypes influence partisan conflict: people who hold trait-based stereotypes tend to display the highest levels of polarization, while holding issue-based stereotypes decreases polarization. This finding suggests that reducing partisan conflict does not require downplaying partisan divisions but shifting the focus to political priorities rather than identity—a turn to what we call responsible partisanship. The Healing Power of Hip Hop Raphael Travis Jr., 2015-12-14 Using the latest research, real-world examples, and a new theory of healthy development, this book explains Hip Hop culture's ongoing role in helping Black youths to live long, healthy, and productive lives. In The Healing Power of Hip Hop, Raphael Travis Jr. offers a passionate look into existing tensions aligned with Hip Hop and demonstrates the beneficial quality it can have, empowering its audience. His unique perspective takes Hip Hop out of the negative light and shows readers how Hip Hop has benefited the Black community. Organized to first examine the social and historical framing of Hip Hop culture and Black experiences in the United States, the remainder of the book is dedicated to elaborating on consistent themes of excellence and well-being in Hip Hop and examining evidence of new ambassadors of Hip Hop culture across professional disciplines. The author uses research-informed language and structures to help the reader fully understand how Hip Hop creates more pathways to health and learning for youth and communities. on safety as a positive experience complements the traditional approach to safety as risks and threats. In addition, its multi-stakeholder, multi-disciplinary, international, and evidence-based approach provides holistic and timely insights for the field. Topics raised in this book focus on the crucial questions of Who is safety actually for and How can sustainable safety solutions be jointly created. This book provides comprehensive insights into the latest research findings, practical applications, and suggestions for dealing with challenges in international security management in integrated and sustainable ways, making it relevant reading for practitioners as well as academics and students with a view to obtaining thorough first-hand knowledge from serving experts in the field. We explore new ways of working with citizens, police, and policymakers in order to co-create safety. This book emphasises the importance of safety as a topic that matters for all. Safety and security are basic pillars for the development of our society. However, the number of areas, actors, and procedures involved in the management of the different elements composing the international security ecosystem, its coordination, and alignment make it a challenging issue to resolve. This book provides a fresh, new approach to this complex issue in which we all have a role to play.

Dr. Christian Endre, Managing Director, ASW Bundesverband, German Association for Security in Industry and Commerce. Cop Shows Roger Sabin, Ronald Wilson, Linda Speidel, 2015-03-23. From cops who are paragons of virtue to cops who are as bad as the bad guys, from surly loners to upbeat partners, from detectives who pursue painstaking investigation to loose cannons who just want to kick down the door, the heroes and anti-heroes of TV police dramas are part of who we are. They enter our living rooms and tell us tall tales about the social contract that exists between the citizen and the police. Love them or loathe them, according to the ratings, we love them; they serve a function. They've entertained, informed, and sometimes infuriated audiences for more than 60 years. This book examines Dragnet, Highway Patrol, Naked City, The Untouchables, The F B I, Columbo, Hawaii Five O, Kojak, Starsky & Hutch, Hill Street Blues, Cagney & Lacey, Miami Vice, Law Order, Homicide, Life on the Street, NYPD Blue, CSI, The Shield, The Wire, and Justified. It's time to take another look at the perps, the vics, and the boys and girls in blue and ask how their representation intersects with questions of class, gender, sexuality, and race. What is their socio-cultural agenda? What is their relation to genre and televisuality? And why is it that when a TV cop gives a witness his card and says "call me," that witness always ends up on a slab? Time Issues in Strategy and Organization T. K. Das, 2019-10-01. The field of strategy science has grown in both the diversity of issues it addresses and the increasingly interdisciplinary approaches it adopts in understanding the nature and significance of problems that are continuously emerging in the world of human endeavor. These newer kinds of challenges and opportunities arise in all forms of organizations encompassing private and public enterprises and with strategies that experiment with breaking the traditional molds and contours The field of strategy science is also perhaps inevitably being impacted by the proliferation of hybrid organizations such as strategic alliances the upsurge of approaches that go beyond the customary emphasis on competitiveness and profit making and the intermixing of time honored categories of activities such as business industry commerce trade government the professions and so on The blurring of the boundaries between various areas and types of human activities points to a need for academic research to address the consequential developments in strategic issues Hence research and thinking about the nature of issues to be tackled by strategy science should also cultivate requisite variety in issues recognized for research inquiry including the conceptual foundations of strategy and strategy making and the examination of the critical roles of strategy makers strategic thinking time and temporalities business and other goal choices diversity in organizing modes for strategy implementation and the complexities of managing strategy to name a few This book series on Research in Strategy Science aims to provide an outlet for ideas and issues that publications in the field do not provide either expressly or adequately especially as regards the comprehensive coverage deserved by certain emerging areas of interest The topics of the volumes in the series will keep in view this objective to expand the research areas and theoretical approaches routinely found in strategy science the better to permit expanded and expansive treatments of promising issues that may not sufficiently align with the usual research coverage of publications in the field

Green Schools Globally Annette Gough, John Chi-Kin Lee, Eric Po Keung Tsang, 2020-08-31. This book brings together stories of the green schools movement: Eco Schools, Enviroschools, Green Schools, Sustainable Schools, ResourceSmart Schools, etc. in several countries around the world, with a focus on the impact of the movement on the development and implementation of education for sustainable development in each of the countries. In particular, each story will explain the history of the movement per country, its current status, achievements, obstacles, and broader impact. There have been a number of evaluations of these school movements at a national or more local level, and numerous articles and chapters have been published on aspects of these schools' activities, but to date these have not been brought together in a single volume that focuses attention on the impact of the movement on education for sustainable development in each country. This is the purpose of this volume. The green schools movement focuses on a whole-school approach which aims to include everyone: students, teachers, and the local community, to improve school environments, including resource usage and the environmental footprint of the school, to motivate students to take on environmental problems, and seek resolutions, particularly at a local level, but also thinking globally, and to improve students' attitudes and behaviours as part of developing a sustainable mind set.

Curriculum Histories in Place, in Person, in Practice Petra Hendry, Molly Quinn, Roland Mitchell, Jacqueline Bach, 2023-03-10. This book situates the Curriculum Theory Project at Louisiana State University within a larger historical framework of curriculum work, examining the practices which have sustained this type of curricular vitality over the lifetime of the field's existence. Divided into seven parts, the authors illuminate seven practices which have sustained the scholarship: graduate programs, mentorship, and networking that have been critical to maintaining a web of international relationships. This exploration and coming together of intergenerational stories reveals a more complete and nuanced narrative of the development of curriculum theory over the last 60 years. Crucially, the project exemplifies the continuing resilience of curriculum theory despite ongoing neo-liberal aspirations to reframe education as a business. Reflecting upon the lived experiences and articulated memories of those who have participated in the project and analysis of documents collected over its 25-year history, it considers curriculum history in writing large through and from this lens of practice. As such, it opens up fresh insights for cultivating the vitality and vigor of curriculum theory more broadly on an international scale and with a view to future directions for the field. It will appeal to both new and experienced scholars working across education, foundations, urban education, philosophy of education, and higher education, and researchers from across history, sociology, anthropology, ethnic studies, and gender studies. New Horizons in Positive Leadership and Change Satinder Dhiman, Joan Marques, 2020-03-11. At its most fundamental level, the uniqueness of this volume lies in its anchorage in the moral and spiritual dimension of leadership, an approach most relevant for contemporary organizations.

Policy and the Political Life of Music Education Patrick K. Schmidt, Richard Colwell, 2017. Policy and the Political Life of Music Education is the first book of its kind in the field of Music Education. It offers a far-reaching and innovative outlook, bringing together expert voices who provide a multifaceted and global set of insights into a critical arena for action today: policy. On one hand, the book helps the novice to make sense of what policy is, how it functions, and how it is discussed in various parts of the world, while on the other, it offers the experienced educator a set of critically written analyses that outline the state of the play of music education policy thinking. As policy participation remains largely underexplored in music education, the book helps to clarify to teachers how policy thinking does shape educational action and directly influences the nature, extent, and impact of our programs. The goal is to help readers understand the complexities of policy and to become better skilled in how to think, speak, and act in policy terms. The book provides new ways to understand and therefore imagine policy, approximating it to the lives of educators and highlighting its importance and impact. This is an essential read for anyone interested in change and how to better understand decision-making within music and education. Finally, this book, while aimed at the growth of music educators' knowledge base regarding policy, also fosters open thinking regarding policy as a subject helping educators straddling arts and education to recognize that policy thinking can offer creative designs for educational change. Sexuality in Marketing and Consumption Athanasia Daskalopoulou, Daniela Pirani, Jacob Ostberg, 2024-08-09.
