Civic Education Text Book:

Civic Education for SS 1-3 Nigeria. Federal Ministry of Education, 2009 Essential Civic Education for Senior Secondary Schools (SS1, SS2 & SS3) Gbenga M. Babalola, Igbino Chuks, 2015 The Routledge Education Studies Textbook James Arthur, Ian Davies, 2012-11-12

The Routledge Education Studies Textbook is an academically wide ranging and appropriately challenging resource for students beyond the introductory stages of a degree programme in Education Studies. Written in a clear and engaging style, the chapters are divided into three sections that examine fundamental ideas and issues, explore educational contexts and offer study and research guidance respectively. To support the development of critical thinking, debates between contributors are interspersed within sections and address the following questions: Do private schools legitimise privilege? Should the liberal state support religious schooling? Are developments in post-14 education reducing the divide between the academic and the vocational? Do schools contribute to social and community cohesion? Do traditional and progressive teaching methods exist or are there only effective and ineffective methods? Educational Research: a foundation for teacher professionalism. Each chapter opens with an overview of the rationale behind it and closes with a summary of the main points. At the end of every chapter, key questions are posed, encouraging the student to critically reflect on the content and suggestions for further reading are made. The Routledge Education Studies Textbook is essential reading for students of Education Studies, especially during second and third years of the undergraduate degree. It will be of interest to trainee teachers, including those working towards M Level A companion volume, The Routledge Education Studies Reader, by the same editors, contains key classic and contemporary academic articles and has been designed to be used alongside this Textbook.

Global Citizenship Education Abdeljalil Akkari, Kathrine Maleq, 2020-08-18

This open access book takes a critical and international perspective to the mainstreaming of the Global Citizenship Concept and analyses the key issues regarding global citizenship education across the world. In that respect, it addresses a pressing need to provide further conceptual input and to open global citizenship agendas to diversity and indigeneity. Social and political changes brought by globalisation, migration and technological advances of the 21st century have generated a rise in the popularity of the utopian and philosophical idea of global citizenship. In response to the challenges of today's globalised and interconnected world, such as inequality, human rights violations and poverty, global citizenship education has been invoked as a means of preparing youth for an inclusive and sustainable world. In recent years, the development of global citizenship education and the building of students' global citizenship competencies have become a focal point in global agendas for education, international educational assessments and international organisations. However, the concept of global citizenship education still remains highly contested and subject to multiple interpretations, and its operationalisation in national educational policies proves to be challenging. This volume aims to contribute to the debate, question the relevancy of global citizenship education's policy objectives and to enhance understanding of local perspectives, ideologies, conceptions.

and issues related to citizenship education on a local national and global level To this end the book provides a comprehensive and geographically based overview of the challenges citizenship education faces in a rapidly changing global world through the lens of diversity and inclusiveness UNESCO Guidebook on Textbook Research and Textbook Revision Falk Pingel,2010-01-01 Textbook History Harrison Stewart,Al,2025-03-11 Textbook History explores the surprising influence of textbooks arguing they are more than just educational resources they are cultural artifacts that shape our understanding of the world The book uncovers how textbooks have evolved from simple hornbooks to complex multimedia resources reflecting changes in educational philosophies and technology It also highlights how textbooks have been used to promote specific national identities and reinforce social hierarchies revealing them as sites of ideological contestation The book examines the construction of knowledge within textbooks across history science and literature revealing implicit biases and assumptions By tracing the historical development of textbooks the book reveals the shifting pedagogical approaches that have reshaped textbook design and content It connects to fields like media studies and cultural studies examining how knowledge is produced circulated and consumed through educational resources Structured in three parts the book progresses from the textbook s origins to its impact on students and society It addresses the ongoing debate about textbooks in the digital age considering their adaptation and the benefits of digital formats This unique approach offers valuable insights for educators policymakers and anyone interested in the history of education and the dynamics of learning

Diagrams in Civic Education Janne Holmén,Ann-Sofie Jägerskog,Daniel Schumann,Malin Tväråna,2024-08-28 This book presents the findings of three studies on the use of diagrams in civic education The first study presents an international comparison of textbook diagrams promoting national unity in diversity with examples from ten countries The second focuses on the depiction of migration in diagrammatic form in German textbooks The final study was conducted in collaboration with teachers in Swedish social science classrooms and focuses on teaching comprehension of flow charts and scatterplots The book will be of interest to scholars of educational media didactics the history of education and citizenship education

Global Migration, Diversity, and Civic Education James A. Banks,Marcelo Suárez-Orozco,Miriam Ben-Peretz,2016 Mass migration and globalization are creating new and deep challenges to education systems the world over In this volume some of the world s leading researchers in multicultural education and immigration discuss critical issues related to cultural sustainability structural inclusion and social cohesion The authors consider how global migration is forcing nation states to reexamine and reinvent the ways in which they socialize and educate diverse groups for citizenship and civic engagement These chapters also address how schools can help migrant and immigrant groups attain the knowledge values and skills required to become fully participating citizens while retaining important aspects of their home community languages and culture Case studies from the United States and Israel are used to illustrate how these concepts are manifested in two immigrant nations Contributors Tali Aderet German Ayman K Agbaria James A Banks Zvi Bekerman Miriam Ben Peretz Amy

Research in Global Citizenship Education Jason

Harshman,Tami Augustine,Merry M. Merryfield,2015-06-01 Globalization is changing what citizens need to know and be able to do by interrupting the assumption that the actions of citizens only take place within national borders If our neighborhoods and nations are affecting and being affected by the world then our political consciousness must be worldminded The outcomes of globalization have led educators to rethink what students need to learn and be able to do as citizens in a globally connected world This volume focuses on research that examines how K 12 teachers and students are currently addressing the challenge of becoming citizens in a globally interconnected world Although there is an extensive body of literature on citizenship education within national contexts and a growing literature on global education this volume offers research on the work educators are doing across multiple countries to bring the two fields together to develop global citizens

The Social Life of a Herstory Textbook Massilia Ourabah,2020-05-22 This book studies the possibility for feminist educational change by examining a case study on the social life of a French gender and women history textbook Massilia Ourabah opens a unique and timely dialogue between two antagonistic sociological trends institutionalism and actor network theory ANT and more specifically the inhabited institution approach and the sociology of translation The structure of the book is dual it offers one version of the case study grounded in the institutionalist approach and another version grounded in the translational approach The goal is to show that through the introduction of institutional elements and the rejection of some of ANT's strongest assumptions the critical value of ANT can be restored and prove a useful framework for studying sociomaterial networks in education The book also engages with feminist pedagogy and discusses the implications of the case study for the prospect of a more gender balanced educational curriculum

Citizenship Education in China Kerry J. Kennedy,Gregory Fairbrother,Zhenzhou Zhao,2013-10-15

There is a flourishing literature on citizenship education in China that is mostly unknown in the West Liberal political theorists often assume that only in democracy should citizens be prepared for their future responsibilities yet citizenship education in China has undergone a number of transformations as the political system has sought to cope with market reforms globalization and pressures both externally and within the country for broader political reforms Over the past decade Chinese scholars have been struggling for official recognition of citizenship education as a key component of the school curriculum in these changing contexts This book analyzes the citizenship education issues under discussion within China and aims to provide a voice for its scholars at a time when China's international role is becoming increasingly important Federal Textbook on Citizenship, Introduction to Citizenship Education, a Teacher's Guide, 1943

Making Civics Count David E. Campbell, Meira Levinson, Frederick M. Hess, 2012-10-01 By nearly every measure Americans are less engaged in their communities and political activity than generations past So write the editors of this volume who survey the current practices and history of citizenship education in the United States They argue that the current period of creative destruction when schools are closing and opening in response to reform mandates is an ideal time to take an in depth look at how successful strategies and programs promote civic education and good citizenship Making Civics Count offers research based insights into what diverse students and teachers know and do as civic actors and proposes a blueprint for civic education for a new generation that is both practical and visionary Comparative Perspectives on School Textbooks Dobrochna Hildebrandt-Wypych, Alexander W. Wiseman, 2021-04-22 This book examines the discourses on nation building civic identity minorities and the formation of religious identities in school textbooks worldwide It offers up to date practical and scholarly information on qualitative and mixed method textbook analysis as well as the broader context of critical comparative textbook and curriculum analyses in and across selected countries The volume offers unique and empirical research on how internal educational policies and ideological goals of dominant social political and economic groups affect textbook production and the curricular aims in different educational systems worldwide Chapters address the role of school textbooks in developing nationhood the creation of citizenship through school textbooks the complexity of gender in normative discourses and the intersection of religion and culture in school textbooks An Introduction to Civics and Citizenship Education Keith Heggart, 2024-08-01 This book serves as a starting point for pre service teachers and researchers by providing a concise and thorough summary of key themes within the field of civics and citizenship education The field of civics and citizenship education is both complex and contested in local and international jurisdictions It is also a key site for political and policy interventions by governments and other interested parties While this activity makes the field a vibrant one it also means that it can be challenging for teachers and researchers to enter and understand the ongoing debates and discussions and the implications these present for their research and educational practice The book begins with a detailed examination of the history of civics and citizenship education from a variety of perspectives and in different locations It recognizes and documents how the place and importance of civics and citizenship education has changed over the last century and how this has been realized in various educational initiatives It also examines the current state of educational and policy level initiatives in civics and citizenship education noting the differences between different state and country approaches This book also undertakes a detailed consideration of the different typologies of civics and citizenship education that have been formulated by various researchers including notions like justice oriented citizenship activist citizenship and critical citizenship It examines the theoretical foundations of both active citizenship education and global citizenship education and how these have been enacted in school settings Furthermore it examines the place of citizenship in higher education institutions and non formal educational settings including practices and statements about the importance of developing global citizenship in these arenas It also presents a number of different case studies showcasing the variety of approaches to civics and citizenship education and discusses the opportunities and challenges educators and researchers face when researching and implementing it
