

Imperialism in Africa Document-Based Questions

Was the colonization of Africa by European nations an overall benefit to Africa, or was imperialism in Africa an overall evil that was detrimental to Africa?

Document A

For a student who had been in the South, Africa was a strange country.

This period of immigration had witnessed many wars. Most of these wars have been caused by attacks of white men upon so-called "lower races." They have resulted in the taking of territory by force. . . . The white rulers of the colonies live at the expense of the natives. Their chief work is to organize labor for their support. In the typical colony, the white settlers have and the colored population are owned by white foreigners. These holdings are worked by natives under their direction. The foreigners take wealth out of the country. All the hard work is done by natives.

Document B

The following is taken from a letter sent regarding developments of the "Effects of the modern State" in Africa.

Colonial rule brought new systems of transportation and communication. The Europeans introduced money, the built roads and railroads and the set up telegraphs. These improvements had also enlarged and diversified. They made travel easier. Many Africans, however, were forced to work on building projects for very low wages.

Roads and railways were built to connect plantations or mines to the coast. They also allowed colonial governments to extend their control. The new transportation systems encouraged the migration of workers. Further weakening family and village ties.

Other improvements contributed to population growth. Missionaries set up hospitals and doctors introduced better medical care. In towns and cities, improved sanitation and water systems helped people live healthier lives. Colonial governments also battled diseases that had killed many people in the past.
