institutions in Uganda      Advancing Africa's Sustainable Development Alain L. Fymat, 2018-11-14 While many African countries lag behind the rest of the industrialised world in scientific and medical research and development the situation is progressively improving This is why the Society for the Advancement of Science in Africa was established to contribute to economic advancement and sustainability through science research education and innovation This book provides a selection of papers from the Advancement of Science in Africa s fourth annual conference The conference was held under the overarching theme of science technology and innovation in Africa with several important sub themes including but not limited to improving health research and disease surveillance education collaborating in research responding to epidemic diseases with high mortality in Africa and promoting women s interest in science careers The collection illustrates how although the chapter contributors come from various countries and universities representing their own academic research they all share a common interest in advancing science technology and innovation in Africa      Recent Advances in Intelligent Systems and Smart Applications Mostafa Al-Emran, Khaled Shaalan, Aboul Ella Hassanien, 2020-06-26 This book explores the latest research trends in intelligent systems and smart applications It presents high quality empirical and review studies focusing on various topics including information systems and software engineering knowledge management technology in education emerging technologies and social networks It provides insights into the theoretical and practical aspects of intelligent systems and smart applications      Statistical Abstract, 2016      Research and Innovation in African Higher Education Damtew Teferra,      Tropentag 2016 Bernhard Freyer, Eric Tielkes, 2016-08-25 The theme of 2016 is Solidarity in a competing world fair use of resources While on the one hand one part of the world is profiting from natural resources the other part of the world is suffering with hunger malnutrition human diseases low income violence and lately is also challenged through climate change There is need to rethink and engage in a fair share of all resources between the continents and nations This includes huge engagement into the management of natural resources to solve the long list of environmental threats expressed through ongoing erosion loss of soil fertility and loss of biodiversity and topped by climate change having strong impact on the productivity in agriculture fishery and forestry and the use and quality of water and of energy in the South      Disruptive Technologies, Innovation and Development in Africa Peter Arthur, Kobena T. Hanson, Korbla P. Puplampu, 2020-05-29 This book examines how disruptive technologies and innovation underpin the attainment of a broader development agenda in Africa Contributors show how distinctive forms of technological innovation can impact critical development processes For example disruptive technologies can deepen the ongoing democratic and governance waves in Africa specifically in the area of contested elections Similarly innovations in agriculture the environment and energy promote changes in value chain agriculture and the use of sensors to manage e waste and sustainable energy conservation are also transforming established practices Furthermore the role of disruptive technologies and innovation in education health financial services and the nature of paid work cannot be ignored Individually and collectively the authors discuss and highlight the mechanisms and initiatives that can contribute to the realization of the development goals of African countries especially in a period where disruptive technologies are rapidly changing how things are done As a result this book which represents one of the most recent systematic efforts to bring together dialogue on disruptive technologies in Africa will be of particular use and benefit to a wide and an eclectic audience The Report: Kenya 2014 Oxford Business Group,2014-11-13 The country has a strong private sector and received encouraging forecasts of new oil gas and water reserves which if harnessed appropriately bode well for future growth While a pending international court case resulting from prior elections provoked a measure of uncertainty the country s medium to long term economic outlook is robust With over 40% of the population under the age of 15 Kenya stands to benefit from a significant demographic dividend provided that sufficient jobs can be found when this population bulge enters the workforce The country has a reasonably sized industrial base competitive infrastructure and a large agricultural sector all of which offer opportunities for capital intensive investment Second Language Acquisition Christine Savvidou,2020-07-29 This volume presents a collection of current research on pedagogies practices and perspectives in the field of second language acquisition It brings together different aspects of learning teaching and researching a second language with chapters covering a range of topics from emotional communication pragmatic competence transformative pedagogy inclusion reflective teaching and innovative research methodologies The authors address a global audience to offer insights into contemporary theories research policies and practices in second language acquisition This collection of work is aimed at students teachers and researchers wishing to reflect on current developments and identify potential research directions The Status of Student Involvement in University Governance in Kenya Mulinge, Munyae M.,Arasa, Josephine N.,2017-05-05 This book examines the concept of the democratization of governance in universities in Kenya with particular emphasis on students involvement in governance processes and decision making Data were collected from members of the student community utilizing a structured self administered questionnaire and from purposively selected key informants and focus group discussants drawn from Kenyatta University representing the public sector and the United States International University representing the private sector The guiding argument for the study was that shared governance one of the principles of good governance is critical in enabling the universities to deliver their visions and the missions effectively The results revealed that while in principle Kenyan universities have embraced democratic governance in which all stakeholders including students have a role to play in practice they continue to violate the core principles of good governance particularly shared governance Specifically students who are major stakeholders in university education are largely excluded from significant structures of governance thereby limiting their influence and participation Although their representation is mainly provided via student self governance organs unions associations and or councils their effectiveness is undermined considerably by the lack of trust and confidence of the student body and the unending manipulation by top university administrators and external political actors Student active involvement in decision making is mainly confined to lower levels such as the school faculty and departmental programme. The authors call for a paradigm shift in the involvement of students in the governance of universities in ways that discourage the current culture of tokenism and political correctness that characterizes public and private universities in Kenya.

Handbook of Research on Equity in Computer Science in P-16 Education Keengwe, Jared, Tran, Yune, 2020-11-13. The growing trend for high-quality computer science in school curricula has drawn recent attention in classrooms. With an increasingly information-based and global society, computer science education coupled with computational thinking has become an integral part of an experience for all students given that these foundational concepts and skills intersect cross-disciplinarily with a set of mental competencies that are relevant in their daily lives and work. While many agree that these concepts should be taught in schools, there are systematic inequities that exist to prevent students from accessing related computer science skills. The Handbook of Research on Equity in Computer Science in P-16 Education is a comprehensive reference book that highlights relevant issues, perspectives and challenges in P-16 environments that relate to the inequities that students face in accessing computer science or computational thinking and examines methods for challenging these inequities in hopes of allowing all students equal opportunities for learning these skills. Additionally, it explores the challenges and policies that are created to limit access and thus reinforce systems of power and privilege. The chapters highlight issues, perspectives and challenges faced in P-16 environments that include gender and racial imbalances, population of growing computer science teachers who are predominantly white and male, teacher preparation or lack of faculty expertise, professional development programs and more. It is intended for teacher educators, K-12 teachers, high school counselors, college faculty in the computer science department, school administrators, curriculum and instructional designers, directors of teaching and learning centers, policymakers, researchers and students.

Handbook of Research on Nurturing Industrial Economy for Africa's Development Nafukho, Frederick Muyia, Boniface Makulilo, Alexander, 2021-03-19. A robust manufacturing sector is a necessity and a sufficient condition for any country's human and economic development as it creates employment and alleviates poverty. During this Fourth Industrial Revolution era, there is an urgent need in Africa to optimally utilize the existing resources to support manufacturing or else risk allowing the continent to fall behind in the industrial economy. Innovative strategies are needed that can unlock Africa's manufacturing potential by exploring key areas that may help Africa mature and launch modernized economies that will benefit the developed world's industrial economy. The Handbook of Research on Nurturing Industrial Economy for Africa's Development examines various innovations necessary for Africa's economic development, including drivers of the manufacturing economy such as education, agriculture, human capital, science, and technological innovations, language, politics, and business environments. The book explores strategies to increase Africa's economic diversity, complexity, productivity, and ultimately competitiveness, and for the continent to realize its manufacturing industrial potential. Further chapters focus on African countries' industrial economies in the African context and facilitating the fulfillment of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and the African Union's Agenda 2063. This book is a valuable reference tool for government officials, economists, industrialists, practitioners, stakeholders, researchers, academicians, and students interested in the industrial economic development of Africa.

Black Iconography and Colonial (re)production at the ICC Stanley Mwangi Wanjiru, 2022-11-25. This book explores the reproduction of colonialism at the International Criminal Court (ICC) and examines international criminal law (ICL) vs the black body through an immersive format of art, music, poetry, and architecture, and post-colonial critical race theory lens. Taking a multi-disciplinary approach, the book interrogates the operationalisation of the Rome Statute to detail a Eurocentric hegemony at the core of ICL. It explores how colonialism and slavery have come to shape ICL, exposing the perpetuation of the colonial and warns that it has ominous contemporary and future implications for Africa. As currently envisaged and acted out at the ICC, this law is founded on deceptive and colonial ideas of what is wrong in the world. The book finds that the contemporary ICL regime is founded on white supremacy that corrupts the law's interaction with the African. The African is but a unit utilised by the global elite to exploit and extract resources. From time to time, these alliances disintegrate with ICL becoming a retaliatory tool of choice. What is at stake is power, not justice. This power has been hierarchical with Eurocentrism at the top throughout modern history. Colonialism is seen not to have ended but to have regerminated through the foundation of the independent African state. The ICC reproduces the colonial by use of European law and ultimately the over-representation of the black accused. To conclude, the book provides a liberated African forum that can address conflicts in the content with a call for the end of the ICC's involvement in Africa. The demand is made for an African court that utilises non-colonising African norms which are uniquely suited to address local conflicts. Multidisciplinary in nature, this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of international criminal law, criminal justice, human rights law, African studies, global social justice, sociology, anthropology, postcolonial studies, and philosophy.
