Belgrade A Cultural History David A Norris, 2008-11-26 Perched above the confluence of two great rivers the Sava and Danube Belgrade has been home to many civilizations Celts Romans Byzantines Bulgars Magyars Ottomans and Serbs A Turkish fortress the focus for a Serbian principality an intellectual and artistic center the city grew until it became capital of Yugoslavia Now it is one of the largest cities in south eastern Europe and capital of the Republic of Serbia Despite many challenges Belgrade has resisted assimilation and created a unique cultural identity out of its many contrasting sides sometimes with surprising consequences

A Cultural History of Serbia David A. Norris, 2024-03-05 This volume focuses on Serbia's need to manage change while preserving community identities a narrative that avoids the common depiction of Serbian culture as a hostile struggle between modernizers supporting foreign models and traditionalists advocating forms of national cultural patrimony Traditions only function if they are allowed to bend to the necessary modifications demanded by a community's changing historical circumstances Tradition and change are two sides of the same coin which Serbia in its many different incarnations has experienced over the centuries protecting its national heritage while borrowing and adapting intellectual and other trends from Byzantine Ottoman and Western sources Outside influences have been imposed as a direct result of foreign rule or through more friendly channels of communication leading to a complex relationship between autochthonous and alien elements in Serbian society and culture This book argues that the division between the national and international frameworks has often been a false dichotomy with outside features embedded in domestic symbolic capital and Serbian culture simultaneously determined on local national regional and global levels David A Norris's approach offers a new perspective to students academics and general readers interested in the history of Serbia's participation in the broad networks of cultural exchange
