Asmara Africas Secret Modernist City:

Asmara Edward Denison, Guang Yu Ren, Naigzy Gebremedhin, 2006 Asmara the capital of the small East African country of Eritrea bordering the Red Sea is one of the most important and exciting architectural discoveries of recent years Built almost entirely in the 1930s by the Italians who transformed it into a hotbed of radical architectural innovation Asmara has one of the highest concentrations of Modernist architecture anywhere in the world This superb building by building survey illustrated with previously unpublished archival material and specially commissioned photography chronicles the colonial past and remarkable survival of a city that has evocatively been described as the Miami of Africa

African Heritage Challenges Britt Baillie, Marie Louise Stig Sørensen, 2020-11-27 The richness of Africa s heritage at times stands in stark contrast to the economic health political and societal challenges faced Development is essential but in what forms For whom Following whose agendas At what costs This book explores how heritage can promote secure or undermine sustainable development with special focus on sub Saharan Africa and in turn how this affects conceptions of heritage The chapters in this volume identify shared challenges good practices and failures and use specific case studies to provide detailed insights into varied forms of heritage and heritage defining processes on the continent By critically analysing the often romanticised discourses of heritage community engagement and sustainable development the volume suggests ways of harnessing aspects of heritage to tackle some of the socio economic and political pressures facing heritage practices on the continent including the legacies of colonialism

Asmara - an urban history Belula Tecle-Misghina, 2015-02-11 Like any city Asmara a young city even by the standards of young African capitals is a stage set where the drama of history has unfolded in the most intense and eloquent manner The territory of Asmara stands at the edge of a space of almost mythical civilisations ancient religions and proud empires It is also a natural acropolis in the vastness of Africa an astoundingly high crest that looks down from above on the coast of the Eritrean sea coming to a halt where the Afar Rift expands and year after year rips into the heart of Africa where lions and gnus still roam free However in its body and thus in its history Asmara is also a fragment of Europe imported atop the undulating highlands of Hamasien by the presumption of the most fragile and thus most presumptuous of colonial nations Italy Less than 130 years later history appears to have intentionally concentrated a host of events projects interests delusions conflicts and hopes in Asmara that within the vaster expanses of historical time could have filled dozens of centuries These metamorphoses were similar to immense waves lapping at a resistant soil introducing and withdrawing diverse foreign armies peoples languages and cultures and adversities The results of so much labour have forged the identity of Eritrea jealously defended for decades and jealously guarded to this day Looking carefully in libraries among printed works dedicated to particular aspects of this identity numerous and some very important it is impossible to find a history of Eritrea that is scientifically complete and up to date This is a serious shortcoming Yet everything has remained impressed upon the land and even more eloquently on the city on the face and limbs of Asmara Hence the reconstruction like that made by the author of this book of the difficult process of planning the city signifies not only restoring similar to an animation the history of the complex growth of an urban organism Lucio Valerio Barbera UNESCO Chairholder in Sustainable Urban Quality and Urban Culture notably in Africa Sapienza Universit di Roma At the end of the Thirties from Naples to Massawa the Port of Empire since 1890 an important commercial base and natural access point for anyone wishing to reach Asmara and the Eritrean uplands the voyage took five days from the port one could reach the capital of the Colony by train on an intrepid mountain rail way or by a motor road Road n 1 from Dogali Asmara was only 120 km away If one wanted to make the journey by air it took three and a half days thanks to the Empire Line which involved taking a seaplane from the Carlo Del Prete base in Ostia to Benghazi in Libya and then a plane to the Umberto Maddalena Airport in Asmara with stops at Cairo Wadi Haifa Khartoum and C ssala on the Sudanese border And right next door to the Airport stood the Teleferica Massawa Asmara an extraordinary cableway for transporting goods up on to the plateau at a height difference of 2 326 metres the cableway had been built in two years between 1935 and 1937 and at a length of 75 km was the longest industrial cableway system in the world It could move in one day the equivalent of thirty train loads but it was at its full operational capacity for only a few years in 1941 it was damaged in the war with the British and ten years later when Eritrea became a British Protectorate it was unexpectedly decided to dismantle it capital of the new country These events act as a backdrop and form a solid framework for Tecle Misghina s research which is not only meticulous but emotionally involved of which this book is a well documented summary Her research is important in that it reconfigures and puts in order various documents both known and unpublished in order to build up a chronology and an armoury of references that are indispensable for anyone wishing to carry out further studies on the Eritrean capital For a project developed within a Doctoral programme this is in my opinion the most important outcome of her research Piero Ostilio Rossi Director of the Department of Architecture and Design Sapienza Universit di Roma Modern Architecture in Africa Antoni S. Folkers, Belinda A. C. van Buiten, 2019-07-22 This book offers unique insights into modern African architecture influenced by modern European architecture and at the same time a natural successor to existing site specific and traditional architecture It brings together the worlds of traditional site specific architecture with the Modernist Project in Africa which to date have only been considered in isolation The book covers the four architectural disciplines urban planning building technology building physics and conservation It includes an introduction with a historical outline and an analysis and comparison of a number of projects in various countries in Africa On the basis of examples drawn from practice the author documents and describes the hybrid architectural forms that have emerged from the confrontation and fusion with pre modern Western architecture and urban planning and in so doing he also narrates the history of African architecture Global Heritage Assemblages Christoph Rausch,2016-11-25 Based on multi sited anthropological fieldwork this book describes how various governmental intergovernmental and non governmental actors engage with colonial and post colonial built heritage found in Eritrea Tanzania Niger and the Republic of the Congo showing how this engagement produces problematizations of the modern which ultimately indicate a need to rescue modernity from its dominant conception as an all encompassing epochal and spatial culture The State of the World's Cities 2004/2005 ,2004 As towns and cities expand at unprecedented rates sustainable urban development is one of the most pressing challenges facing the international community in the 21st century This publication examines the realities faced by urban populations around the world focusing on the impact of globalisation and the way cities are governed and planned on the make up and density of their population and on their cultures and economies Issues considered include the impact of globalisation on urban culture urban renewal and cultural strategies the concept of metropolitanization socio economic and cultural impacts of international migration urban poverty and homelessness social inequality and exclusion urban governance safety and crime trends contemporary planning strategies and the role of civil society progress towards attainment of the Millennium Development Goals targets for sanitation and housing The report highlights the need for a new culture of planning to establish multicultural and inclusive cities involving civil society as well as public authorities The Urban Ecologies of Divided Cities Amira Osman,John Nagle,Sabyasachi Tripathi,2023-06-12 The book discusses how division affect the fabric of cities and people s sense of identity and agency and are reflected in physical features architecture and urban planning The question of divided cities represents a complex and multistranded urban Ecology at once both social and spatial it cannot be limited to a single science or discipline such as social or spatial fields This suggests integrated and cross disciplinary understandings as well as integrated or parallel approaches and solutions Urban ecologies of division manifest in multiple forms One of their most palpable expressions is conflict with parallels around the world and often with correlations in the spatial fabric Violence in such contexts is often a surface expression of deeper socio economic or ideological differences Whether as a result of intervention by authority or by dissent between groups a divided city inevitably becomes a place of conflict in various forms and intensity eroding the joy of living and sense of collective belonging to the detriment of all In effect it erodes the collective advantage of being part of a more unified society A city exists in collections of social structures which mutually form a society A divided city implies divided social structures and in consequence a divided society The papers compiled in this book present many case studies of divided cities discussing the different causes of divisions and their effects on societies Some of the causes can be linked to conflicts wars colonialism or legislative political systems In response to the serious challenges resulting from these divisions the book aims to provide opportunities for new approaches and possibilities for new interventions and solutions making it significant to urban planners architects and policymakers

Asmara Edward Denison, Guang Yu Ren, Naigzy Gebremedhin, 2003 Asmara the capital city of Eritrea is one of the most exciting architectural discoveries of recent years built almost entirely in the 1930s by the Italians it became a prime location for architectural innovation This groundbreaking and superbly illustrated study reveals the full extent of Asmara s remarkable survival and confirms its status as one of the world s finest Modernist cities

Biopolitics, Militarism, and Development David O'Kane, Tricia M. Redeker Hepner, 2009 Bringing together original contemporary ethnographic research on the Northeast African state of Eritrea this book shows how biopolitics the state led deployment of disciplinary technologies on individuals and population groups is assuming particular forms in the twenty first century Once hailed as the African country that works Eritrea s apparently successful post independence development has since lapsed into economic crisis and severe human rights violations This is due not only to the border war with Ethiopia that began in 1998 but is also the result of discernible tendencies in the high modernist style of social mobilization for development first adopted by the Eritrean government during the liberation struggle 1961 1991 and later carried into the post independence era The contributions to this volume reveal and interpret the links between development and developmentalist ideologies intensifying militarism and the controlling and disciplining of human lives and bodies by state institutions policies and discourses Also assessed are the multiple consequences of these policies for the Eritrean people and the ways in which such policies are resisted or subverted This insightful comparative volume places the Eritrean case in a broader global and transnational context

Art Deco Michael Windover, 2012-12-13T00:00:00-05:00 This book argues that mobility is the central theme of the interwar mode of design known today as Art Deco It is present on the very surfaces of Art Deco objects and architecture in iconography and general formal qualities whether the zigzag rectilinear forms popular in the 1920s or curvilinear streamlining of the 1930s By focussing on mobility as a means of tying the seemingly disparate qualities of Art Deco together Michael Windover shows how the surface level expressions correspond as well with underpinning systems of mobility including those associated with migration transportation commodity exchange capital and communication Journeying across the globe from a skyscraper in Vancouver B C to a department store in Los Angeles and from super cinemas in Bombay Mumbai to radio cabinets in Canadian living rooms this richly illustrated book examines the reach of Art Deco as it affected public cultures Windover s innovative perspective exposes some of the socio political consequences of this mode of mobility and offers some reasons as to how and why Art Deco was incorporated into everyday lifestyles around the world Africa. Colonial Architecture and Urbanism in Africa Fassil Demissie,2016-12-05 Colonial architecture and urbanism carved its way through space ordering and classifying the built environment while projecting the authority of European powers across Africa in the name of science and progress The built urban fabric left by colonial powers attests to its lingering impacts in shaping the present and the future trajectory of postcolonial cities in Africa Colonial Architecture and Urbanism explores the intersection between architecture and urbanism as discursive cultural projects in Africa Like other colonial institutions such as the courts police prisons and schools that were crucial in establishing and maintaining political domination colonial architecture and urbanism played s pivotal role in shaping the spatial and social structures of African cities during the 19th and 20th centuries Indeed it is the cultural destination of colonial architecture and urbanism and the connection between them and colonialism that the volume seeks to critically address The contributions drawn from different interdisciplinary fields map the historical processes of colonial architecture and urbanism and bring into sharp focus the dynamic conditions in which colonial states officials architects planners medical doctors and missionaries mutually constructed a hierarchical and exclusionary built environment that served the wider colonial project in Africa

Conservation and Sustainability in Historic Cities Dennis Rodwell,2008-04-15 Conservation and Sustainability in Historic Cities examines how the two key issues of urban conservation and sustainability relate to each other in the context of historic cities and how they can be brought together in a common philosophy and practice that is mutually supportive It sets out the
