Boatbuilding, by Howard I. Chappelle Howard i Chappelle,1941 Boat building in Winterton, Trinity Bay, Newfoundland David A. Taylor,2006-01-01 This revised edition of a classic work covers the history design construction and use of traditional wooden inshore fishing boats in the small town of Winterton on the shore of Trinity Bay Newfoundland Boatbuilding lore especially the dynamics of boat design and construction are seen from the perspective of the boat builders themselves and are discussed within the context of the community s social economic and natural environments Lavishly illustrated with photographs archival images drawings and line plans this book is a practical guide for boatbuilding enthusiasts and a valuable resource for scholars Published in English Boats of Currituck: An Analysis of Six Watercraft from the Whalehead Trust Preservation Trust Collection Nathan Richards,David J. Stewart,2016-11 In the fall of 2013 and the summer of 2014 graduate students from East Carolina University s Program in Maritime Students in collaboration with the UNC Coastal Studies Institute carried out a project recording six watercraft from a collection of historical small watercraft collected and maintained by the Whalehead Preservation Trust in Currituck County North Carolina This volume contains six chapters that serve as the technical reports concerning these six vessels Each chapter reports the process of recording the boats and their histories and also engages in interpretation and analysis of the form function and methods of construction This publication intends to communicate the results of maritime focused historic preservation activities concerning a small part of Currituck County s legacy of boat building The Sallie and Stacy Saunders Story Susan Chapman Melanson,2008-07-13 Sallie Harding Saunders and her husband Stacy Saunders were pioneers in many ways Sallie and Stacy eloped in 1909 and the life they created is the story presented here They taught school in Puerto Rico Sallie became a medical doctor and eventually the Director of Maternal and Child Care in Massachusetts She was responsible for innovations and legislation to provide care for premature infants Stacy lost his eyesight yet graduated from law school and began working on cases for Harvard University After seventeen years of being blind a miraculous surgery restored his eyesight The history of Sallie and Stacy intertwines with the towns of Medway Hopedale and Winthrop MA The reader will find personalized accounts of hurricanes notations about Winthrop s narrow gauge railroad descriptions of the boat building business their son in law and grandson became involved with and remembrances of the 1960 Electra plane crash as well as the special places they called home Guidelines for Recording Historic Ships Richard Kerfoot Anderson,1988 Boats and Boating in the Adirondacks Hallie E. Bond,1998-08-01 Adirondack history is a tale written o the water In the Adirondacks people have traveled conducted warfare hunted and fished gone to church proposed marriage and driven logs in on from or by water Without boats small and large Adirondack history social recreational commercial and environmental would be an affair entirely different from what we have come to know In this lavishly illustrated account Hallie E Bond presents a history of these boats canoes sailboats power launches outboards and the indigenous guideboat that figure prominently in the overall history of the Adirondacks The pre contact Indians paddled dugout and bark canoes in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries these craft were joined by skiffs and bateaux Between 1820 and World War II a distinctive tradition of boat building developed culminating in the famous Adirondack guideboat As the nineteenth century progressed a variety of small fresh water musclepowered boats was produced in the Adirondacks an assemblage matched by only a few places in the country There were the canoes and the men that made them famous John Henry Rushton and Nessmuk and the guideboats and their builders H Dwight Grant and Willard Hanmer In the early twentieth century the development of the internal combustion engine irrevocably changed not only boat use and design but life and leisure in the Adirondacks Bond skillfully captures the whole panorama of boats and boating in the Adirondacks from early dugouts and bateaux to the highpowered inboards that won Gold Cup races on Lake George and the Kevlar pack canoes of today Drawing on her experience as an historian and Curator of Collections and Boats at the Adirondack Museum Bond places events and trends of the region in the context of national and international history and describes the significant contribution of the Adirondacks in the early twentieth century development of recreation and travel in America Boats and Boating in the Adirondacks also includes a descriptive catalog of boats from the museum s own collection with nearly two hundred illustrations in addition to those in the narrative a list of boatbuilders active in the North Country before 1975 and a valuable glossary of terms Manual for Activities Directed at Underwater Cultural Heritage Thijs J. Maarleveld,Ulrike Guérin,Barbara Egger,2013 Wooden Ship Building and the Interpretation of Shipwrecks John Richard Steffy,1994 This book is a guide to the study of the most marvelous structures ever built by humankind wooden ships and boats It is intended for nautical archaeologists and for anyone charged with documenting and interpreting the remains of wrecked or abandoned vessels It will also be of value to historians authors model builders and others interested in the design and construction of wooden watercraft of the past The text is divided into three parts The first introduces the discipline and presents enough basic information to permit the untrained reader to understand the analysis of ship and boat construction that follows Part II is broken into three chapters that investigate ancient medieval and post medieval shipwrecks and supporting documentation Not all of the world s ship and boat excavations can be included in this single volume nautical archaeology has progressed two far for that Instead these three chapters have been assembled to represent a cross section of ship building technology as seen through the interpretation of a select group of finds Part III addresses the techniques of recording hull remains assembling archival information reconstructing vessels and converting data into plans and publication It is by no means a how to section Sites logistics and the wrecks themselves vary so much that like wooden ship building this discipline can never become an exact science Rather the third part of the book discusses work done on previous projects and suggests additional methods that might prove helpful to readers in their own endeavors The book contains an illustrated glossary specifically designed for archaeological use There is also a select bibliography annotated where titles do not indicate content and arranged in historical groups to provide sources for most areas of research
