The Universe in the Image of Imago Dei Alexei V. Nesteruk, 2022-03-24. Cosmology, anthropology, and

Christology are deeply interrelated. This implies that one cannot talk about the structure of the world without human presence in it, as well as it is impossible to produce any reasonable understanding of humanity without positioning it in the universe. In the same fashion, in order to comprehend where the human capacity of predicating the universe comes from, one needs to appeal to humanity's Divine Image, that is, to its archetype in the incarnate Christ. Whereas Christians traditionally believe that the human phenomenon is unique as created in the Divine Image, such scientific disciplines as evolutionary biology, palaeoanthropology, the sciences of artificial intelligence, psychology, and others challenge the vision of humanity as a unique formation, thus challenging the doctrine of Imago Dei. All these disciplines place humans in a mediocre position in the world, accompanied by the feeling of anxiety, insecurity, and non-attunement to the universe. Theology needs to respond to these challenges by incorporating into its scope the data from the sciences in order to neutralize such anxieties. The resulting dialogue of theology with science provides a hermeneutics of the human condition with no objective to change the latter. Then, the sense of the universe is disclosed from within the Divine Image, reflecting the predicaments of the human created condition. Life-Study of Exodus Witness Lee, 1998-07. From Birth To One Robinson, Maria, 2003-01-01. The first year of life is the year of opportunity. It is when the foundations for our emotional and social well-being, together with our motivation and ability to learn, begin to be laid down by an ongoing interplay of physical, neurological, and psychological processes. Names of Nihil Arvydas Šliogeris, 2008. In this book, probably for the first time in Western philosophy, an attempt has been made to point out and systematically explicate the problem scope of the Nothing, which is called Nihil in the book, and to try to explain the springhead of the excessive negativity inherent only in the human being, or in other words, the springhead of the human's natural nihilism. Nihilism is treated here not as a posture, pose, or an ideological attitude, but as the spread of the human metaphysical nucleus of Nihil. Nihilistic annihilation, manifesting itself as the road of the naming of Nihil and of the production of thingly crystals, artificial world, as a result of that naming, usually is called history. Names of Nihil, language phenomena, being the antithesis of Nihil, falsify and cover up Nihil itself, turning it into supreme being, e.g. into the
