Foreign-Related Arbitration in China Fan Yang, 2016-03-10 This overview and analysis of current arbitration law and practice in mainland China offers critical analysis of significant Chinese arbitration law materials and key cases decided by the Supreme People s Court of the People s Republic of China PRC It also provides the full texts of around two hundred decisions of the Supreme People s Court of the

PRC dating from 1990 to 2013 with enclosures of lower People's Courts decisions presented in a systematic fashion. The analysis not only highlights the importance of the materials, judicial interpretations and key cases but also enables readers to read mainland Chinese statutes, judiciary interpretations and cases independently and confidently. A Practitioner's Guide to the European Convention on Human Rights Karen Reid, 2011. Nutshells present the essentials of law in clear and straightforward language explaining the basic principles. Features such as diagrams and checklists make them easy to use while the inclusion of model questions and answer plans help students test their knowledge. Nutshells are an essential revision aid and ideal for getting fully up to speed with a new subject. The EU Law Enforcement Directive (LED), 2024-01-05. The Law Enforcement Directive 2016/680 LED is the first legal instrument in the EU which comprehensively regulates the use of personal data by law enforcement authorities, creating a minimum standard of privacy protection across the EU. Together with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), it stands at the heart of the legal reform of the EU's data protection law. Although it was adopted at the same time as the GDPR, the LED has not received the same scholarly attention despite its significant impact and controversial implementation in Member States. The EU Law Enforcement Directive LED: A Commentary addresses this by providing an article-by-article commentary on the Directive. Drawing on the expertise of leading scholars, regulators and practitioners in the EU data protection field, it offers a detailed analysis of its legal provisions, drawing on relevant case law and scholarship to illuminate the key aspects and intricacies of each provision. It analyses national transpositions of the LED while taking into account the GDPR and the regulations on the processing of personal data by EU institutions, bodies, offices and agencies. For further context, it includes introductory chapters on the background and evolution of the Directive, the Council of Europe and the impact of Brexit on the LED. This comprehensive volume is an excellent resource for anyone seeking authoritative guidance on the application and interpretation of LED provisions, especially judges, legal practitioners, prosecutors, competent authorities and academics. The European Integration of RES-E Promotion Marco Wedel, 2016-02-20. By using the example of Germany and Poland, this multi-level policy dependency analysis by Marco Wedel researches constraints and dependencies of the European Integration of the promotion of renewable energy source electricity (RES-E). To gain insightful results, the author does not only take a look at the implementation effectiveness of the relevant Directive 2009/28/EC but much more generally analyses the potentially conflicting policy implications of the entities involved as well as their respective policy preferences and processes in light of RES-E. Combined, these give rise to multi-level constraints and dependencies for the European Integration of RES-E promotion. Region-Building in Southern Africa Chris Saunders, Gwinyayi Albert Dzinesa, Dawn Nagar, 2013-07-04. How successful have Southern African states been in dealing with the major issues that have faced the region in recent years? What could be done to produce more cohesive and effective region building in Southern Africa? In this original and wide-ranging volume, which draws on an interdisciplinary team of mainly African and African-based specialists, the key political socio economic and security challenges facing Southern Africa today are addressed These include the various issues confronting the Southern African Development Community SADC and its institutions such as HIV AIDS migration and xenophobia land grabbing and climate change and the role of the main external actors involved with the region including the United Nations the European Union the United States and China The book also looks at the Southern African Customs Union and Southern African Development Finance Institutions including the Development Bank of Southern Africa and Industrial Development Corporation and issues of gender and peacebuilding In doing so the book goes to the heart of analyzing the effectiveness of SADC and other regional organisation suggesting how region building in Southern Africa may be compared with similar attempts elsewhere in Africa and other parts of the world
