The Postmodern Humanism of Philip K. Dick Jason P. Vest, 2009-02-17 From his 1952 short story Roog to the novels The Divine Invasion and VALIS few authors have had as great of an impact in the latter half of the 20th century as Philip K Dick In The Postmodern Humanism of Philip K Dick Jason Vest explores the work of this prolific subversive and mordantly funny science fiction writer He examines how Dick adapted the conventions of science fiction and postmodernism to reflect humanist concerns about the difficulties of maintaining identity agency and autonomy in the latter half of the 20th century In addition to an extensive analysis of the novel Now Wait for Last Year Vest makes intellectually provocative comparisons between Dick and the works of Franz Kafka Jorge Luis Borges and Italo Calvino He offers a detailed examination of Dick s literary relationship to all three authors illuminating similarities between Dick and Kafka that have not previously been discussed as well as similarities between Dick and Borges that scholars frequently note but fail to explore in detail Like Kafka Borges and Calvino Dick employs fantastic unreal and visionary fiction to reflect the disruptions dislocations and depressing realities of twentieth century life By comparing him to these other writers Vest demonstrates that Dick s fiction is a fascinating barometer of postmodern American life even as it participates in an international tradition of visionary literature

The Multiverse as Theory in Postmodern Speculative Fictional Narratives Angélica Cabrera Torrecilla, Francisco Sáez de Adana, 2024-11-15 The Multiverse as Theory in Postmodern Speculative Fictional Narratives considers the concept of the multiverse beyond the immediacy of being merely an excuse or scenario for the development of stories instead positioning the multiverse as a theoretical method in which speculative fiction narratives can explore diverse issues to bridge ideas across cultural social and philosophical analysis Taking a cross cultural approach the book centres around the critical engagements that literary and media texts have with the representations of the multiverse beyond considering this subject as a mere rhetorical flourish or a passing fad A diverse and international team of authors engage with the multiverse from the point of view of other worlds understanding it not as the appearance of another independent world but as the collision of two or more different worlds into one of them From this key finding the multiverse encourages us to pay attention to the influence that fiction exerts on narratives and world building providing possible frameworks to rethink critical aspects of temporality space self society and culture in contemporary times This pioneering work will interest students and scholars working in the areas of media and cultural studies comparative literature popular culture studies speculative fiction and transmedia studies The Cybernetic Imagination in Science Fiction Patricia S. Warrick, 1980 Science fiction criticism Focuses on literary scientific material Five Great Novels Philip K. Dick, 2004 This volume contains DO ANDROIDS DREAM OF ELECTRIC SHEEP filmed as BLADERUNNER MARTIAN TIME SLIP UBIK THE THREE STIGMATA OF PALMER ELDRITCH and A SCANNER DARKLY Taken together they represent the best of Philip K Dick's unique imagination In Dick's writing nothing is what it seems our sense of the world's order is fatally undermined and mass media tells us nothing but artful lies Films such as THE MATRIX and THE TRUMAN SHOW would not have been made but for Philip K Dick His work has never been more timely

Crossroads in Literature and Culture Jacek Fabiszak, Ewa Urbaniak-Rybicka, Bartosz Wolski, 2012-11-05 The book contains a selection of papers focusing on the idea of crossing boundaries in literary and cultural texts composed in English The authors come from different methodological schools and analyse texts coming from different periods and cultures trying to find common ground the theme of the volume between the apparently generically and temporarily varied works and phenomena In this way a plethora of perspectives is offered perspectives which represent a high standard both in terms of theoretical reflection and in depth analysis of selected texts Consequently the volume is addressed to a wide scope of both scholars and students working in the field of English and American literary and cultural studies furthermore it will be of interest also to students interested in theoretical issues linked with investigations into literature and culture The Ex-Human Michael Bérubé, 2024-05-28 Facing threats like climate change and nuclear warfare science fiction authors have conjured apocalyptic scenarios of human extinction Can such gloomy fates help us make sense of our contemporary crises How important is the survival of our species if we wind up battling for an Earth that has become an uninhabitable hellscape What other possible futures do narratives of the end of humanity allow us to imagine Michael Bérubé explores the surprising insights of classic and contemporary works of SF that depict civilizational collapse and contemplate the fate of Homo sapiens In a lively conversational style he considers novels by writers including Ursula K Le Guin Margaret Atwood Liu Cixin Philip K Dick and Octavia Butler as well as films that feature hostile artificial intelligence such as 2001 A Space Odyssey Blade Runner and the Terminator and Matrix franchises Bérubé argues that these works portray a future in which we have become able to see ourselves from the vantage point of something other than the human Though framed by the possibility of human extinction they are driven by a vision of the ex human a desire to imagine that another species is possible For all science fiction readers worried about the fate of humanity The Ex Human is an entertaining yet sobering account of how key novels and films envision the world without us
