W.B. Yeats, Ezra Pound, and the Poetry of Paradise Sean Pryor, 2016-02-24 Emphasizing the interplay of aesthetic forms and religious modes Sean Pryor's ambitious study takes up the endlessly reiterated longing for paradise that features throughout the works of W B Yeats and Ezra Pound Yeats and Pound define poetry in terms of paradise and paradise in terms of poetry Pryor suggests and these complex interconnections fundamentally shape the development of their art Even as he maps the shared influences and intellectual interests of Yeats and Pound and highlights those moments when their poetic theories converge Pryor's discussion of their poems profound formal and conceptual differences uncovers the distinctive ways each writer imagines the divine the good the beautiful or the satisfaction of desire Throughout his study Pryor argues that Yeats and Pound reconceive the quest for paradise as a quest for a new kind of poetry a journey that Pryor traces by analysing unpublished manuscript drafts and newly published drafts that have received little attention For Yeats and Pound the journey towards a paradisaic poetic becomes a never ending quest at once self defeating and self fulfilling a formulation that has implications not only for the work of these two poets but for the study of modernist literature *W.B. Jacob Hartmann, 2022-09-04 In The Creation of God Jacob Hartmann presents a profound investigation into the evolution of religious consciousness and the conception of divinity Rather than a theological discourse the book is an anthropological and philosophical exploration that weaves historical analysis with contemplative insight Employing a particularly eloquent and convincing literary style Hartmann challenges the reader with meticulous research and narrative depth The work is grounded in the rich traditions of religious scholarship engaging critically with significant thought from a pantheon of philosophical minds thus situating itself securely within the broader literary context of metaphysical and existential inquiries into the nature of the divine and its role in human society As a thinker Jacob Hartmann is known for his incisive intellect and his ability to intertwine academic rigor with cultural history The impetus behind The Creation of God likely stems from Hartmann's lifelong fascination with the nexus of culture religion and consciousness His work reflects a deep seated drive to understand how mankind's perception of a higher power is constructed and the influence this holds over our collective cultural and ethical frameworks His scholarship is both reflection and critique of the enduring human quest to understand the unknown forces that shape our world This reissue from DigiCat Publishing meticulously reproduced for modern readers will undoubtedly captivate those intrigued by the study of religion and spirituality Recommended for scholars students of the humanities and intellectually curious minds The Creation of God offers a rich exploration of mankind's quest to understand and articulate the numinous With Hartmann's masterful assembly of ideas and historical contexts the book stands not only as a significant cultural document but as an enduring contribution to the discourse on the origins and impact of religious thought

Felch, 2005-08 Discover how this transitional season can reveal both the abundance and the limitations of our everyday lives Autumn with all its traditional images of colorful trees frost covered pumpkins and piles of wood stored up against winter's cold can be a season filled with anticipation The harvest the imminent onset of cold and snow the resumption of old routines and the beginning of the school year all require preparation and planning If summer has been something of a pause autumn helps us to see the passage of time more clearly Autumn is a season of fruition and reaping of thanksgiving and celebration of abundance and goodness of the earth But it is also a season that starkly and realistically encourages us to see our own limitations Warm and stirring pieces by E B White Anne Lamott P D James Julian of Norwich May Sarton Kimiko Hahn and many others in this beautiful book rejoice in autumn as a time of preparation and reflection when the results of hard labor are ripe for harvest
