Africa Counts Number And Pattern In African Cultures:

Africa Counts Claudia Zaslavsky, 1999-04-01 This fascinating study of mathematical thinking among sub Saharan African peoples covers counting in words and in gestures measuring time distance weight and other quantities manipulating money and keeping accounts number systems patterns in music poetry art and architecture and number magic and taboos African games such as mankala and elaborate versions of tic tac toe show how complex this thinking can be An invaluable resource for students teachers and others interested in African cultures and multiculturalism this third edition is updated with an introduction covering two decades of new research in the ethnomathematics of Africa Africa Counts Claudia Zaslavsky, 1990 Study by a mathematical scholar on the ways in which African people count keep time and records play games use geometry in art and architecture etc Based on research in Nigeria and East Africa Africa Counts Claudia Zaslavsky, 1979 History of Mathematics in Africa: 2000-2011 Paulus Gerdes, Ahmed Djebbar, 2011 Science and an African Logic Helen Verran, 2001-12-15 Does two and two equal four Ask someone and they should answer yes An equation such as this seems the very definition of certainty but is it In this book Helen Verran addresses precisely that question

Popular Culture, Educational Discourse, and Mathematics Peter Michael Appelbaum, 1995-01-01 This ground breaking book analyzes contemporary education discourse in the light of curriculum politics and popular culture using sources ranging from academic scholarship to popular magazines music video film and television game shows Mathematics is used as an extreme case since it is a discipline so easily accepted as separable from politics ethics or the social construction of knowledge Appelbaum s juxtaposition of popular culture public debate and professional practice enables an examination of the production and mediation of common sense distinctions between school mathematics and the world outside of schools Terrain ordinarily displaced or excluded by traditional education literature becomes the pendulum for a new conversation which merges research and practice while discarding pre conceived categories of understanding The book also serves as an entertaining introduction to emerging theories in cultural studies progressively illustrating the uses of discourse analysis for comprehending ideology the implications of power knowledge links professional practice as a technology of power and curriculum as at once commodities and cultural resources In this way Appelbaum effectively reveals a direction for teachers students and researchers to cooperatively form a community attentive to the politics of curriculum and popular culture

Encyclopaedia of the History of Science, Technology, and Medicine in Non-Western Cultures Helaine Selin, 2013-11-11 The Encyclopaedia fills a gap in both the history of science and in cultural studies Reference works on other cultures tend either to omit science completely or pay little attention to it and those on the history of science almost always start with the Greeks with perhaps a mention of the Islamic world as a translator of Greek scientific works The purpose of the Encyclopaedia is to bring together knowledge of many disparate fields in one place and to legitimize the study of other cultures science Our aim is not to claim the superiority of other cultures but to engage in a mutual exchange of ideas

The Western academic divisions of science technology and medicine have been united in the Encyclopaedia because in ancient cultures these disciplines were connected This work contributes to redressing the balance in the number of reference works devoted to the study of Western science and encourages awareness of cultural diversity The Encyclopaedia is the first compilation of this sort and it is testimony both to the earlier Eurocentric view of academia as well as to the widened vision of today There is nothing that crosses disciplinary and geographic boundaries dealing with both scientific and philosophical issues to the extent that this work does xi PERSONAL NOTE FROM THE EDITOR Many years ago I taught African history at a secondary school in Central Africa

A Typology of Numeral Systems in South Asian Languages Kumari Mamta, 2024-04-10 This book takes a journey into the fascinating world of numerical systems in South Asian languages offering a unique exploration of the intricate patterns cultural nuances and historical significance embedded within the numerical frameworks of the given languages It blends the discovery of new facts with the reinterpretation of existing ones while developing a methodology for investigating number systems that can be applied to languages around the world It is a groundbreaking study that unveils the complex linguistic patterns and socio cultural significance of numerical systems in South Asian languages offering valuable insights for researchers linguists anthropologists and language enthusiasts alike By bridging the gap between linguistics anthropology cultural studies and mathematics this book encourages interdisciplinary dialogue and collaboration by examining numeral systems from multiple angles

Decolonising Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) in an Age of Technocolonialism Nhemachena, Artwell, Hlabangane, Nokuthula, Matowanyika, Joseph Z. Z., 2020-03-02 Positing the notions of colonality of ignorance and geopolitics of ignorance as central to colonality and colonisation this book examines how colonialists socially produced ignorance among colonised indigenous peoples so as to render them docile and manageable Dismissing colonial descriptions of indigenous people as savages illiterate irrational prelogical mystical primitive barbaric and backward the book argues that imperialists colonialists contrived geopolitics of ignorance wherein indigenous regions were forced to become ignorant hence containable and manageable in the imperial world Questioning the provenance of modernist epistemologies the book asks why Eurocentric scholars only contest the provenance of indigenous knowledges artefacts and scientific collections Interrogating why empire sponsors the decolonisation of universities epistemologies in indigenous territories while resisting the repatriation restitution of indigenous artefacts the book also wonders why Westerners who still retain indigenous artefacts skulls and skeletons in their museums universities and private collections do not consider such artefacts and skulls to be colonising them as well The book is valuable to scholars and activists in the fields of anthropology museums and heritage studies science and technology studies decoloniality policymaking education politics sociology and development studies

The Future of Black Studies Abdul Alkalimat, 2022-07-20 A timely future oriented and necessary contribution which provides clarity to the multivalent tendencies in this field Carole Boyce Davies The marginalisation of Black voices from the academy is a problem in the Western world But Black Studies where it exists is a powerful boundary pushing discipline grown out of struggle and community action Here Abdul Alkalimat one of the founders of Black Studies in the US presents a reimagining of the future trends in the study of the Black experience Taking Marxism and Black Experientialism Afro Futurist and Diaspora frameworks he projects a radical future for the discipline at this time of social crisis Choosing cornerstones of culture such as the music of Sun Ra the movie Black Panther and the writer Octavia Butler he looks at the trajectory of Black liberation thought since slavery including new research on the rise in the comparative study of Black people all over the world Turning to look at how digital tools enhance the study of the discipline this book is a powerful read that will inform and inspire students and activists

Explaining Culture Scientifically Melissa J. Brown, 2015-07-23 What exactly is culture The authors of this volume suggest that the study of one of anthropology's central questions may be a route to developing a scientific paradigm for the field The contributors prominent scholars in anthropology biology and economics approach culture from very different theoretical and methodological perspectives through studies grounded in fieldwork surveys demography and other empirical data From humans to chimpanzees from Taiwan to New Guinea from cannibalism to marriage patterns this volume directly addresses the challenges of explaining culture scientifically The evolutionary paradigm lends itself particularly well to the question of culture in these essays different modes of inheritance genetic cultural ecological and structural illustrate evolutionary patterns in a variety of settings Explaining Culture Scientifically is divided into parts that address how to think about culture modeling approaches to cultural influences on behavior ethnographic case studies addressing the question of culture's influence on behavior and challenges to the possibility of a scientific approach to culture It is necessary reading for scholars and students in anthropology and related disciplines

Mathematics Across Cultures Helaine Selin, 2012-12-06 Mathematics Across Cultures A History of Non Western Mathematics consists of essays dealing with the mathematical knowledge and beliefs of cultures outside the United States and Europe In addition to articles surveying Islamic Chinese Native American Aboriginal Australian Inca Egyptian and African mathematics among others the book includes essays on Rationality Logic and Mathematics and the transfer of knowledge from East to West The essays address the connections between science and culture and relate the mathematical practices to the cultures which produced them Each essay is well illustrated and contains an extensive bibliography Because the geographic range is global the book fills a gap in both the history of science and in cultural studies It should find a place on the bookshelves of advanced undergraduate students graduate students and scholars as well as in libraries serving those groups

Faith in Flux

Devaka Premawardhana,2018-04-20 Anthropologist Devaka Premawardhana arrived in Africa to study the much reported explosion of Pentecostalism the spread of which has indeed been massive It is the continent's fastest growing form of Christianity and one of the world's fastest growing religious movements Yet Premawardhana found no evidence for this in the province of Mozambique where he worked His research suggests that much can be gained by including such places in the story of global Christianity by shifting attention from the well known places where Pentecostal churches flourish to the unfamiliar places where they fail In Faith in Flux Premawardhana documents the ambivalence with which Pentecostalism has been received by the Makhuwa an indigenous and historically mobile people of northern Mozambique The Makhuwa are not averse to the newly arrived churches many relate to them powerfully Few however remain in them permanently Pentecostalism has not firmly taken root because it is seen as one potential path among many a pragmatic and pluralistic outlook befitting a people accustomed to life on the move This phenomenon parallels other historical developments from responses to colonial and postcolonial intrusions to patterns of circular migration between rural villages and rising cities But Premawardhana primarily attributes the religious fluidity he observed to an underlying existential mobility an experimental disposition cultivated by the Makhuwa in their pre Pentecostal pasts and carried by them into their post Pentecostal futures Faith in Flux aims not to downplay the influence of global forces on local worlds but to recognize that such forces explosive though they may be never succeed in capturing the everyday intricacies of actual lives
