Morpork City Watch life consists of trouble and more trouble a werewolf with pre lunar tension a dwarf with attitude a golem who's begun to think for itself Now he's got the unusual deaths of three elderly Ankh Morporkians on his hands It's murder in Discworld which ordinarily is no big deal The problem is the deaths do not bear the clean efficient marks of the Assassins Guild there's an apparent lack of motive and there's no trace of anything alive having been at the crime scene What Vimes does have are some tracks of white clay and more bothersome clue thingies that muck up his investigations The anger of a fearful populace is already targeting the city's small community of golems those mindless absurdly industrious creatures of baked clay who can occasionally be found toiling in the city's factories And certain highly placed personages are using the unrest as an excuse to resurrect a monarchy which would be bad enough even if their would be king wasn't as empty headed as your typical animated pottery In addition to quieting the restless populace Vimes has to find out whodunit and howdunit too He's not even sure what they dun But as soon as he knows what the questions are he's going to look for some answers

Jingo Terry Pratchett, 2009-12-01 IT WAS SO MUCH EASIER TO BLAME IT ON THEM IT WAS BLEAKLY DEPRESSING TO THINK THAT THEY WERE US War is brewing on the Discworld An island has appeared from the ocean depths right in the middle of the sea which separates the proud empires of Klatch and Ankh Morpork Of course no one would dream of starting a war with the neighbours without a perfectly good reason such as a strategic piece of old rock for instance But when a Klatchian Prince is almost assassinated peace talks break down and violent nationalism begins to spread Ankh Morpork prepares to fight Only thing is they don't have an army Or much in the way of weapons Commander Sam Vimes and the officially disbanded City Watch get caught up in a deadly political game where the enemy appears to be on both sides and no one will listen to reason And if they don't stop this absurd war no one will

Night Watch Terry Pratchett, 2003-09-30 One moment Sir Sam Vimes is in his old patrolman form chasing a sweet talking psychopath across the rooftops of Ankh Morpork The next he's lying naked in the street having been sent back thirty years courtesy of a group of time manipulating monks who won't leave well enough alone This Discworld is a darker place that Vimes remembers too well three decades before his title fortune beloved wife and impending first child Worse still the murderer he's pursuing has been transported back also Worst of all it's the eve of a fabled street rebellion that needlessly destroyed more than a few good and not so good men Sam Vimes knows his duty and by changing history he might just save some worthwhile necks though it could cost him his own personal future Plus there's a chance to steer a novice watchman straight and teach him a valuable thing or three about policing an impressionable young copper named Sam Vimes
