Morgan, 2007 As our aging population grows ever larger it is increasingly important to understand how adults age and what we can do to provide up to date care to ensure their well being as an integral part of society Leslie Morgan and Suzanne Kunkel understand that this phenomenon is about much more than just the physical or biological aspects of growing older and have put together a comprehensive text on the impact of society and sociology on the aging process Use this text to explore the diversity of the aging population and dispel the major stereotypes surrounding the elderly Learn about aging through all the layers of social context from family life to politics and economics And through this approach come to see how aging is more than just an individual process it is a process that effects the direction of our society as a whole For the Student Web sites of interest and key terms defined at the end of each chapter Real life stories and essays on love sex music medicine and crime For the Professor Assignment ready reading in a One Chapter a Week format Questions for discussion and review at each chapter end Applying Theory sections place the lesson of each chapter in a clear real world setting Instructor s Guide Now Available An Instructor s Manual for this textbook is available for those professors who have adopted Aging Society and the Life Course Third Edition and can verify a bookstore order of 7 or more copies Please email our Marketing Department at marketing.springerpub.com if you have adopted this text as you will need a password to download the guide Please provide the name and telephone number of the bookstore that ordered the textbooks A print version of the Instructor s Manual is also available Understanding the Older Consumer Barrie Gunter, 2012-10-12

In Understanding the Older Consumer Barrie Gunter provides a detailed examination of the demographic behavioural and psychological profiles of the older consumer. He shows that without the responsibilities of loans and child raising and with better financial provision than in previous years the over 50s represent a powerful spending force. In order to reach this group Barrie Gunter shows how to target advertising and respond to the changes that have occurred. Understanding the Older Consumer provides a wealth of information on older people's lifestyles and leisure, their interest in the mass media, their perceptions of advertising and their shopping.

Depression and Older People Godfrey, Mary, Tracy Denby, 2004. The literature on depression in old age has tended to be dominated by the medical model with its focus on symptoms and treatment. This report breaks new ground by adopting a psycho-social approach, one that explores depression in the context of the everyday lives of older people. Commissioned by Help the Aged, the report reviews the nature and scope of the evidence base around depression and older people, evaluates current policy and practice responses, and identifies gaps in the evidence base and areas for further work. Depression and older people is invaluable reading for anyone involved in the management and delivery of services to older people, as well as academics, students and researchers in the field. It will also be of interest to older people themselves.

Developing Services for Older People and Their Families Rosemary Bland, 1996. Exploring new theory and practice in the provision of services for older people living at home, this book contains three parts. Part I examines the social context of old age, looking at structural barriers such as ageism, racism and sexism, the poverty of older people relative to the rest of the population, the received wisdom that the increase in the number of older people in the population is problematic. The second part of the book focuses on practice. The authors examine the extent to which service providers work from a user-led perspective, looking at issues such as day services for people with dementia, housing and support services, GP social services collaboration, short-term breaks. Part III examines specific issues such as development of professional skills, the use of specialist teams, empowerment. This book is an excellent source of information for social workers, those working with older people, and lecturers of social work and gerontology.

Caring for Older People in the Community Angela Hudson, Lesley Moore, 2009-04-13. Caring for older people encompasses complex physical, social and psychological needs and poses many diverse challenges for nurses. Caring for Older People in the Community provides nurses with an up-to-date practical resource that explores these challenges. Throughout the book, the use of reflection points and scenarios enable the reader to reflect on current issues and consider how underpinning theory supports practice. Each chapter is evidence-based and fully referenced, with full contact details of charities. This book will appeal to health and social care practitioners working in community settings and will help nurses meet the challenge of nursing and the ageing population with empathy and understanding of diverse needs.

The Art and Science of Personalising Care with Older People with Diabetes Trisha Dunning, 2018-08-06. This unique book is intended for all health professionals caring for older people with diabetes, such as specialist and general nurses, doctors, primary care practitioners and dietiticians. Although there is an increasing body of work about personalised care no publications were identified that encompass the focus and scope of the proposed book The global population is ageing and increasing age is a key risk factor for diabetes Older people with diabetes are often vulnerable have complex care needs and often have cognitive changes which makes personalising care challenging for health professionals Thus this is an internationally relevant book filling a gap in the current literature This is a practical and updated book that will use an engaging and easy to read narrative style It challenges readers to reflect in and on their practice It encompasses people with diabetes and authors stories which are known to have a special interest to readers make it easier to apply the information to practice enhance learning and hence the relevance and value of the book It is relevant to advocacy organisations as well as managers and service planners Researchers and scientists may find relevant information on grant and ethics applications research protocols plain language statements for potential participants and operationalising research protocols

Ways Out Of Social Isolation For Older People In The Context Of New Media Britta Thege, Juliane Köchling-Farahwaran, Sonja Börm, Stephan Dettmers, 2022-01-28 The book introduces the concept of encounter CONNECTED from the practice of working with the elderly to impart media skills and presents empirical data on the social participation and quality of life of the participants The research results show the potential of the Internet for older people and open up perspectives for gender and age sensitive advanced training opportunities

Family Care of Older People in Europe Ian Philp, 2001 Developing appropriate responses to an ageing population is recognized by policy makers throughout the developed world as a top priority as is the vital contribution made by family caregivers However cultural demographic and organizational differences between countries have encouraged diverse patterns of response to this common challenge This book provides a systematic cross cultural analysis of contemporary patterns and future trends in all major countries of the European Union Additional interest is provided by including Poland emerging from the post Communist block as the country at the forefront for joining the European Union The book should be useful to European policy makers and academics involved in studying the health and social care needs of older people and the capacity contribution and needs of family caregivers who provide care to older people The book is also relevant for policy makers and researchers in other countries mostly in North America and Australia who wish to study European approaches to supporting older people and family caregivers

Social Work Practice with Older People Rory Lynch, 2013-11-13 Older people are the biggest service user group for social workers and an increasing proportion of the population In this refreshingly positive and practical textbook Rory Lynch draws on years of practice and teaching experience to show how to achieve best social work practice with older adults He takes a person centred approach which fosters respect by valuing the fact that elderly people have more lived experience than others Exploring the key theoretical approaches and methods of intervention this book helps social workers to identify understand and facilitate their service users wishes for well being and a fulfilling older age Chapters are practice driven containing case studies drawn from a range of care settings reflective questions and exercises Mapping directly onto the key modules on the social work degree this is essential reading for all student social workers especially as they prepare to go on their practice placement It is also valuable reading for qualified social workers Rory Lynch is Lecturer in Social Work at Robert Gordon University Occupational Therapy with Older People Gail Mountain,2004-08-13 This book is about older people and the contribution occupational therapy can make towards the maintenance of their health and the appropriate provision of rehabilitation and care The aim is to help occupational therapists and those involved in the commissioning of occupational therapy services for older people to target their efforts both sensitively and effectively and to anticipate the demands which will shape service provision in the future The entire work is underpinned by current evidence regarding best practice and opinions voiced by older people during several research projects undertaken by the author The first chapters examine the experience of growing older from both societal and individual perspectives the factors contributing towards vulnerability in older age and the provision of services to meet needs The second part of the book concentrates upon the occupational therapy assessment and treatment processes The final chapter considers the challenges for occupational therapy Self and Meaning in the Lives of Older People Peter G. Coleman,Christine Ivani-Chalian,Maureen Robinson,2015-04-30 A longitudinal study of how older people maintain a sense of self and meaning despite the losses associated with ageing Group and Individual Work with Older People Swee Hong Chia,Julie Healthcote,Jane Marie Hibberd,2011 Being active is fundamental to a person s sense of physical and mental wellbeing and the need to engage in purposeful and meaningful activity does not diminish with age However common effects of ageing such as reduced vision and hearing arthritis dementia and in some cases social isolation can affect an older person s ability to participate in therapeutic and recreational activities Introducing the concept of PIE Planning Implementation and Evaluation this practical resource will enable professionals working with older people to initiate and run successful activity based programmes with their clients either individually or in groups The authors guide the reader through the processes of group and individual work and provide step by step instructions for a range of activities including arts and crafts music drama movement relaxation reminiscence and day to day tasks such as taking care of personal hygiene and preparing food and drinks The book also describes the importance of assessing and evaluating activity based work with examples of completed evaluation and assessment forms Useful case studies and self reflective activities for the facilitator are included throughout This book will be an invaluable for occupational therapists creative arts therapists health and social care practitioners and all other professionals working with older people Publisher s website Addressing the Sexual Rights of Older People Catherine Barrett,Sharron Hinchliff,2017-11-02 There is growing evidence that the sexual rights of older people are not being met One reason perhaps the main reason relates to the way that old age is viewed In many cultures being old is associated with decline and disease which positions older people as dependent and powerless Furthermore an absence of positive or celebratory discourses around older people s sexuality is particularly striking The book addresses a gap in research and policy Using an adaptation of the Declaration of Sexual Rights from the World Association of Sexual Health it provides readers with an innovative and evidence based framework for achieving the sexual rights of older people Drawing on interdisciplinary research it explores the cultural and social locations of old age and its intersections with sexual orientation gender identity and intersex status Key themes include stigma silencing invisibility prejudice discrimination and a lack of information awareness and understanding Addressing the Sexual Rights of Older People Theory Policy and Practice is a text for academics health professionals social professionals service providers and policy makers It is a timely and insightful collection which suggests ways to apply the sexual rights framework raise awareness and engage communities in constructing strategies for reform
