To the Sea by Train Andrew Martin, 2025-07-31 THE TOP TEN SUNDAY TIMES BESTSELLER Vividly conjures a lost age FINANCIAL TIMES Hugely entertaining EVENING STANDARD A feast of anecdote SUNDAY TIMES Throughout the twentieth century the seaside service posters of Britain's railways promised fresh air and frivolity to millions of urban dwellers with the phrase To the sea by train A staple of modern British life the seaside getaway was intertwined with the train in whose compartments holidaymakers were shunted from smog-choked cities to sandy coves With his signature wit and anecdotal style Andrew Martin captures an era defined by its railways from the development of Brighton and Scarborough into pleasure resorts and the introduction of bank holidays and two-day weekends to the advent of cheap flights and the British coast's subsequent decline Humorous and evocative To the Sea by Train takes a charming tour through Britain's most beloved pastime A standalone classic COUNTRY LIFE Infectious SPECTATOR The Midland Counties and the East Coast of England, 1853 The March of Wales 1067-1300 Max Lieberman, 2018-06-15 By 1300 a region often referred to as the March of Wales had been created between England and the Principality of Wales This March consisted of some forty castle-centred lordships extending along the Anglo-Welsh border and also across southern Wales It took shape over more than two centuries between the Norman conquest of England 1066 and the English conquest of Wales 1283 and is mentioned in Magna Carta 1215 It was a highly distinctive part of the political geography of Britain for much of the Middle Ages yet the medieval March has long vanished and today expressions like the marches are used rather vaguely to refer to the Welsh Borders What was the medieval March of Wales How and why was it created The March of Wales 1067-1300 A Borderland of Medieval Britain provides comprehensible and concise answers to such questions With the aid of maps a list of key dates and source material such as the writings of Gerald of Wales c 1146-1223 this book also places the March in the context of current academic debates on the frontiers peoples and countries of the medieval British Isles A guide through North Wales, including Anglesey, Caernarvonshire, Denbighshire, Flintshire ... with a notice of the geology of the country, by A.C. Ramsay William Cathrall, 1860 Mediaeval Cheshire, Birds In Counties: An Ornithological Bibliography Of The Counties Of England, Wales, Scotland And The Isle Of Man David K Ballance, 2000-05-05 This is an ornithological bibliography for the counties of England Wales and Scotland and for the Isle of Man It includes all known books pamphlets and papers which contain substantial studies of the birds of local areas from a county down to a back garden or a gravel pit Each county has an introduction on its boundaries and the history of its ornithology There has been no comprehensive national publication of this kind since Mullens Swann and Jourdain's Geographical Bibliography in 1920 The volume also provides a detailed record of the many county and local bird reports and of the ever-increasing number of area surveys produced by statutory and voluntary bodies The material is arranged by the pre-1974 counties and takes the record up to 1995 There are maps to show the many changes in county boundaries since

1800 The book will be a standard reference work for libraries and collectors and for anyone interested in the rich and diverse development of local ornithology in its homeland From Abbey to Llandyvrydog Samuel Lewis,1845 The Land We Live in: The Midland counties and the East coast of England ,1856
