Under Every Roof Patricia Brown Glenn, 2009-10-19 This book is a delightful guide to understanding and identifying architectural styles for kids and their parents Why do houses look the way they do Why do some have small windows while others seem to be all glass Why do some hug the landscape while others are tall with very steep roofs Why do some people live in mansions while others live in mobile houses Can you imagine a house that looks like an elephant or a shoe Children and adults will learn about the history of domestic architecture the styles of the houses we live in and the terms for the architectural elements that compose the buildings Use the pictorial field guide to investigate your own house then take it along on family outings to identify different architectural details Under Every Roof features more than 60 houses from 30 states and the District of Columbia that are listed in the National Register of Historic Places many of these are house museums that are open to the public Kids need to understand the house they live in so the book also includes a wide variety of regional styles and architectural types The full color watercolor illustrations add a unique gentle humor to the text

The Rise of Everyday Design Monica Penick, Christopher Long, Harry Ransom Center, 2019-01-01 This fresh look at the Arts and Crafts Movement charts its origins in reformist ideals its engagement with commercial culture and its ultimate place in everyday households

Compelling Form J. Donald Ragsdale, 2011-08-08 Compelling Form Architecture as Visual Persuasion is an assessment of the visual persuasiveness of buildings It demonstrates that architecture is as capable of social influence as speeches or advertisements are and that an awareness of this influence provides an insight into buildings cultural roles The book considers a diverse array of structures ranging from museums to performance halls to universities to cathedrals to governmental buildings to palaces and to skyscrapers Compelling Form is an important extension of theories of persuasion and visual communication to architecture and engineering The book bases its assessments on the elements of visual literacy and then on the elements of architectural design to demonstrate that buildings monuments and even such means of commerce as bridges affect the viewer in such a way as to have social impact

Legendary Homes of Lake Minnetonka Bette Jones Hammel,2010 Hundreds of cottages and cabins mansions and houses line the shores of Lake Minnetonka one of Minnesota s most beautiful lakes and site of the state s most coveted properties Legendary Homes of Lake Minnetonka invites readers into thirty of these dwellings built by families like the Washburns Pillsburys and Daytons Evocative words and stunning color photographs guide readers through these beautifully designed and furnished homes Portrayed in elegant detail are interiors of renovated Victorian cottages and rustic cabins as well as those of houses designed by modernist masters like William Lescaze and Philip Johnson Photographer Karen Melvin takes viewers through the front door showing living rooms furnished with Mies van der Rohe couches and chairs designed by Frank Lloyd Wright and walls adorned with works by Robert Motherwell and Damien Hirst Author Bette Jones Hammel relates the homes histories of ownership and details the many renovations they have seen over time renovations that have attempted to retain the homes

character and extend their lifespan For the best views of the exteriors of these homes you would need a boat To see the interiors you would need an invitation Hammel and Melvin have chosen the most interesting houses both architecturally and historically and painstakingly scouted out the best vantage points both inside and out to provide a personal tour of these spectacular homes The Prefabricated Home Colin Davies,2005-06-15 An account of prefabricated architecture around the world from McDonalds drive through restaurants to Ikea s flat pack house Kentucky Countryside in Transition Stephanie Bower,2024-01-12 Kentucky Countryside in Transition charts the rise of the American middle class at the turn of the twentieth century by examining the migration from the Kentucky countryside to the city and subsequently the suburbs of Louisville The formation of the middle class in Louisville was fostered by two factors a boom in white collar employment and the electric streetcar an innovation that fundamentally changed the urban landscape Ultimately a narrative of industrialization and modernity this study focuses on a group of forty two families who lived at the end of the Broadway Trolley line in an area that came to be known as the Cherokee Triangle This suburban neighborhood was dominated by white collar commuters who were driven to Louisville by a desire to get ahead but continued to embrace a nostalgia for country life In this meticulous three generation study Stephanie Bower follows this group of families as they make the transition from rural farmers and cultivators to city laborers and white collar workers By mining census records city directories and county records Bower carefully reconstructs the biographical details of residents in an effort to paint a picture of life in this streetcar suburb during this important period of transformation Regional studies of the middle class during this pivotal era are often overlooked in contemporary scholarship Consequently this analysis will be of interest to those researching Louisville middle class formation and suburbanization as well as to local genealogists tracing their family histories Stephanie Bower is professor emeritus of history at the University of Indiana Southeast She is the author of Famism The Impact of Demographic Factors on Family Structure and her articles have appeared in Hispanic American History Review The Americas LOCUS and Historical Methods Think Like an Architect Hal Box,2010-01-01 An award winning architect and educator demystifies the process of making architecture and explains why good architectural design matters The design of cities and buildings affects the quality of our lives Making the built environments in which we live work and play useful safe comfortable efficient and as beautiful as possible is a universal quest What many don t realize is that professional architects design only about five percent of the built environment While much of what non architects build is beautiful and useful the ugliness and inconveniences that blight many urban areas demonstrate that an understanding of good architectural design is vital for creating livable buildings and public spaces To help promote this understanding among non architects and those considering architecture as a profession award winning architect and professor Hal Box explains the process from concept to completed building using real life examples to illustrate the principles involved To cause what we build to become architecture we have three choices hire an architect become an architect or learn to think like an architect In this book organized as a series of letters to students and friends Box covers what architecture should be and do how to look at and appreciate good buildings how to understand the design process work with an architect or become an architect an overview of architectural history with lists of books to read and buildings to see practical guidance about what goes into constructing a building an architect's typical training and career path how architecture relates to the city where the art of architecture is headed why good architecture matters
