Global Initiatives and Higher Education in the Fourth Industrial Revolution Erna Oliver,2022-08-11 The Fourth industrial Revolution 4IR is forcing higher education HE into a new era where it must either actively and positively contribute to innovation sustainability and development or become obsolete and redundant HE must leave its ivory tower and forge links and partnerships with society industry and governing bodies by delivering graduates that are holistically educated and trained to bring positive innovation and change and to address the challenges that humanity is facing in the 21st century

Improving household consumption and expenditure surveys' food consumption metrics Fiedler, John L.,Mwangi, Dena M.,2016-11-18 As the nature of global malnutrition changes there is a growing need and increasing urgency for more and better information about food consumption and dietary patterns The past two decades have seen a dramatic increase in the number availability and analysis of the food consumption data collected in a variety of multipurpose household surveys referred to collectively as household consumption and expenditure surveys HCESs These surveys are heterogeneous and their quality varies substantially by country Still they share some common shortcomings in their measurement of food consumption nutrient intakes and nutrition status that undermine their relevance and reliability for purposes of designing and implementing food policies and programs This review crafts a strategic approach to the unfinished global agenda of improving HCESs collection of food consumption data Starting with the priority studies recommended by a 100 country HCES review Smith Dupriez and Troubat 2014 it focuses on a strategic subset of those studies that deal most directly and exclusively with the measurement of food and that are of fundamental importance to all HCES stakeholders in low and middle income countries Drawing from the literature this study provides a more detailed more circumspect justification as to why these particular studies are needed while identifying key hypotheses explaining why these studies are of growing urgency and demonstrating why now is a propitious time for undertaking them The review also identifies important study design considerations while pointing out potential challenges to successful implementation stemming from technical capacity economic administrative and political considerations Six key studies are rank ordered from a global perspective as follows taking into account 1 the likely shared consensus that a topic is an important source of measurement error in estimating consumption 2 the perceived urgency of the need for addressing a particular source of measurement error 3 the perceived likelihood of success that is that the efforts will improve the accuracy of measurement 4 whether or not the study entails modifying the questionnaire 5 the ease with which a study may begin and 6 the extent to which the study is independent of necessary negotiations with existing HCES stakeholders because of the types of changes it is likely to entail in either the questionnaire or the way the data have traditionally been processed

Discourses of Globalisation and Higher Education Reforms Joseph Zajda,W. James Jacob,2022-03-15 This book examines some of the major higher education reforms and policy shifts globally particularly in the light of recent shifts in quality and standards driven education and policy research It critiques the neo liberal ideological imperatives of current higher education and policy reforms and illustrates the way that changes in the relationship between the state and higher education policy affect current trends in higher education reforms Using diverse comparative education paradigms from critical theory to historical comparative research the chapters focus on globalisation ideology and higher education reforms and examine both the reasons and outcomes of higher education reforms and policy change The book analyses and evaluates the policy shifts in methodological approaches to globalisation and higher education reforms and their impact on education policy and pedagogy The book contributes in a very scholarly way to a more holistic understanding of the nexus between globalisation comparative education research and higher education reforms
