The Autobiography Of An Execution By David R Dow:

The Autobiography of an Execution David R. Dow, 2010 A lawyer and head of the Texas Defender Service argues against capital punishment as he explores the cases of criminals condemned to death Things I've Learned from Dying David R. Dow, 2015-01-13 Every life is different but every death is the same We live with others We die alone In his riveting artfully written memoir The Autobiography of an Execution David Dow enraptured readers with a searing and frank exploration of his work defending inmates on death row But when Dow's father in law receives his own death sentence in the form of terminal cancer and his gentle dog Winona suffers acute liver failure the author is forced to reconcile with death in a far more personal way both as a son and as a father Told through the disparate lenses of the legal battles he's spent a career fighting and the intimate confrontations with death each family faces at home THINGS I'VE LEARNED FROM DYING offers a poignant and lyrical account of how illness and loss can ravage a family Full of grace and intelligence Dow offers readers hope without cliché and reaffirms our basic human needs for acceptance and love by giving voice to the anguish we all face as parents as children as partners as friends when our loved ones die tragically and far too soon Deadly Justice Frank R. Baumgartner, Marty Davidson, Kaneesha R. Johnson, Arvind Krishnamurthy, 2018 Forty years and 1 400 executions after the U S Supreme Court ruled the death penalty constitutional eminent political scientist Frank Baumgartner and a team of younger scholars have collaborated to assess the empirical record and provide a definitive account of how the death penalty has been implemented A Statistical Portrait of the Death Penalty shows that all the flaws that caused the Supreme Court to invalidate the death penalty in 1972 remain and indeed that new problems have arisen Far from perfecting the mechanism of death the modern system has failed Exile and Embrace Anthony Santoro, 2013-07-09 Examining the religious debates and dimensions of the death penalty in America Demands of the Dead Katy Ryan, 2012-04-15 The first work to combine literary criticism with other forms of death penalty abolitionist writing Demands of the Dead demonstrates the active importance of literature and literary criticism to the struggle for greater justice in the United States Gathering personal essays scholarly articles and creative writings on the death penalty in American culture this striking collection brings human voices and literary perspectives to a subject that is often overburdened by statistics and angry polemics Contributors include death row prisoners playwrights poets activists and literary scholars Highlighting collaborations between writers inside and outside prison all within the context of the history of state killing laws and foundational concepts that perpetuate a culture of violent death Demands of the Dead opens with a pamphlet dictated by Willie Francis a teenager who survived a first execution attempt in Louisiana's electric chair before he was subsequently killed by the state in 1947 Writers are a conspicuous part of U S death penalty history composing a vibrant literary record of resistance to state killing This multigenre collection both recalls and contributes to this tradition through discussions of such writers as Walt Whitman Herman Melville Gertrude Atherton Ernest Gaines Sonia Sanchez Kia Corthron and Sherman Alexie A major contribution to literary studies and American prison studies Demands of the Dead asserts the relevance of storytelling to ethical questions and matters of public policy Contributors Sherman Alexie John Cyril Barton Steve Champion Kia Corthron Thomas Dutoit Willie Francis H Bruce Franklin Tom Kerr David Kieran Jennifer Leigh Lieberman Jill McDonough Anthony Ross Katy Ryan Elizabeth Ann Stein Rick Stetter Matthew Stratton Jason Stupp Delbert Tibbs How We Hope Adrienne M.

Martin, 2024-11-01 What exactly is hope and how does it influence our decisions In How We Hope Adrienne Martin presents a novel account of hope the motivational resources it presupposes and its function in our practical lives She contends that hoping for an outcome means treating certain feelings plans and imaginings as justified and that hope thereby involves sophisticated reflective and conceptual capacities Martin develops this original perspective on hope what she calls the incorporation analysis in contrast to the two dominant philosophical conceptions of hope the orthodox definition where hoping for an outcome is simply desiring it while thinking it possible and agent centered views where hoping for an outcome is setting oneself to pursue it In exploring how hope influences our decisions she establishes that it is not always a positive motivational force and can render us complacent She also examines the relationship between hope and faith both religious and secular and identifies a previously unnoted form of hope normative or interpersonal hope When we place normative hope in people we relate to them as responsible agents and aspire for them to overcome challenges arising from situation or character Demonstrating that hope merits rigorous philosophical investigation both in its own right and in virtue of what it reveals about the nature of human emotion and motivation How We Hope offers an original sustained look at a largely neglected topic in philosophy

Getting Life Michael Morton, 2015-07-28 On August 13 1986 Michael Morton went to work at his usual time By the end of the day his wife Christine had been savagely bludgeoned to death in the couple's bed and the Williamson County Sheriff's office in Texas wasted no time in pinning her murder on him Michael was swiftly sentenced to life in prison for a crime he had not committed It would take twenty five years and thousands of hours of effort on the part of Michael's lawyers including the team at the New York based Innocence Project before DNA evidence was brought to light that would ultimately set Michael free

Proof of Guilt Kathleen A. Cairns, 2013-05-01 Barbara Graham might have been a diabolical dame in a hard boiled detective story beautiful sexy and deadly Charged alongside two male friends in the murder of an elderly widow during a botched robbery attempt Bloody Babs became the third woman executed in California after a 1953 trial that played out before standing room only crowds captured the imaginations of journalists filmmakers and death penalty opponents Why Kathleen A Cairns asks of all the capital cases in the twentieth century did Graham's have such political resonance and staying power Leaving aside the question of guilt or innocence debated to this day Cairns examines how Graham's case became a touchstone in the ongoing debate over capital punishment While prosecutors positioned the accused woman as a femme fatale the media came to offer a counternarrative for Graham's life highlighting her abusive and lonely beginnings Cairns shows how Graham's case became crucial to the abolitionists of the time who used instances of questionable guilt to raise awareness of the arbitrary and capricious nature of death penalty prosecutions Critical in keeping capital punishment in the forefront of public consciousness until abolitionists homed in on a winning strategy Graham s case illustrates the power of individual stories to shape wider perceptions and ultimately public policies Long Way Home

Invitation to an Execution Gordon Morris Bakken,2010-11-16 Until the early twentieth century printed invitations to executions issued by lawmen were a vital part of the ritual of death concluding a criminal proceeding in the United States In this study Gordon Morris Bakken invites readers to an understanding of the death penalty in America with a collection of essays that trace the history and politics of this highly charged moral legal and cultural issue Bakken has solicited essays from historians political scientists and lawyers to ensure a broad treatment of the evolution of American cultural attitudes about crime and capital punishment Part one of this extensive analysis focuses on politics legal history multicultural issues and the international aspects of the death penalty Part two offers a regional analysis with essays that put death penalty issues into a geographic and cultural context Part three focuses on specific states with emphasis on the need to understand capital punishment in terms of state law development particularly because states determine on whom the death penalty will be imposed Part four examines the various means of death from hanging to lethal injection in state law case studies And finally part five focuses on the portrayal of capital punishment in popular culture

Abortion, Execution, and the Consequences of Taking Life James D. Slack,2017-09-08 This book focuses on the relationship between public morality and personal action in the American political community It emphasizes the responsibilities of citizens and government to find and confirm truth looking to specific sources religious scripture and empirical events Recognizing that we have a natural preference for distraction and distance from both sources of truth Slack uses qualitative open ended interviews and direct observation to uncover the intimate consequences of life taking in open societies Abortion and murder capital punishment are instances in which there is a sequence of events that result in life taking The act of murder denies the sanctity of life of someone else Abortion and capital punishment also deny the sanctity of the lives of others The intimacy of life taking is not typically acknowledged or remains hidden This makes it difficult to assess the consequences for victims survivors and the political community as a whole As a result there is only a tenuous link between public actions that question the sanctity of human life and the moral compass professed by the American democracy The volume presumes a theocentric foundation envisioned by the American Founders It explores the model s first source of truth biblical scripture as it applies to the public actions of murder abortion and capital punishment Then it investigates the intimate reality of these acts These realities are examined in a variety of settings resulting in a mosaic pattern of public action about capital punishment and abortion Slack underscores the importance of government s role of providing outward justice as well as the citizen s responsibility to be supportive of government tasks in order to reconcile the reality of life taking with the moral compass professed in the American political community Executed on a Technicality David R. Dow,2005-05-01 When David Dow took his first capital case he supported the death penalty He changed his position as the men on death row became real people to him and as he came to witness the profound injustices they endured from coerced confessions to disconcertingly incompetent lawyers from racist juries and backward judges to a highly arbitrary death penalty system It is these concrete accounts of the people Dow has known and represented that prove the death penalty is consistently unjust and it s precisely this fundamental and lethal injustice Dow argues that should compel us to abandon the system altogether Last Words of the Executed Robert K. Elder,2010-05-15 Some beg for forgiveness Others claim innocence At least three cheer for their favorite football teams Death waits for us all but only those sentenced to death know the day and the hour and only they can be sure that their last words will be recorded for posterity Last Words of the Executed presents an oral history of American capital punishment as heard from the gallows the chair and the gurney The product of seven years of extensive research by journalist Robert K Elder the book explores the cultural value of these final statements and asks what we can learn from them We hear from both the famous such as Nathan Hale Joe Hill Ted Bundy and John Brown and the forgotten and their words give us unprecedented glimpses into their lives their crimes and the world they inhabited Organized by era and method of execution these final statements range from heartfelt to horrific Some are calls for peace or cries against injustice others are accepting confessional or consoling still others are venomous rage fueled diatribes Even the chills evoked by some of these last words are brought on in part by the shared humanity we can t ignore their reminder that we all come to the same end regardless of how we arrive there Last Words of the Executed is not a political book Rather Elder simply asks readers to listen closely to these voices that echo history The result is a riveting moving testament from the darkest corners of society Economic Psychology and Experimental Economics Simon Kemp,Gabrielle Wall,2013-08-21 The last ten years have seen an enormous surge of interest in issues that are common to psychology and economics How do people make decisions about economic issues How should they make such decisions Does public policy or regulation succeed in its aim of helping people make these decisions What situations aid cooperation This volume explores some of the ways in which economists and psychologists have tried to answer these questions The authors are an international mix of economists and psychologists and as such they demonstrate a diverse range of approaches to tackling different aspects of these issues This is a frontier area for both psychology and economics and consequently it is relatively free lawless and above all exciting This collection reflects the diversity and energy that characterise this rapidly growing interdisciplinary field This book was originally published as a special issue of New Zealand Economic Papers The Social History of Crime and Punishment in America: A-De Wilbur R. Miller,2012-08-10 This comprehensive and authoratative four volume work surveys the history and philosophy of crime punishment and criminal justice institutions in America from colonial times to the present The Case of Rose Bird Kathleen A. Cairns,2016-11-01 This biography of Rose Elizabeth Bird is an overdue look at California's first female supreme court chief justice against the backdrop of California's political and cultural climate in the 1970s and 1980s Machinery of Death David R. Dow, Mark Dow, 2014-04-08 First Published in 2002 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Without Mercy David Beasley, 2014-01-28 Without Mercy reads like a John Grisham thriller David R Dow author of The Autobiography of an Execution On December 9 1938 the state of Georgia executed six black men in eighty one minutes in Tattnell Prison's electric chair The executions were a record for the state that still stands today The new prison built with funds from FDR's New Deal as well as the fact that the men were tried and executed rather than lynched were thought to be a sign of progress They were anything but While those men were arrested convicted sentenced and executed in as little as six weeks E D Rivers the governor of the state oversaw a pardon racket for white killers and criminals allowed the Ku Klux Klan to infiltrate his administration and bankrupted the state Race and wealth were all that determined whether or not a man lived or died There was no progress There was no justice David Beasley's Without Mercy is the harrowing true story of the Great Depression the New Deal and the violent death throes of the Klan but most of all it is the story of the stunning injustice of these executions and how they have seared distrust of the legal system into the consciousness of the Deep South and it is a story that will forever be a testament to the death penalty's appalling inequality that continues to plague our nation Confessions of an Innocent Man David R. Dow, 2019-04-09 Every person wrongfully convicted of a crime at some point dreams of getting revenge against the system In Confessions of an Innocent Man the dream comes true and in a spectacular way John Grisham New York Times bestselling author of The Reckoning A thrillingly suspenseful debut novel and a fierce howl of rage that questions the true meaning of justice Rafael Zhettah relishes the simplicity and freedom of his life He is the owner and head chef of a promising Houston restaurant a pilot with open access to the boundless Texas horizon and a bachelor content with having few personal or material attachments that ground him Then lightning strikes When he finds Tieresse billionaire philanthropist sophisticate bombshell sitting at one of his tables he also finds his soul mate and his life starts again And just as fast when she is brutally murdered in their home when he is convicted of the crime when he is sentenced to die it is all ripped away But for Rafael Zhettah death row is not the end It is only the beginning Now with his recaptured freedom he will stop at nothing to deliver justice to those who stole everything from him This is a heart stoppingly suspenseful devastating page turning debut novel A thriller with a relentless grip that wants you to read it in one sitting David R Dow has dedicated his life to the fight against capital punishment to righting the horrific injustices of the death penalty regime in Texas He delivers the perfect modern parable for exploring our complex uneasy relationships with punishment and reparation in a terribly unjust world Ohio State Journal of Criminal Law ,2016

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and suspenseful novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
