Established in 1965 the Journal of Belarusian Studies is the oldest English language periodical on Belarus It covers Belarusian literature linguistics history and art as well as reviews of books and internet resources The Behavioural Economics of Belarus Kiryl Rudy, 2020-10-12 This book is a unique study of a transition economy using the little known case of Belarus a country trapped in transition from state capitalism to market economy The first of its kind this book explains how decisions are made by economic authorities and businesses in this developing country It proves that in order to boost economic reforms the Belarusian government needs to rely on the support of the high income public Belarus David Marples, 2013-10-11 In any assessment and understanding of Belarus the key questions to address include why has Belarus apparently rejected independence under its first president Alyaksandr Lukashenko and sought a union with Russia Why has the government rejected democracy infringed on the human rights of its citizens and fundamentally altered its constitution in favour of presidential authority Has the country made any progress toward market reforms How have Russia and the West responded to the actions of Belarus And what is the future likely to hold for its ten million citizens The author's conclusions are optimistic Belarus he believes will survive into the twenty first century but as a Eurasian rather than a European state

Belarus in the Twenty-First Century Elena Korosteleva, Irina Petrova, Anastasiia Kudlenko, 2023-05-12 This book presents a comprehensive overview of current developments in Belarus It explores how there has been an upswelling of popular support for the idea that Belarus must change It highlights how the old regime aiming to retain the Soviet legacy reluctant to reform presiding over worsening economic conditions and refusing to take measures to cope with the COVID 19 pandemic has been confronted by increasing bottom up and horizontal social mobilisation which demands a transformation of state society relations and a new sense of Belarusian peoplehood The book outlines how the current situation has developed considers how the present demands for change are deep seated and long brewing trends and reveals much detail about many aspects of the growing societal mobilisation Overall the book demonstrates that although the old regime remains in power

Belarusian society has changed fundamentally thereby bringing great hope that change will eventually come about OECD Studies on Water Towards Water Security in Belarus A Synthesis Report OECD,2020-12-18 This report presents the results of collaboration on improving water security in Belarus between the beneficiary country the OECD and its partners implementing the EU funded European Union Water Initiative Plus project The Global Politics of Combating Nuclear Terrorism William C. Potter,Cristina Hansell,2013-09-13 The most difficult challenge for a terrorist organization seeking to build a nuclear weapon or improvised nuclear device is obtaining fissile material either plutonium or highly enriched uranium HEU Experts acknowledge that obtaining HEU uranium that has been processed to increase the proportion of the U 235 isotope to over 20% is the most difficult challenge facing a state or non state actor seeking to build a nuclear explosive The large stocks of HEU in civilian use many not adequately protected are thus one of the greatest security risks facing the global community at present This book contains chapters examining the various uses for this material and possible alternatives the threat posed by this material the economic political and strategic obstacles to international efforts to end the use of HEU for commercial and research purposes as well as new national and international measures that should be taken to further the elimination of HEU This book was published as a special issue of The Nonproliferation Review Farm Sector

Restructuring in Belarus Csaba Csáki,Zvi Lerman,Sergey Sotnikov,2000 Agriculture remains the main source of employment and livelihood for the large rural population of many transition countries especially among the former Soviet republics Accordingly the World Bank continuously monitors the progress of land reform and farm restructuring in the region because of the potential impact of these processes on rural development and poverty alleviation in rural areas The present study on Belarus is the latest addition to a long and growing series of World Bank publications on land reform and farm restructuring in the former socialist countries of Europe and Central Asia The unique features of all these publications is their reliance on first hand empirical information collected through extensive farm surveys of various rural constituencies Analysis of survey findings enables the World Bank to base its policy dialogue with governments in the region on solid empirical facts making the Bank's recommendations more credible and relevant The survey findings in this volume will provide a platform for useful policy discussions with this country's government and supply international donors that are active there with essential information to design their strategic programs Gendering Post-Soviet Space Tatiana Karabchuk,Kazuhiro Kumo,Kseniia Gatskova,Ekaterina Skoglund,2021-02-01 This volume combines approaches from three disciplines economics sociology and demography and empirically analyzes the key aspects of the labor market and social demography processes in post Soviet transitional societies while focusing on the gender perspective Here readers will find empirical studies on such countries as Armenia Azerbaijan Belarus Estonia Georgia Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Russia Tajikistan Ukraine and Uzbekistan The volume contributes to the literature by addressing the lack of academic empirical research on gender difference issues in the labor markets of post Soviet countries as well as gender inequalities in fertility preferences gender disparities among the youth and elderly the gender pay gap gender differences in employment and female voices The book brings together researchers of different disciplines from a variety of countries distinguishing this project as international and interdisciplinary The authors use the quantitative survey micro data approach as well as the qualitative methods of interview data analysis to provide a comprehensive and detailed overview of the economic and social developments in the region regarding gender differences The volume consists of three parts tackling the following topics 1 gender differences and demography family formation and fertility youth and elderly employment 2 gender differences and labor market gender wage gap motherhood wage penalty gender differences among freelancers and women in STEM science and 3 gender differences well being and gender equality attitudes women s voices women s collective actions gender equality attitudes and spending patterns of housewives SME Policy Index: Eastern Partner Countries 2020 Assessing the Implementation of the Small Business Act for Europe OECD,European Union,European Training Foundation,European Bank for Reconstruction and Development,2020-03-17 This report marks the third edition in this series following assessments in 2012 and 2016 It provides a comprehensive overview of the state of play in the implementation of the ten SBA principles and monitors progress made since 2016 It also identifies remaining challenges affecting SMEs in the Eastern Partnership EaP countries and provides recommendations to address them based on EU and international good practice examples

UNESCO Science Report UNESCO,2021-06-18 The Journal of Belarusian Studies 2015 Ostrogorski Centre,2015-12-30 The 2015 issue of the Journal of Belarusian Studies is almost entirely about history It focuses on the Belarusian Polish Lithuanian borderland and the period stretching from the uprising of 1863 to the inter war period of the 20th century when the territory of today s Belarus was split between the Soviet Union and Poland Two longer articles are followed by several essays which resulted from a conference held by the Anglo Belarusian Society and other London based organisations at University College London in March 2014 The Journal of Belarusian Studies 2018 Ostrogorski Centre,2019-03-14 In 1965 the Anglo Belarusian Society began publishing a yearbook The Journal of Byelorussian Studies Since 2013 the Journal of Belarusian Studies is published in London by the Ostrogorski Centre in cooperation with the Anglo Belarusian Society The 2018 issue of the Journal features articles on the cult of Joseph Stalin s personality in Belarus the preservation of Pentecostals faith in Soviet era Belarus the processes of Belarus s nation building and the history of Belarusian migr s in interwar Czechoslovakia The issue also features several book reviews The Journal is the oldest English language double blind peer reviewed periodical on Belarusian studies The Palgrave Handbook of Globalization with Chinese Characteristics Paulo Afonso B. Duarte,Francisco José B. S. Leandro,Enrique Martínez Galán,2023-01-07 This handbook offers readers various perspectives on globalization and multilateralism with Chinese characteristics Its originality is derived from the hybrid approaches the handbook takes where chapters provide complementary intertwined and multi level analysis on the topic Based on contributions of scholars and practitioners from a number of countries the handbook helps readers to comprehend ongoing debates on the Belt and Road Initiative and global governance within a shifting balance of world power characterized by competing views between Western and Chinese norms standards values and narratives Split into three Parts and consisting of 46 chapters the handbook views globalization as comprehensive concept that benefits from the contributions of various disciplines such as geography geo economics political science and international relations In producing one of the most ambitious and updated outputs on the topic the handbook as a whole seeks to discuss what globalization with Chinese characteristics looks like and the role of the Belt and Road Initiative in this process

The Babushka Phenomenon Anna Shadrina, 2025-10-01 The Babushka Phenomenon examines the social production of ageing in post Soviet Russia highlighting the role of grandmothers as primary caregivers due to men s traditional estrangement from family life This expectation places grandmothers or babushkas in a position where they prioritise childcare and housework over their careers making them unpaid family carers reliant on the state and their children Anna Shadrina situates older Russian women s experiences within the post Soviet redefinition of the nation analysing their portrayal in popular media and biographical narratives of women aged 60 and over in Russia and the UK It addresses class and racial disparities noting how some women outsource family duties to less qualified women and emphasises age as a significant but overlooked axis of social inequality From a feminist perspective the book explores citizenship as both a status and a practice of inclusion and exclusion By focusing on older women s rights to participate in private and public spheres it discusses the new social inequalities that emerged after the USSR s collapse Despite prioritising others interests older Russian women actively engage in economic citizenship though their struggles for recognition are often excluded from formal economy and politics

Reassessing the Role of State-Owned Enterprises in Central, Eastern and Southeastern Europe Christine J. Richmond, Ms. Dora Benedek, Bobana Cegar, Mr. Peter Dohlman, Michelle Hassine, Beata Jajko, Piotr Kopyrski, Maksym Markevych, Mr. Jacques A Miniane, Mr. Francisco J Parodi, Gabor Pula, Mr. James Roaf, Min Kyu Song, Mariya Sviderskaya, Rima Turk, Mr. Sebastian Weber, 2019-06-18 The Central Eastern and South Eastern European CESEE region is ripe for a reassessment of the role of the state in economic activity The rapid income convergence with Western Europe of the early 2000s was not always equally shared across society and it has now slowed dramatically in many countries of the region

Wormwood Forest Mary Mycio, 2005-08-29 When a titanic explosion ripped through the Number Four reactor at the Chernobyl Nuclear Plant in 1986 spewing flames and chunks of burning radioactive material into the atmosphere one of our worst nightmares came true As the news gradually seeped out of the USSR and the extent of the disaster was realized it became clear how horribly wrong things had gone Dozens died two from the explosion and many more from radiation illness during the following months while scores of additional victims came down with acute radiation sickness Hundreds of thousands were evacuated from the most contaminated areas The prognosis for Chernobyl and its environs succinctly dubbed the Zone of Alienation was grim Today 20 years after the worst nuclear power plant accident in history intrepid journalist Mary Mycio dons dosimeter and camouflage protective gear to explore the world's most infamous radioactive wilderness As she tours the Zone to report on the disaster's long term effects on its human faunal and floral inhabitants she meets pockets of defiant local residents who have remained behind to survive and make a life in the Zone And she is shocked to discover that the area surrounding Chernobyl has become Europe's largest wildlife sanctuary a flourishing at times unearthly wilderness teeming with large animals and a variety of birds many of them members of rare and endangered species Like the forests fields and swamps of their unexpectedly inviting habitat both the people and the animals are all radioactive Cesium 137 is packed in their muscles and strontium 90 in their bones But quite astonishingly they are also thriving If fears of the Apocalypse and a lifeless barren radioactive future have been constant companions of the nuclear age Chernobyl now shows us a different view of the future A vivid blend of reportage popular science and illuminating encounters that explode the myths of Chernobyl with facts that are at once beautiful and horrible Wormwood Forest brings a remarkable land and its people and animals to life to tell a unique story of science surprise and suspense

The Journal of Belarusian Studies 2017 Ostrogorski Centre, 2018-03-12 In 1965 the Anglo Belarusian Society began publishing a yearbook The Journal of Byelorussian Studies Since 2013 the Journal of Belarusian Studies is published in London by the Ostrogorski Centre in cooperation with the Anglo Belarusian Society The Journal is distributed annually to universities libraries and private subscribers in the UK the US Belarus and other countries throughout the world The 2017 issue of the Journal features articles on the Belarusian nation building in the context of the First World War and the activities of Belarusian diaspora in the United States in the Cold War era A particular attention is paid to the lifepath of Francis Skaryna one of the first East European book printers who laid the groundwork for the development of the Belarusian language The issue also features several book reviews The Journal is the oldest English language double blind peer reviewed periodical on Belarusian studies

Communication Theory and Application in Post-Socialist Contexts Michael R. Finch, Marta N. Lukacovic, Maureen C. Minielli, Sergei A. Samoilenko, 2022-03-14 While the broader field of communication studies is gaining more global prominence this is an era when the underrepresented voices are fortunately becoming more recognized Communication Theory and Application in Post Socialist Contexts illustrates how Eurasia and Central and Eastern Europe the post socialist region represents a population of more than 400 million who embody a wide array of communication experiences This book aims to capture significant communication tendencies in several post socialist countries and situate these tendencies within communication theory and application It contains the examples of theory building and adaptation as well as applied projects implemented in national and local contexts Only by inclusive incorporation of the underrepresented experiences in the field's discussions can the communication discipline continue to assert its relevance in and for the global community This book serves as a resource for anyone on the quest of diversifying and globalizing communication studies
