Анатомия поиска устройства Петренко В. М.,2020-02-24 Assessing the environmental impact of agriculture Prof. Bo P. Weidema,2019-08-27 Assesses current best practice and methodological issues in life cycle assessment LCA methodology for agriculture Looks in detail at particular types of environmental impact such as nutrient Reviews the environmental assessment and optimization of sectors such as crops ruminant and other livestock production as well as by products The Power of Story Joan Wink Ph.D.,2017-11-07 Through this book readers will discover that stories can move the human heart and head in ways that research cannot Stories bring together readers writers librarians teachers students and families in the libraries of today and will continue to do so tomorrow Written for all those lovers of literacy this book links libraries and literacies through the power of stories The book is not filled with data in the form of pie charts graphs and tables Rather the truth of the research is grounded in authentic stories that reflect not only the interpretation of data but also the transformative nature of literacies and libraries The author s primary goal is that readers will come to value and use storytelling in their own professional and personal lives to explain and expand on complex concepts and to make information more accessible for all The book begins by presenting anecdotes and the author s personal story to lay the foundation for what literacies are and what literacy is not An activity Spiral of Literacy allows readers to reflect on their own literacies Chapters that follow each begin with a story that sets the theoretical foundation Each chapter concludes with an action section that demonstrates how to turn theory to practice whether you are in a library a classroom or at home A final chapter envisions what libraries might look like in 10 years through interviews with librarians teachers and others interested in literacy

Informing Social Security's Process for Financial Capability Determination National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Institute of Medicine, Board on the Health of Select Populations, Committee to Evaluate the Social Security Administration's Capability Determination Process for Adult Beneficiaries, 2016-05-20 The U S Social Security Administration SSA provides benefits to disabled adults and children offering vital financial support to more than 19 million disabled Americans Of that group approximately 5.5 million have been deemed by virtue of youth or mental or physical impairment incapable of managing or directing the management of their benefits Hence a representative payee has been appointed to receive and disburse SSA payments for these beneficiaries to ensure that their basic needs for shelter food and clothing are met Periodically however concerns have been expressed about the accuracy of the process by which SSA determines whether beneficiaries are capable of managing their benefits with some evidence suggesting that underdetection of incapable recipients may be a particular problem The importance of creating as accurate a process as possible for incapability determinations is underscored by the consequences of incorrectly identifying recipients either as incapable when they can manage their benefits or as capable when they cannot Failure to identify beneficiaries who are incapable of managing their funds means abandoning a vulnerable population to potential homelessness hunger and disease Informing Social Security's Process for Financial Capability Determination considers capability determination processes used by other similar benefit programs abilities required to manage and direct the management of benefits and effective methods and measures for assessing capability This report evaluates SSA's capability determination process for adult beneficiaries and provides recommendations for improving the accuracy and efficiency of the agency's policy and procedures for making these determinations

Digital Energetics Anne

Pasek, Cindy Kaiying Lin, Zane Griffin Talley Cooper, Jordan B. Kinder, 2023-05-23 Exploring the connections between energy and media and what those connections mean for our current moment Energy and media are the entangled middles of social life and also of each other This volume traces the contours of both a media analytic of energy and an energy analytic of media across the cultural environmental and economic relations they undergird Digital Energetics argues that media and energy require joint theorization not only in their potential to universalize but also in the many contingent and intermeshed relations that they bind together across contemporary informational and fossil regimes Focusing specifically on digital operations the coauthors analyze how data and energy have jointly modulated the character of the materiality and labor of digital systems in a warming world Anne Pasek provides a brief energy history of the bit tracing how the electrification and digitization of American computing propelled a turn toward efficiency as both a solution and instigator of parallel crises in the workforce and the climate Zane Griffin Talley Cooper traces these concerns within cryptographic proof of work systems and the heat they necessarily produce and seek to manage Following heat through the twinned histories of thermodynamics and information theory he argues that such systems are best approached as a paradigmatic rather than exceptional example of computing infrastructures Cindy Kaiying Lin focuses on the practical and political frictions created as database and management designs move from the Global North to South illustrating how the energy constraints and software cultures of Indonesia open new spaces of autonomy within environmental governance Finally Jordan B Kinder offers a theorization of platform energetics demonstrating how public energy discourses and settler land claims are entangled in the digital infrastructures of data colonialism in Canada Congressional Record United States. Congress,2014 Fostering Change in Institutions, Environments, and People David C. Berliner,Haggai Kupermintz,2014-04-08 This volume is comprised of contributions from leading scholars in education and psychology In part one of the book the authors provide insight into the psychology of change examining What factors work as catalysts for change in environments institutions and people What factors hinder change When change is deemed beneficial In the second part of this volume the authors turn their attention to the issue of peace education They examine the types of problems that societies and scholars should identify and try to solve in hopes of building more peaceful environments The final chapter is a biography honoring Professor Gavriel Gabi Salomon a significant contributor to the vast literature on change This book is appropriate reading for professors students and academics who are dedicated to fostering change to benefit institutions environments and people Foundations of Psychological Testing Leslie A. Miller,Sandra A. McIntire,Robert L. Lovler,2011 The Third Edition of this text offers a straight forward and clear introduction to the basics of psychological testing as well as to psychometrics and statistics for students new to the field The authors focus on relating core ideas to practical situations that students will recognize and relate to They provide a variety of pedagogical tools that promote student understanding of the underlying concepts required to interpret and to use test scores Primarily concerned with preparing students to become informed consumers and users of tests the text also features a final section focusing on how tests are utilized in three important settings education clinical and counseling practice and organizations Intended Audience This is a scholarly informative applicable and appropriate undergraduate and graduate textbook ideal for introductory courses such as Psychological Testing Psychological Tests and graduate programs in psychology industrial organizational psychology and counseling United States of America Congressional Record, Proceedings and Debates of the 113th Congress Second Session Volume 160 - Part 3 , The Politics of Writing Studies Robert Samuels,2017-09-07 A friendly critique of the field The Politics of Writing Studies examines a set of recent pivotal texts in composition to show how writing scholarship in an effort to improve disciplinary prestige and garner institutional resources inadvertently reproduces structures of inequality within American higher education Not only does this enable the exploitation of contingent faculty but it also puts writing studies a field that inherently challenges many institutional hierarchies in a debased institutional position and at odds with itself Instead of aligning with the dominant paradigm of research universities where research is privileged over teaching theory over practice the sciences over the humanities and graduate education over undergraduate writing studies should conceive itself in terms more often associated with labor By identifying more profoundly as workers as a collective in solidarity with contingent faculty writing professionals can achieve solutions to the material problems that the field in its best moments wants to address Ultimately the change compositionists want to see in the university will not come from high theory or the social science research agenda it must come from below Offering new insight into a complex issue The Politics of Writing Studies will be of great interest to writing studies professionals university administrators and anyone interested in the political economy of education and the reform of institutions of higher education in America General Acts, Resolutions, and Memorials Adopted by the ... Legislature of Florida Under the Constitution as Revised in 1968 Florida,2010
