The Kindness Of Women By Jg Ballard:

The Kindness of Women J. G. Ballard, 2012-06-21 This is autobiography taken to the highest reaches of fiction another wonderful novel of scorching power shot through with honesty and lyricism Observer J.G. Ballard's Surrealist Imagination Jeannette Baxter, 2016-12-05 Making the case that J G Ballard s fictional and non fictional writings must be read within the framework of Surrealism Jeannette Baxter argues for a radical revisioning of Ballard that takes account of the political and ethical dimensions of his work Ballard s appropriation of diverse Surrealist aesthetic forms and political writings Baxter suggests are mobilised to contest official narratives of postwar history and culture and offer a series of counter historical and counter cultural critiques Thus Ballard s work must be understood as an exercise in Surrealist historiography that is politically and ethically engaged Placing Ballard s illustrated texts within this critical framework permits Baxter to explore the effects of photographs drawings and other visual symbols on the reading experience and the production of meaning Ballard s textual spectacles raise a variety of questions about the shifting role of the reader and the function of the written text within a predominantly visual culture while acknowledging the visual contexts of Ballard s Surrealist writings allows a very different historical picture of the author and his work to emerge The Psychological Fictions of J.G. Ballard Samuel Francis, 2013-06-20 J G Ballard self professedly devoured the work of Freud as a teenager and entertained early thoughts of becoming a psychiatrist he opened his novel writing career with a manifesto declaring his wish to write a science fiction exploring not outer but inner space and declaring the need for contemporary fiction to be viewed as a branch of neurology He also apparently welcomed a reader s report on Crash 1973 condemning him as beyond psychiatric help as confirming his achievement of total artistic success Samuel Francis investigates Ballard s engagement with psychology and the psychological in his fiction tracing the influence of key figures including Sigmund Freud C G Jung and R D Laing and placing his work in the context of the wider fields of psychology and psychiatry While the psychological preoccupations of his writing are very clear including his use of concepts such as the unconscious psychopathology deviance obsession abnormal psychology and schizophrenia this is the first book to offer a detailed analysis of this key conceptual and historical context for his fiction The Oxford History of Life-Writing Patrick Hayes, 2022 This volume is devoted to life writing in English from 1945 to the present day a period in which life writing became an increasingly popular and accessible form *J.G. Ballard Andrzej Gasiorek, 2024-07-30 This book offers a comprehensive account of the work of J G Ballard regarded by several critics as one of the most significant fiction writers of recent times Ballard s early science fiction writing earned him plaudits as one of the most innovative and individual voices in the field but his development as a writer has taken him far beyond the confines of any single genre This book traces Ballard s career from his early science fiction short stories and novels to his most recent work particularly his timely reflections on the role of violence in contemporary social life It argues that Ballard s writing is characterised by a distinctive vision of the post war world and its possible futures and suggests that his far reaching analyses of the present age make him one of the indispensable commentators of our time The Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century Fiction, 3 Volume Set Brian W. Spatial Politics in Contemporary London Literature Laura Colombino,2013-06-19 This book analyses the spatial politics of a range of British novelists writing on London since the 1950s emphasizing spatial representation as an embodied practice at the point where the architectural landscape and the body enter into relation with each other Colombino visits the city in connection with its boundaries abstract spaces and natural microcosms as they stand in for all the conflicting realms of identity its interstices and ruins are seen as inhabited by bodies that reproduce internally the external conditions of political and social struggle The study brings into focus the fiction in which London provides not a residual interest but a strong psychic phenomenological grounding and where the awareness of the physical reality of buildings and landscape conditions shape the concept of the subject traversing this space Authors such as J G Ballard Geoff Dyer Michael Moorcock Peter Ackroyd Iain Sinclair Geoff Ryman Tom McCarthy Michael Bracewell and Zadie Smith are considered in order to map the relationship of body architecture and spatial politics in contemporary creative prose on the city Through readings that are consistently informed by recent developments in urban studies and reflections formulated by architects sociologists anthropologists and art critics this book offers a substantial contribution to the burgeoning field of literary urban studies

J. G. Ballard's "Crash" Paul March-Russell,2024-10-31 J G Ballard s Crash 1973 remains a byword for transgression in literature declared too disgusting for words upon publication The basis for David Cronenberg s equally provocative film Crash has been regarded variously as the apotheosis of New Wave science fiction the ur source for postmodernism a transhumanist manifesto and a pornographic masterpiece in the tradition of Sade and Bataille This revisionist account based on previously unexplored archive material shatters the myths that have accrued around this tantalising work whilst also revealing why it continues to inspire writers artists musicians and filmmakers in the 21st century The book vividly reconstructs how Ballard came to write Crash the cultural landscape in which it was written the effect of its reception and the toll it took on its author New perspectives reveal how Crash reworks surrealist anthropology evolutionary theory and pornographic imagery in order to expose a society addicted to the abuse of power the silencing of others and its own environmental destruction As Ballard later admitted he must have been mad to write Crash

J. G. Ballard D. Harlan Wilson, 2017-11-10 Prophetic short stories and apocalyptic novels like The Crystal World made J G Ballard a foundational figure in the British New Wave Rejecting the science fiction of rockets and aliens he explored an inner space of humanity informed by psychiatry and biology and shaped by surrealism Later in his career Ballard's combustible plots and violent imagery spurred controversy even legal action while his autobiographical 1984 war novel Empire of the Sun brought him fame D Harlan Wilson offers the first career spanning analysis of an author who helped steer SF in new if startling directions Here was a writer committed to moral ambiguity one who drowned the world and erected a London high rise doomed to descend into savagery and coolly picked apart the characters trapped within each story Wilson also examines Ballard's methods his influence on cyberpunk and the ways his fiction operates within the sphere of our larger culture and within SF itself

The Parameters of Postmodernism Nicholas Zurbrugg, 2003-09-02 This ground breaking work offers a challenging and positive view of postmodern culture It draws on the author's extensive interviews with a number of leading postmodern artists writers and performers including Jean Baudrillard Samuel Beckett John Cage Phillip Glass The Parameters of Postmodernism focuses on both the prevailing negative theories of postmodernism and the more positive aspects of postmodern theory and practice The negative aspect is exemplified by the work of writers like Brecht Beckett Barthes and Baudrillard who emphasise the death of artistic innovation and the lack of a permanent reality Zurbrugg highlights the contradictions in the arguments of these writers and examines the later works in which they qualify their earlier more infamous statements The positive aspect is characterised by artists such as Cage Glass and Monk who interweave the new postmodern media with confidence and invention and Eco Grass and Wolf who revive mythological and folkloric traditions The Parameters of Postmodernism argues that in each case high tech or revivalist postmodern creativity culminates in a highly positive synthesis of past present and futuristic materials

Life Writing and the End of Empire Emma Parker, 2024-03-21 The dismantlement of the British Empire had a profound impact on many celebrated white Anglophone writers of the twentieth century particularly those who were raised in former British colonial territories and returned to the metropole after the Second World War Formal decolonisation meant that these authors were unable to go home to their colonial childhoods a historical juncture with profound consequences for how they wrote and recorded their own lives Moving beyond previous discussions of imperial and colonial nostalgia Life Writing and the End of Empire is the first critical study of white memoirists and autobiographers who rewrote their memories of empire across numerous life narratives By focussing on these processual homecomings Emma Parker's study asks what it means to be at home in memories of empire whether in the settler farms of Southern Rhodesia or amidst the neon lights of Shanghai's International Settlement These discussions trace the legacies of empire to the habitations and detritus of everyday life from mansions and modest railway huts to empty swimming pools heirlooms and photograph albums Exploring works by Penelope Lively J G Ballard Doris Lessing and Janet Frame this study establishes new connections between authors usually discussed for their fiction and who have been hitherto unrecognised as post imperial life writers Offering close sustained analysis of autobiographies memoirs travel narratives and autofictions and identifying new subgenres such as speculative life writing this book advances rich new readings of autobiographical narrative By tracing the continuing importance of colonialism to white subjectivity the role of imperial memory in Britain and the ways that these unsettling forces move beneath the surface of modern and contemporary literature this study offers new conceptual insights to the fields of life writing and postcolonial studies

Blending and the Study of Narrative Ralf Schneider, Marcus Hartner, 2012-10-30 The theory of Blending or Conceptual Integration proposed by Gilles Fauconnier and Marc Turner is one of most promising cognitive theories of meaning production It has been successfully applied to the analysis of poetic discourse and micro textual elements such as metaphor Prose narrative has so far received significantly less attention The present volume aims to remedy this situation Following an introductory discussion of the connections between narrative and the processes of blending the contributions demonstrate the range of applications of the theory to the study of narrative They cover issues such as time and space literary character and perspective genre story levels and fictional minds some chapters show how such phenomena as metalepsis counterfactual narration intermediality extended metaphors and suspense can be fruitfully studied from the vantage point of Conceptual Integration Working within a theoretical framework situated at the intersection of narratology and the cognitive sciences the book provides both fresh readings for individual literary and film narratives and new impulses for post classical narratology
