Czech (& Central European) Yearbook of Arbitration - Borders of Procedural and Substantive Law in Arbitral Proceedings - 2013 Alexander J. Bělohávek,Filip Cerný,Naděžda Rozehnalova,2013-03-01 The Czech Yearbooks Project for the moment made up of the Czech Yearbook of International Law and the Czech Central European Yearbook of Arbitration began with the idea to create an open platform for presenting the development of both legal theory and legal practice in Central and Eastern Europe and the approximation thereof to readers worldwide This platform should serve as an open forum for interested scholars writers and prospective students as well as practitioners for the exchange of different approaches to problems being analyzed by authors from different jurisdictions and therefore providing interesting insight into issues being dealt with differently in many different countries The Czech Central European Yearbook of Arbitration the younger twin project within the Czech Yearbooks primarily focuses on the problematic of arbitration from both the national and international perspective The use of arbitration as a method of dispute resolution continues to increase in importance Throughout Central and Eastern Europe arbitration is viewed as being progressive due to its practical aspects and to its meeting the needs of specialists in certain practice areas Central and Eastern Europe the primary but not exclusive focus of this project is steeped in the Roman tradition of continental Europe in which arbitration is based on the autonomy of the parties and on informal procedures This classical approach is somewhat different from the principles on which the system of arbitration in common law countries is based Despite similarities among countries in the region arbitration in Central and Eastern Europe represents a highly particularized and fragmented system One shortcoming in the use of arbitration in Central and Eastern Europe is the absence of comparative standards or a baseline that would facilitate the identification of commonalities and differences in individual countries and help resolve problems that are common throughout the region The CYArb project aims to address this issue and provide a forum for comparisons of arbitration practice and doctrine in countries within the region and in relation to practices internationally It sheds light on both practical and academic aspects within these countries and compares those approaches to broader European and international practices This project will also foster a broad exchange of legal research and other information on the subject The third volume of the CYArb focuses on the blurry area which borders the procedural and substantial law Editors being motivated with an endeavour to provide the readers with complex insight into the problematic invited authors of Civil same as Common law jurisdictions to provide their insight and analysis on the problems of i.e. mandatory provisions of procedural same as substantive law issues of application of law in arbitration adjudication according to the ex aequo et bono principles issues of the burden and standard of proof and others The issues are presented on highly comparative basis provided mostly by practitioners who are simultaneously involved in academic activities The book is divided into four sections The backbone sections encompass the doctrinal articles of the authors same as case law analysis of the domestic courts from the region relating to the topic covering the case law of Constitutional General same as Arbitral courts of the countries from the Central European Region The rest of the book covers the news in the arbitration area same as interesting arbitration events or published articles and books of the authors from the region The new volume of the The Czech Central European Yearbook of Arbitration Borders of Procedural and Substantive Law in Arbitral Proceedings Civil versus Common Law Perspectives brings useful resource for everyone who is dealing with arbitration in all of its aspects be it an academic practitioner law or international relations student who seeks global compendium on the issue including an overlap to economic and politic aspects of the problematic Australian Intellectual Property Law Mark Davison, Ann Monotti, Leanne Wiseman, 2016 Updated to include recent important developments in Australian intellectual property law this is an essential text for students and professionals Calendars of the United States House of Representatives and History of Legislation United States. Congress. House, 2009 East European Faces of Law and Society: Values and Practices William B. Simons, 2014-10-09 This volume offers readers a multi layer analysis of issues of law and society in Central and Eastern Europe Russia and Ukraine This collection of thought provoking essays deals with a wide range of subject matter including constitutional administrative civil and criminal law as well as aspects of legal culture corruption corporate social responsibility and informal practices of judiciaries Throughout the volume readers are given not only a comparative perspective of current practices but are also offered a historical glimpse of law and philosophy in the region The conclusions and analysis offered by these authors from the East as well as from the West are supported by survey data literature legislation and court practice in the region and abroad Persuasion and Power James P. Farwell, 2012-11-27 Now more than ever in the arenas of national security diplomacy and military operations effective communication strategy is of paramount importance A 24/7 television radio and Internet news cycle paired with an explosion in social media demands it According to James P Farwell a former political consultant the US government's approach to strategic communication has been misguided Persuasion and Power stands apart for its critical evaluation of the concepts doctrines and activities that the US Department of Defense and Department of State employ for the art of strategic communication including psychological operations military information support operations propaganda and public diplomacy Farwell stresses that words deeds actions and symbols may qualify as strategic communication and aim to mold or shape public opinion to influence behavior in order to attain specific objectives advance interests or viewed from a military perspective satisfy or create conditions that produce a desired end state He contends that a message that is true consistent and persuasive is more powerful than any deception Persuasion and Power is a book about the art of strategic communication how it is used where and why Using historical examples Farwell illustrates how its principles have made a critical difference throughout history in the outcomes of crises conflicts politics and diplomacy across different cultures and societies This insightful volume will help communications officers policymakers and students understand when where and how they can apply the principles of strategic communication to advance national security interests Commentary on the Law of the International
