A Strange Goodness? Stephen Ames, 2024-04-01 This book is about all the suffering and death produced by natural processes like tsunamis genetic disorders extreme weather events even before climate change and the whole evolutionary process leading to all living things on the planet The book is not about the violence men and women wilfully do to each other and to the planet Many people find all this suffering and death due to natural processes hard to reconcile with the belief that these natural processes are created by a God who is all powerful all knowing and wholly good They expect such a God to create a different kind of universe without such suffering and death The actual universe contradicts the universe expected This is good enough reason for many people to decide to give up believing in God who is the creator of these natural processes The book is an invitation for people to revisit that decision The book comes from the author co designing and co lecturing with his atheist colleagues in History and Philosophy of Science at The University of Melbourne a second year subject God and the Natural Sciences This took place over twenty years Students with a wide variety of beliefs enrolled in the subject from across the university The book has three chapters The first clarifies the problem in the problem of natural evil to ensure we are not talking past each other The second chapter gives my answer to the problem of natural evil I argue from this idea of God to the kind of universe we should expect God to create The expected universe is found not to contradict the actual universe The third chapter is Reality Checks nine ways of testing the account of the kind of universe we should expect God to create The book has an appendix where I discuss alternative ideas of God that are in circulation and address several other criticisms of the idea of God besides the problem of natural evil

Still Waters Run Deep John Swinton, Elizabeth MacKinlay, 2023-09-26 This book brings together theologians clergy people with dementia carers clinicians and others to offer a holistic interdisciplinary exploration of dementia which focuses not only on what dementia is and what it is not but more importantly what it means to live well with dementia and to find hope where sometimes it feels like there is no hope Located within practical theology and theological anthropology the diversity of perspectives on dementia presented in this book offers deep insights into what it means to be a human being to live humanly in the midst of difficult situations and helps us understand and navigate the complexities of the dementia journey In offering foundational practical and theoretical knowledge the book helps cut through the false consciousness of modernity and enter a world where personhood is defined not by our capacities or the loss of them but by God's loving presence. It offers a contextual theological framework to look beyond what we assume to be obvious and to recognize the hidden depths that can be discovered and encountered within individuals as they journey into dementia. In doing so, it takes seriously the lived experience of people with dementia and allows that to shape form and perhaps reform our understandings of God, human beings, and what it means to live well. Taken as a whole, the book posits that together we can reflect upon and act out a hopeful future that makes people's lives meaningful, purposeful, and loving even in the midst of the challenges that dementia brings. Still Waters Run Deep will be a key resource for academics, researchers, and advanced students of theology, divinity, and religious studies, gerontology, psychology, mental health, and nursing. The chapters included in this book were originally published as a special issue of Journal of Religion, Spirituality, Aging. Waging Peace, Building a World in which Life Matters Lalrinawmi Ralte, Stella Faria, 2004. Festschrift in honour of Gabriele Dietrich of Tamil Nadu Theological Seminary, social activist and feminist contributed articles on diverse aspects, predominantly on social status of women and feminism in India. International Encyclopedia of Human Geography, 2019-11-29. International Encyclopedia of Human Geography, Second Edition, Fourteen Volume Set embraces diversity by design and captures the ways in which humans share places and view differences based on gender, race, nationality, location, and other factors. In other words, the things that make people and places different. Questions of, for example, politics, economics, race relations, and migration are introduced and discussed through a geographical lens. This updated edition will assist readers in their research by providing factual information, historical perspectives, theoretical approaches, reviews of literature, and provocative topical discussions that will stimulate creative thinking. Presents the most up-to-date and comprehensive coverage on the topic of human geography. Contains extensive scope and depth of coverage. Emphasizes how geographers interact with, understand, and contribute to problem solving in the contemporary world. Places an emphasis on how geography is relevant in a social and interdisciplinary context. Decolonizing Development and Religion Joerg Rieger, Sanjana Das, 2025-05-30. Discourses of development have been part of the modern world for good or for ill. In the past, various colonialisms have been justified by the notion of development, but so have efforts to provide alternatives to colonization. In this volume, present-day development and decolonial discourses are engaged together from a plurality of perspectives from various continents around the globe. In the chapters that follow, the work of junior and senior scholars enters into conversation around specific communities that exist in the tensions of traditional and capitalist economies and religions, providing models of flourishing that produce alternatives to the prevalent neoliberal models of development that are wedded to neocolonial economic, political, and religious structures. Part of a new series of volumes co-published with the Council for World Missions' DARE: Discernment And Radical Engagement programme. Globalization, Multipolarity and Great Power Competition Hanna Samir Kassab, 2022-07-15. In his new book, Hanna Samir Kassab examines changes and trends in international politics and the competition between great powers for control of the international system He argues that the increase in geopolitical economic nationalist and resource competition between three great powers the United States China and Russia points to the changing structure of the international system This competition is a systemic one focusing more on the rules and norms that defined the system since the end of the Cold War This American led unipolar order is translating into a multipolar one Kassab begins by tracing the decline of the United States after the Iraq War 2003 and the Great Recession 2008 as well as the rise of China and the resurgence of Russia He describes major foreign policy changes from George H W Bush to Donald J Trump and how the various administrations approached the international system Russia and China will increase their international influence as the United States pulls back from the international system Written using simple jargon Globalization Multipolarity and Great Power Competition is equally accessible to academics and casual readers and laypeople interested in international politics

Economics in Christian Perspective Victor V. Claar, Robin J. Klay, 2015-04-21 Victor Claar and Robin Klay introduce students to the basic principles of economics and then evaluate the principles and issues as seen from a Christian perspective This textbook places the economic life in the context of Christian discipleship and stewardship This text is for use in any course needing a survey of the principles of economics

Global Crime and Justice David Jenks, John Randolph Fuller, 2016-12-08 Global Crime and Justice offers a transnational examination of deviance and social controls around the world Unlike many CJ texts detailing the systems of select nations or books that merely catalog types of international crime Global Crime and Justice provides a critical and integrated investigation of the nature of crime and how a society reacts to it The book first details types of international crime including genocide war crimes international drug and weapons smuggling terrorism slavery and human trafficking The second half covers international law international crime control the use of martial law and the challenges of balancing public order and human and civil rights

American Empire and the Fourth World Anthony J. Hall, 2003-11-10 In The American Empire and the Fourth World Anthony Hall presents a sweeping analysis of encounters between indigenous people and the European empires national governments and global corporations on the moving frontiers of globalization since Columbus discovered America How should we respond to the emergence of the United States as the military commercial and cultural centre of a global empire How can we elaborate a global rule of law based on equality and democracy when the world's most powerful polity acknowledges no higher authority in the international arena than its own domestic priorities For Hall the answer lies in the concept of the Fourth World an inclusive intellectual tent covering a wide range of movements whose leaders seek to implement alternative views of globalization Larger than any earlier political movement the Fourth World embraces basic principles that include the inherent rights of self determination and a more just approach to the crafting and enforcement of international law

The Bowl with One Spoon: The American empire and the fourth world Tony Hall, 2003 How should citizens of the world respond to the emergence of the United States as the planet's sole superpower and the military commercial and cultural centre of a new kind of global empire This question poses the central dilemma of our time How can we elaborate a global rule of law based on principles of equality and democracy when the world's most powerful polity seemingly acknowledges no higher authority in the international arena than its own domestic priorities For Anthony Hall the answer lies in the concept of the Fourth World an inclusive intellectual tent covering a wide range of movements whose leaders have sought to implement alternative visions of globalization to those that have prevailed since the Columbian conquests began in 1492 Its basic principles include recognition of the inherent rights of all peoples to self determination and an enlightened embrace of the ecology of biocultural diversity role of the United States began at its founding The Royal Proclamation of 1763 which offered a qualified recognition of Aboriginal and treaty rights infuriated many Anglo American colonists Their resulting sense of grievance was articulated in the Declaration of Independence which proclaims the inalienable rights of all men even as it accuses King George III of having endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages The United States has never faced let alone resolved this fundamental contradiction in its founding document This failure manifested itself in the lawlessness and militarism that characterized US treatment of Indigenous peoples in the most formative phase of the country's frontier expansionism The exclusion of savages from the republic's founding ideals of human equality came increasingly to permeate US foreign policy culminating in the ethnic and religious prejudices colouring the so called War on Terrorism policies toward Aboriginals that have done much to shape the interconnected histories of the United States Canada Latin America South Africa Australia New Zealand and many other countries

The Routledge International Handbook of Sociology and Christianity Dennis Hiebert,2023-10-18 The Routledge International Handbook of Sociology and Christianity examines the intersection of the sociology of religion a long standing focus of sociology as a discipline and Christianity the world s largest religion An internationally representative and thematically comprehensive collection it analyzes both the sociology of Christianity and Christian approaches to sociology with attention to the Roman Catholic Orthodox and Protestant branches of Christianity An authoritative state of the art review of current research it is organized into five inter connected thematic sections considering the overlapping emergence of both the Christian religion and the social science the conceptualization of and engagement with Christianity by sociological theory the ways in which Christianity shapes and is shaped by various social institutions the manner in which Christianity resists and promotes various forms of social change and the identification diagnosis and correction of social problems by sociology and Christianity This volume is an invaluable collection for scholars and advanced students with special appeal for those working in the fields of sociology and social theory as well as religious studies and theology

Globalization & Identity Majid Tehranian,B. Jeannie Lum,2006 In the first decade of the twenty first century globalization and identity have emerged as the most critical challenges to world peace This volume of Peace Policy addresses the overarching question What are the effects of globalization in the areas of culture ethnic diversity religion and citizenship and how does terrorism help groups attain a sense of global identity Part I Citizenship in a Globalizing World reexamines globalization in light of the traditions from which human civilizations have evolved Linda Groff focuses on Samuel R Huntington s thesis that the Cold War would be followed by a clash of civilizations Joseph A Camilleri traces the history of the concept of citizenship and its transformation through the ages to modern times Kamran Mofid argues that the marketplace is not just an economic sphere but one where economic and business interests must embrace the spiritual assets of the community Majid Tehranian raises the problem of identity and advocates the assumption of global identity responsibility and citizenship Part II Convergence in Global Cultures explores the complex issues of diversity in religions Christopher Leeds Vladimir Korobov and Bharapt Gupt show how the reconceptualization of the world both geographically and regionally can recreate new sensibilities needed to overcome differences Part III Divergence in Global Conflicts discusses the multiple dimensions of the globalizing effects of economic expansion and political strife experienced by different cultures at local and regional levels Audrey Kitigawa and Ade Ogunrinade use Nigeria as an example of political manipulation of religious and ethnic groups to divert attention from the real problems of social and economic marginalization Fred Riggs looks at how the Web has become a medium in the globalization of religious movements The authors maintain that continuing efforts for dialogue across cultural and religious boundaries in today s interreligious and interfaith organizations can become a force for healing Majid Tehranian is director of the Toda Institute for Global Peace and Policy Research B Jeannie Lum is an associate professor at the University of Hawaii at Mnoa in the Department of Educational Foundations College of Education

Migration, Racism and Labor Exploitation in the World-System Denis O'Hearn, Paul Ciccantell, 2021-07-29 This book offers a historically sweeping yet detailed view of world systemic migration as a racialized process Since the early expansion of the world system the movement of people has been its central process Not only have managers of capital moved to direct profitable expansion they have also forced cajoled or encouraged workers to move in order to extract grow refine manufacture and transport materials and commodities The book offers historical cases that show that migration introduces and deepens racial dominance in all zones of the world system This often forces indigenous and imported slaves or bonded labor to extract process and move raw materials Yet it also often creates a contradiction between capital s need to direct labor to where it enables profitability and the desires of large sections of dominant populations to keep subordinate people of color marginalized and separate Case studies reveal how core states are concurrently users and blockers of migrant labor Key examples are Mexican migrants in the United States both historically and in contemporary society The United States even promotes of an image of a society that welcomes the immigrant while policy realities often quite different Nonetheless the volume ends with a vision of a future whereby communities from below both activists and people simply following their communal interests can come together to create a society that overcomes racism Its final chapter is a hopeful call by Immanuel Wallerstein for people to make small changes that together can bring real about real revolutionary change
