Science Research and Education in Africa Alain L. Fymat, Joachim Kapalanga, 2017-03-07 For various economic and political reasons many African countries lag behind the rest of the industrialised world in scientific and medical research and development However the presence of intellectual islands scattered across the continent gives hope that this is only a transient situation on the cusp of undergoing a profound and beneficial change For this reason the Society for the Advancement of Science in Africa was established to catalyse and contribute to this needed evolution Its mission is to contribute to Africa s economic advancement and sustainability through science research education and innovation This book provides a selection of papers from the Advancement of Science in Africa s third annual conference The conference was held under the overarching theme of science research and education in Africa with several important sub themes including but not limited to improving health research and disease surveillance education epidemic diseases with high mortality promoting women s interest in science careers fostering youth development with science education The collection illustrates how although the chapter contributors come from various countries and universities representing their own academic research they all share a common interest in advancing science research and education in Africa

China's New Sources of Economic Growth: Vol. 2 Ligang Song, Ross Garnaut, Cai Fang, Lauren Johnston, 2017-07-20 China s efforts in searching for new sources of growth are increasingly pressing given the persistence of the growth slowdown in recent years This year s book elucidates key present macroeconomic challenges facing China s economy in 2017 and the impacts and readiness of human capital innovation and technological change in affecting the development of China s economy The book explores the development of human capital as the foundations of China's push into more advanced growth frontiers. It also explores the progress of productivity improvement in becoming the primary mechanism by which China can sustain economic growth and explains the importance of China's human capital investments to success on this front. The book demonstrates that technical change is a major contributor to productivity growth and that invention and innovation are increasingly driving technical change but so far lumpily across regions, sectors, and invention motivations. Included are chapters providing an update on reform and macroeconomic development, educational inequality, the role of intangibles in determining China's economic growth, and China's progress in transitioning towards being an innovative country. The book also covers the regional dimension of innovation and technological progress by sector in agricultural productivity, renewable energy, and financial markets. Chapters on trade, investment, regional cooperation, and foreign aid explore further the mechanisms through which technological change and innovative activities are emerging locally and internationally.

Survivor-Centred Justice Ingrid Roestenburg-Morgan, Tim Murithi, 2025-02-04 This volume interrogates global perspectives and issues that constitute and characterize survivor-centred justice, exploring both conceptual and theoretical issues surrounding the definition of a survivor, practical considerations of what constitutes a survivor-centred approach to justice, and available avenues of justice for survivors of mass atrocities. In the first part of the book, survivor-centred justice is explored at the level of the International Criminal Court (ICC). The second part evaluates developments taking place at the local and domestic levels where traditional customary or local justice mechanisms find affinity with survivors in their quest for justice. The third part focuses on advocacy-based approaches being utilized specifically by non-governmental organizations (NGOs), multilateral and regional institutions such as the United Nations and African Union in support of survivors. In the final part of the book, future prospects for survivors in the promotion of peacebuilding and atrocity prevention are discussed. The discussions in this volume will be of particular value and importance to international and transitional justice scholars, including legal and development practitioners interested in survivor-centred approaches to mass atrocity crimes. Most importantly, it aims to be of value to survivors, survivor communities, and survivor-centred networks.
