Understanding the Many Faces of Human Security Kamrul Hossain, Anna Petrétei, 2016-07-18 Understanding the Many Faces of Human Security Perspectives of Northern Indigenous Peoples addresses the different aspects of the human security challenges threatening Northern indigenous peoples These peoples whose unique nature based livelihoods maintain their identity face difficulties linked to a changing natural and social environment Their traditional worldviews are challenged as the world they have known for generations is literally melting away The North experiences numerous pressures linked to rapid modernization industrialization demographic pressure and cultural changes These threats are presented from various angles such as indigenous understanding of security governance sustainability livelihood practices mining nature based resources and land use management gender and the elderly The focus groups of the book are the Ainu Inuit Nenets Sami and the Mongolian indigenous herders Polar Shift: The Arctic Sustained Joseph F. C.

DiMento, 2022-05-10 Polar Shift addresses how to sustain the Arctic's richness beauty and local and global value It describes programs specifically created to protect this region the great inventory of law policy and civil society activity targeting sustainability of the region It presents the Arctic and its present environmental health very broadly understood and competing ideas of how it can be maintained or improved with specific recommendations This is a book about the Arctic's past and how it was envisioned about its environment its people and their cultures Polar Shift describes how the changing of the Arctic matters and to whom It discusses what is being done to address threats to the Arctic's environment and describes an inventory of tools available to sustain the Arctic and its people New Challenges to Ageing in the Rural North Päivi Naskali, Joan R. Harbison, Shahnaj Begum, 2019-08-26 This book provides an underexplored view of ageing one that conceives older people as valuable resources in their communities as active citizens with both voice and an agency that includes the capacity for resistance It acknowledges that becoming old with dignity means also paying attention to caring good health services and the possibility of good death The book defines age and ageing as multiple culturally and historically constructed phenomena that are only loosely connected to the years of one's life In focusing on the peripheral North located in the Nordic Canadian and Russian north it highlights important questions and viewpoints that can be found and adapted to other rural areas The book answers the following questions What is the relevance of legislation and international legal agreements in ensuring the rights of elderly people under political and economic changes What challenges do geographic isolation changing age structure and cultural and ecological transformations pose to possibilities for meeting older people's needs for engagement in society as well as for their care As such this book will be of interest to all those working in population aging

Distance, Equity and Older People's Experiences in the Nordic Periphery Shahnaj Begum, Joan R. Harbison, Päivi Naskali, Minna Zechner, 2023-06-30 This book demonstrates how the largely neglected and multifaceted concept of distance can be used as a primary lens to expand and enrich our understandings of what older people say about their lives needs and wishes in diverse surroundings in the Northern periphery and beyond It asks how physical social and emotional distances shape older people's everyday lives and practices Contributions from leading experts provides interdisciplinary investigations into the experiences and stories of older people in the Northern periphery These insights demonstrate the utility of the concept distance when reflecting on the central aspects of contemporary ageing societies The book explores key themes such as care age politics technology intergenerational relations and migration providing perspectives that are applicable across a variety of international geographical contexts This innovative book offers a valuable theoretical and methodological contribution with critical new perspectives on ageing in relation to distances It will be of interest to students and scholars interested in sociology human geography health and social care ageing and gerontological studies gender studies and Arctic studies

The Evolutionary Roots of Reproductive Ageing and Reproductive Health Across the Tree of Life

Jean-Francois Lemaitre, Jean-Michel Gaillard, 2024-01-02

Critical Gerontology for Social Workers Sandra Torres, Sarah Donnelly, 2023-10-17 This original collection explores how critical gerontology can make sense of old age inequalities to inform and improve social work research policy and practice and empower older people With examples of practice facing research this book engages with key debates on age related human rights and social justice issues The critical and conceptual focus will expand the horizons of those who work with older people addressing the current challenges issues and opportunities that they face

Urbanization and Climate Co-Benefits Christopher N. H. Doll, Jose A Puppim de

Oliveira, 2017-02-24 Urban areas are increasingly contributing to climate change while also suffering many of its impacts Moreover many cities particularly in developing countries continue to struggle to provide services infrastructure and socio economic opportunities How do we achieve the global goals on climate change and also make room for allowing global urban development Increasing levels of awareness and engagement on climate change at the local level coupled with recent global agreements on climate and development goals as well as the New Urban Agenda emerging from Habitat III present an unprecedented opportunity to radically rethink how we develop and manage our cities Urbanization and Climate Co Benefits examines the main opportunities and challenges to the implementation of a co benefits approach in urban areas Drawing on the results of empirical research carried out in Brazil China Indonesia South Africa India and Japan the book is divided into two parts The first part uses a common framework to analyse co benefits across the urban sectors The second part examines the tools and legal and governance perspectives at the local and international level that can help in planning for co benefits This book will be of great interest to students practitioners and scholars of urban studies climate development policy and environmental studies

Strategies for Rapid Climate Mitigation Laurence Delina, 2016-06-10 To keep the global average temperature from rising further than 2 C emissions must peak soon and then fall steeply This book examines how such rapid mitigation can proceed in the scale and speed required for effective climate action using an analogy provided by the mobilisation for a war that encompassed nations the Second World War Strategies for Rapid Climate Mitigation examines the wartime climate analogy by drawing lessons from wartime mobilisations to develop contingency plans for a scenario where governments implement stringent mitigation programs as an insurance policy where we pay for future benefits Readers are provided a picture of how these programs could look how they would work what could trigger them and the challenges in execution The book analyses in detail one plausible approach to a crucial issue an approach built upon knowledge of climate science and on proven and demonstrated mitigation measures The book is meshed with a social and political analysis that draws upon narratives of mobilisations during the war to meet a transnational threat while also addressing the shortcomings of the analogy and its strategies The book will be of great interest to scholars students and practitioners of public policy climate policy energy policy international relations and strategic studies Emergent Possibilities for Global Sustainability Phoebe Godfrey, Denise Torres, 2016-06-17 It must be acknowledged that any solutions to anthropogenic Global Climate Change GCC are interdependent and ultimately inseparable from both its causes and consequences As a result limited analyses must be abandoned in favour of intersectional theories and practices Emergent Possibilities for Global Sustainability is an interdisciplinary collection which addresses global climate change and sustainability by engaging with the issues of race gender and class through an intersectional lens The book challenges readers to foster new theoretical and practical linkages and to think beyond the traditional and oftentimes reductionist environmental science frame by examining issues within their turbulent political cultural and personal landscapes Through a variety of media and writing styles this collection is unique in its presentation of a complex and integrated analysis of global climate change and its implications Its companion book Systemic Crises of Global Climate Change addresses the social and ecological urgency surrounding climate change and the need to use intersectionality in both theory and practice This book is a valuable resource for academics researchers and both undergraduate and post graduate students in the areas of Environmental Studies Climate Change Gender Studies and International studies as well as those seeking a more intersectional analysis of GCC Ageism, second edition Todd D. Nelson, 2017-05-12 Current research and theory from a range of disciplines on ageism discussing issues from elder abuse to age discrimination against workers revised and updated People commonly use age to categorize and stereotype others even though those who stereotype the elderly are eventually bound to become elderly themselves Ageism is found cross culturally but it is especially prevalent in the United States where most people regard growing older with depression fear and anxiety Older people in the United States are stigmatized and marginalized with often devastating consequences This volume collects the latest theory and research on prejudice against older people offering perspectives from psychology nursing medicine social work and other fields The second edition has been completely updated with new or extensively revised contributions The contributors all experts in their fields consider issues that range from elder abuse to age discrimination against workers There has been a relative dearth of research on ageism perhaps because age prejudice is still considered socially acceptable This book is still the only one that examines ageism in such detail from such diverse scholarly perspectives The contributors discuss the origins and effects of ageism and offer suggestions for how to reduce ageism as the wave of baby boomers heads for old age Contributors Yoav S Bergman Ehud Bodner Jennifer Barbour Piers Bayl Smith Daphne Blunt Bugental Maria Clara P de Paula Couto Susan T Fiske Jeff Greenberg Barbara Griffin Jessica A Hehman Peter Helm Sarah H Kagan Molly Maxfield Lynn McDonald Mary Chase Mize Joann M Montepare Todd D Nelson Michael S North Amanda Rumsey Jeff Schimel Laura

Interviewing is one of the most common techniques used to conduct qualitative research in the social sciences and humanities. As a result of globalization, researchers increasingly conduct interviews cross inter and intra nationally. This raises important questions about how differences and sameness are understood and negotiated within the interview situation as well as the power structures at play within qualitative research and the role that reflexivity plays in mediating these. What does it mean to interview Black women as a Black woman? How is ethnicity negotiated across various qualitative research encounters? How are differences bridged or asserted in feminist interviewing? These are just some of the questions explored in the chapters in this volume. Drawing on their recent research, the contributors detail their experiences of engaging in qualitative interviewing and examine how they negotiated the various dilemmas they encountered. The contributions challenge some of the assumptions made in early feminist work on interviewing, providing nuanced accounts of actual research experiences. This volume explores the practice and implications of conducting cross inter and intra cultural interviewing, bringing together researchers from a range of disciplines and countries to describe and analyse both its vicissitudes and its advantages. Climate Change Adaptation in Developed Nations James D. Ford, Lea

Berrang-Ford, 2011-06-27. It is now widely accepted that adaptation will be necessary if we are to manage the risks posed by climate change. What we know about adaptation, however, is limited. While there is a well established body of scholarship proposing assessment approaches and explaining concepts, few studies have examined if and how adaptation is taking place at a national or regional level. Systemic Crises of Global Climate Change Phoebe Godfrey, Denise Torres, 2016-04-14

Sociological literature tends to view the social categories of race, class and gender as distinct and has avoided discussing how multiple intersections inform and contribute to experiences of injustice and inequity. This limited focus is clearly inadequate. Systemic Crises of Global Climate Change is an edited volume of 49 international interdisciplinary contributions addressing global climate change (GCC) by intentionally engaging with the issues of race, gender and class through an intersectional lens. The volume challenges and inspires readers to foster new theoretical and practical linkages and think beyond the traditional and oftentimes reductionist environmental science frame by examining issues within their turbulent political, cultural and personal landscapes. Varied media and writing styles invite students and educators to reflexively engage different yet complementary approaches to GCC analysis and interpretation, mirroring the disparate voices and viewpoints within the field. The second volume, Emergent Possibilities for Sustainability, will take a similar approach but will examine the possibilities for solutions as in the quest for global sustainability. This book is a valuable resource for academics, researchers and both undergraduate and post graduate students in the areas of Environmental Studies, Climate Change, Gender Studies and International studies as well as those seeking a more intersectional analysis of GCC. Minority Women, Rights and Intersectionality Alexandra Cosima Budabin, Jody Metcalfe, Shilpi Pandey, 2025-10-10. This collection focuses on minority women through the perspectives of minority rights and intersectionality to investigate key concepts such as discrimination inequality agency participation resistance and solidarity while also unpacking dynamics of power It presents diverse grounded empirical cases drawing on field research and data collection while offering a global perspective that explores intersectionality and its effects on minority women ascribed alternately by nationality religion ethno culture gender migration background and race in seven countries as well as in digital and international political spaces The authors include legal scholars political scientists sociologists and anthropologists who study inequality minority rights race and gender issues and the digital sphere This interdisciplinary concatenation of authors offers an advantage when working at the junction between intersectionality and minority rights Interdisciplinary in approach the book will be of interest to researchers academics and policy makers working in the areas of Human Rights Law Minority Rights Gender Studies Political Science Social and Cultural Anthropology and Sociology Anthropological Perspectives on Aging Britteny M. Howell, Ryan P.

Harrod, 2023-02-21 Taking a holistic approach to the study of aging this volume uses biological archaeological medical and cultural perspectives to explore how older adults have functioned in societies around the globe and throughout human history Idioms of Sámi Health and Healing Barbara Helen Miller, 2015-11-02 Ten experts document the strength of local communities using traditional resources for health and prevention Prevention of Chronic Diseases and Age-Related Disability Jean-Pierre Michel, 2018-10-30 This book explains how to promote and prolong healthy ageing which constitutes maintaining daily functioning and well being until the end of life In this context the editor of the book and the international team of authors all of whom are experts on the various aspects of ageing demonstrate the value of this new approach in clinical practice The systematic integration of a functional assessment if not a complete and comprehensive geriatric assessment is fundamental in daily clinical practice Identifying risk factors at midlife will help to promote health at any age Moreover randomized control trials are making it increasingly clear that interventions could help ageing and elderly adults enjoy their remaining years without disability Indeed wellbeing will also increase allowing elderly adults to stay independent until a very advanced age The book also shows how considerable societal benefits can be easily forecast when more lifetime is spent without disability followed by a dignified end of life This book will be of interest to all medical doctors general practitioners and organ specialists as well as geriatricians who want to have a complete overview of what healthy ageing means
