The Ghost's Child By Sonya Hartnett:

The Ghost's Child Sonya Hartnett, 2011-05-24 This is a romantic tale about a young girl's love for a boy named Feather. At the beginning Maddy comes home to find a teenage boy sitting in her living room. She does not know him but tells the boy the story of her life and her life with Feather. At the story's end we find the boy is Maddy's unborn child and she is dead. Ages 13. Winner of Children's Book Council of Australia Awards Book of the Year Older Readers 2008. Shortlisted for Commonwealth Writers Prize Best Book SE Asia and South Pacific 2008. The Gothic in Children's Literature Anna Jackson, Roderick McGillis, Karen Coats, 2013-10-11 From creepy picture books to Harry Potter, Lemony Snicket, the Spiderwick Chronicles, and countless vampire series for young adult readers, fear has become a dominant mode of entertainment for young readers. The last two decades have seen an enormous growth in the critical study of two very different genres: the Gothic and children's literature. The Gothic, concerned with the perverse and the forbidden, with adult sexuality and religious or metaphysical doubts and heresies, seems to represent everything that children's literature as a genre was designed to keep out. Indeed, this does seem to be very much the way that children's literature was marketed in the late eighteenth century, at exactly the same time that the Gothic was really taking off, written by the same women novelists who were responsible for the promotion of a safe and segregated children's literature. This collection examines the early intersection of the Gothic and children's literature and the contemporary manifestations of the gothic impulse, revealing that Gothic elements can in fact be traced in children's literature for as long as children have been reading. For Younger Readers; Braille and Talking Books, 2010 Children's Book Review Index 2008 Dana Ferguson, 2008-08-15 The Children's Book Review Index contains review citations to give your students and researchers access to reviewers' comments and opinions on thousands of books, periodicals, books on tape, and electronic media intended and/or recommended for children through age 10. The volume makes it easy to find a review by author's name, book title, or illustrator, and fully indexes more than 600 periodicals. Digital Talking Books Plus, 2011 The Publishers Weekly, School Library Journal, 2008 Talking Books, 2005 The School Librarian, 2005 Reading the World's Stories Annette Y. Goldsmith, Theo Heras, Susan Corapi, 2016-08-11 Reading the World's Stories is volume 5 in the Bridges to Understanding series of annotated international youth literature bibliographies sponsored by the United States Board on Books for Young People. USBY is the United States chapter of the International Board on Books for Young People (IBBY), a Switzerland-based nonprofit whose mission is to bring books and children together. The series promotes sharing international children's books as a way to facilitate intercultural understanding and meet new literary voices. This volume follows Children's Books from Other Countries (1998), The World through Children's Books (2002), Crossing Boundaries with Children's Books (2006), and Bridges to Understanding: Envisioning the World through Children's Books (2011) and acts as a companion book to the earlier titles. Centered around the theme of the importance of stories, the guide is a resource for discovering more recent global books that fit many reading tastes and educational needs for readers aged 0-18 years. Essays by storyteller Anne Pellowski, author Beverley Naidoo and academic Marianne Martens offer a variety of perspectives on international youth literature. This latest installment in the series covers books published from 2010-2014 and includes English language imports as well as translations of children's and young adult literature first published outside of the United States. These books are supplemented by a smaller number of culturally appropriate books from the US to help fill in gaps from underrepresented countries. The organization of the guide is geographic by region and country. All of the more than 800 entries are recommended and many of the books have won awards or achieved other recognition in their home countries. Forty children's book experts wrote the annotations. The entries are indexed by author, translator, illustrator, title and subject. Back matter also includes international book awards, important organizations and research collections, and a selected directory of publishers known for publishing books from other countries.

Children's Literature Association Quarterly, 1999 Books for the Teen Age, New York Public Library, 2001 Australian National Bibliography, 1996-12 Kaapse bibliotekaris, 2006. Issues for Nov 1957 include section Accessions. Aanwinsten Sept 1957.
