[School/Institution Name]

[School/Institution Address]

Dear [Recipient's Name],

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to formally request early graduation due to my upcoming enlistment in military service. As an [Your Year in School, e.g., senior] at [School Name], I have worked diligently to meet the requirements for graduation.

My expected graduation date is [Original Graduation Date], but I would like to request that my graduation be moved to [Requested Graduation Date] to accommodate my enlistment schedule. I have met all academic requirements and can provide documentation if needed.

Joining the military is a significant commitment for me, and early graduation would allow me to pursue this path while honoring my educational achievements. I appreciate your understanding and consideration of my request.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. I look forward to your positive response.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Reshaping Graduate Education Through Innovation and Experiential Learning Jenkins, Toby S.,2020-10-16 Discussions on the importance and impact of pedagogical practice on students as whole persons are often concentrated on the P 12 or undergraduate learning experience In higher education many institutions do an outstanding job of complicating the undergraduate classroom to include civic engagement community based learning education abroad social action and project based learning But what about the graduate classroom While there are indeed numerous graduate programs that push students to interact with strong meaningful difficult and sometimes harsh facts scholarship and ideologies the instructional methods have largely remained stagnant New methods of constructing deep and meaningful learning in graduate education is essential for the transformation and continued evolution of graduate school instruction Reshaping Graduate Education Through Innovation and Experiential Learning is a crucial reference book that offers practice based reflections on efforts to infuse creativity social action engaged learning or other creative interventions into the graduate classroom The book includes personal narratives that are grounded in pedagogical perspectives from graduate school instructors who share their experiences with innovative and transformative teaching practices The goal of the book is to encourage graduate school professors to engage social justice education as something to be experienced and practiced in their courses and not just as a concept to be studied As such the book covers topics such as self directed learning counseling and community mapping It is ideal for graduate level instructors in the field of education and other related social science areas as well as junior faculty as they establish a teaching practice or veteran faculty seeking creative transformation Real-resumes for Students Anne McKinney,2000 Instructs college students on presenting their work experiences from part time summer jobs to internships in a professional manner designed to display strengths to future employers Getting the Runaround John M. Halushka,2023-09-19 Getting the Runaround takes readers into the bureaucratic spaces of prisoner reentry examining how returning citizens navigate the institutional circuit of parole offices public assistance programs rehabilitation facilities shelters and family courts Drawing on three years of ethnographic fieldwork and forty five in depth interviews with formerly incarcerated men returning to New York City John M Halushka argues that the very institutions charged with facilitating the transition from incarceration to community life perversely undermine reintegration by imposing a litany of bureaucratic obstacles This runaround is not merely a series of inconveniences but rather an extension of state punishment that exacerbates material poverty and diminishes citizenship rights By telling the stories of men caught in vicious cycles of poverty bureaucratic processing and social control Halushka demonstrates the urgent need to shift reentry away from an austerity driven compliance based framework and toward a vision of social justice and inclusion Prison Boot Camps United States. Elliott,2002-02-15 Internet based surveys although still in their infancy are becoming increasingly popular because they are believed to be faster better cheaper and easier to conduct than surveys using more traditional telephone or mail methods Based on evidence in the literature and real life case studies this book examines the validity of those claims The authors discuss the advantages and disadvantages of using e mail and the Web to conduct research surveys and also offer practical suggestions for designing and implementing Internet surveys most effectively Among other findings the authors determined that Internet surveys may be preferable to mail or telephone surveys when a list of e mail addresses for the target population is available thus eliminating the need for mail or phone invitations to potential respondents Internet surveys also are well suited for larger survey efforts and for some target populations that are difficult to reach by traditional survey methods Web surveys are conducted more quickly than mail or phone surveys when respondents are contacted initially by e mail as is often the case when a representative panel of respondents has been assembled in advance And although surveys incur virtually no coding or data entry costs because the data are captured electronically the labor costs for design and programming can be high
