A Subtle Sort Of Genocide:

Tatty, I Have a Lawyer, 1998 The Origins of Genocide Dominik J. Schaller, Jürgen Zimmerer, 2013-09-13 This year the United Nations celebrated the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide adopted in December 1948 It is time to recognize the man behind this landmark in international law At the beginning were a few words New conceptions require new terms By genocide we mean the destruction of a nation or of an ethnic group Rarely in history have paradigmatic changes in scholarship been brought about with such few words Putting the quintessential crime of modernity in only one sentence Raphael Lemkin 1900 1959 the Polish Jewish specialist in international law not only summarized the horrors of the National Socialist Crimes which were still underway when he coined the term genocide in 1944 but also influenced international law As the founding figure of the UN Genocide Convention Lemkin is finally getting the respect he deserves Less known is his contribution to historical scholarship on genocide Until his death Lemkin was working on a broad study on genocides in the history of humankind Unfortunately he did not manage to publish it The contributions in this book offer for the first time a critical assessment not only of his influence on international law but also on historical analysis of mass murders showing the close connection between both This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Genocide Research

Every Living Thing Jenell Johnson, 2023-01-03 This book examines the question of what we mean when we talk about life revealing new insights into what life is what it does and why it matters Jenell Johnson studies arguments on behalf of life not just of the human or animal variety but all life She considers for example the Standing Rock Sioux tribe's fight for water deep ecologists Earth First activism the Voluntary Human Extinction Movement and astrophysicists positions on Martian microbes What she reveals is that this advocacy vital advocacy expands our view of what counts as life and shows us what it would mean for the moral standing of human life to be extended to life itself Including short interviews with celebrated ecological writer Dorion Sagan former NASA Planetary Protection Officer Catharine Conley and leading figure in Indigenous and environmental studies Kyle Whyte Every Living Thing provides a capacious view of life in the natural world This book is a must read for anyone interested in biodiversity bioethics and the environment

Out of the Revolution Delores P. Aldridge, Carlene Young, 2000-11-01 The introduction of Black studies programs into institutions of higher education was a direct response to the mandate for change at all levels that characterized the civil rights movement and the social rebellions of the 1950s and 1960s In Out of the Revolution Delores P Aldridge and Carlene Young collect thirty one of the nation's top scholars to provide a complete reference for understanding the impetus for the development of and future considerations for the discipline of Africana studies Topics addressed include epistemological considerations humanistic perspectives the role of bureaucracy and the academic institution the social psychological political and economic dimensions the position of black women in the field and how the discipline has empowered the black student This invaluable resource for educators and students alike concludes with a look at graduates in Africana studies and their careers and a discussion of the future of the field New Directions in Genocide Research Adam Jones,2012-03-12 This edited book seeks to capture the range of new approaches theories and case studies in the field of genocide studies Genocide as Social Practice Daniel Feierstein,2014-05-14 Genocide not only annihilates people but also destroys and reorganizes social relations using terror as a method In Genocide as Social Practice social scientist Daniel Feierstein looks at the policies of state sponsored repression pursued by the Argentine military dictatorship against political opponents between 1976 and 1983 and those pursued by the Third Reich between 1933 and 1945 He finds similarities not in the extent of the horror but in terms of the goals of the perpetrators The Nazis resorted to ruthless methods in part to stifle dissent but even more importantly to reorganize German society into a Volksgemeinschaft or people s community in which racial solidarity would supposedly replace class struggle The situation in Argentina echoes this After seizing power in 1976 the Argentine military described its own program of forced disappearances torture and murder as a process of national reorganization aimed at remodeling society on Western and Christian lines For Feierstein genocide can be considered a technology of power a form of social engineering that creates destroys or reorganizes relationships within a given society It influences the ways in which different social groups construct their identity and the identity of others thus shaping the way that groups interrelate Feierstein establishes continuity between the reorganizing genocide first practiced by the Nazis in concentration camps and the more complex version complex in terms of the symbolic and material closure of social relationships later applied in Argentina In conclusion he speculates on how to construct a political culture capable of confronting and resisting these trends First published in Argentina in Spanish Genocide as Social Practice has since been translated into many languages now including this English edition The book provides a distinctive and valuable look at genocide through the lens of Latin America as well as Europe International Crimes Guénaél Mettraux,2019 This book discusses in detail the law of genocide its definition elements normative status and relationship to the other core international crimes It is the first in a four volume compendium from Judge Mettraux on the four core international crimes Genocide ,2020-12-15 In 1948 the United Nations established the Genocide Convention to legally define genocide as actions intended to destroy a particular group of people based on race religion ethnicity and other defining characteristics The goal was to prevent and punish future acts of genocide but a number of mass killings have followed since its establishment and in some situations whether these executions qualify as genocides is surprisingly unclear The viewpoints in this volume explore what genocide is and isn t and provide historical and contemporary examples of genocide Readers will examine potential political and social solutions to prevent future genocides Remaking Rwanda Scott Straus,Lars Waldorf,2011-04-18 In the mid 1990s civil war and genocide ravaged Rwanda Since then the country s new leadership has undertaken a highly ambitious effort to refashion Rwanda s politics economy and society and the country s accomplishments have garnered widespread praise Remaking Rwanda is the first book to examine Rwanda s remarkable post genocide recovery in a comprehensive and critical fashion By paying close attention to memory politics human rights justice foreign relations land use education and other key social institutions and practices this volume raises serious concerns about the depth and durability of the country's reconstruction Edited by Scott Straus and Lars Waldorf Remaking Rwanda brings together experienced scholars and human rights professionals to offer a nuanced historically informed picture of post genocide Rwanda one that reveals powerful continuities with the nation's past and raises profound questions about its future Best Special Interest Books selected by the American Association of School Librarians Best Special Interest Books selected by the Public Library Reviewers Transformational Collaborative Outcomes Management John S. Lyons, 2022-08-22 Transformational Collaborative Outcomes Management TCOM is a comprehensive multi level conceptual framework for system management and improvement This book provides a comprehensive understanding of TCOM by using person centered collaborative processes for decision making The issue with current human services systems is that there is a lack of access to care and that the system is focused on providing services as cheaply as possible TCOM focuses on helping the greatest number of people while maximizing effectiveness By fully understanding the nature of the business of helping the author seeks to offer ways to create and sustain effective and positively evolving helping systems He lays out a series of goal directed social change processes which allow people at every level of a system to begin a shift towards transformational practice and the emergence of transformational systems Building on three decades of work in a large community of scholars and practitioners this book will represent the first full description of the conceptual framework and will appeal to an interdisciplinary group of scholars across nonprofit management healthcare management and social work Children by Choice? Ann-Katrin Gembries, Theresia Theuke, Isabel Heinemann, 2018-05-22 During the 20th century medico technical advances such as the invention of the latex condom 1930 the arrival of the contraceptive pill on the free market 1960 61 and the birth of the first child conceived by in vitro fertilization 1978 contributed to the fact that in Europe and the USA the planning conceiving and making of children was increasingly perceived as a matter of individual and collective decision making Especially since mid century these societies underwent profound political economic and cultural evolutions In the realm of human reproduction the relationship between the possible the desirable and the permitted had to be continually renegotiated This volume examines in nine chapters how thinking speaking and acting changed with regards to reproduction and family planning throughout the modern and post modern period Applying an international comparative perspective the study specifically focuses on the role of value changes underlying these transformation processes The Black Elk Reader Clyde Holler, 2000 A compilation of essays by authorities on Black Elk The introduction explores his life and texts and the essays demonstrate Black Elk's relevance to today's scholarly discussions and consider his work from postcolonial anthropological and cultural perspectives Act and Idea in the Nazi Genocide Berel Lang, 2003-01-01 This work is an analysis of the ideology causal patterns and means employed in the Nazi genocide against the Jews It argues that the events of the genocide compel reconsideration of such moral concepts as individual and group responsibility the role of knowledge in ethical decisions and the conditions governing the relation between guilt and forgiveness It shows how the moral implications of genocide extend to linguistic and artistic presentations of the Nazi extermination of the Jews Economic Aspects of Genocides, Other Mass Atrocities, and Their Prevention Charles H. Anderton, Jurgen Brauer, 2016 This edited collection by 41 accomplished scholars examines economic aspects of genocides other mass atrocities and their prevention Chapters include numerous case studies e g California s Yana people Australia s Aborigines peoples Stalin s killing of Ukrainians Belarus the Holocaust Rwanda DR Congo Indonesia Pakistan Colombia Mexico s drug wars and the targeting of suspects during the Vietnam war probing literature reviews and completely novel work based on extraordinary country specific datasets Also included are chapters on the demographic gendered and economic class nature of genocide Memory Effects Dora Apel, 2002 Dora Apel analyzes the ways in which artists born after the Holocaust whom she calls secondary witnesses represent a history they did not experience first hand She demonstrates that contemporary artists confront these atrocities in order to bear witness not to the Holocaust directly but to its memory effects and to the implications of those effects for the present and future Drawing on projects that employ a variety of unorthodox artistic strategies the author provides a unique understanding of contemporary representations of the Holocaust She demonstrates how these artists frame the past within the conditions of the present the subversive use of documentary and the archive the effects of the Jewish genocide on issues of difference and identity and the use of representation as a form of resistance to historical closure The Genocidal Mind Jack Nusan Porter, 2006-05-04 The Genocidal Mind offers unique and under explored analyses of the Holocaust and the phenomenon of 20th century genocide within a sociological framework With reference to contemporary scholarly work and using the latest in social structural psychoanalytical post modern chaos and uncertainty theory Dr Porter attempts to explain why people dehumanize and kill other innocent people The author also probes the deviant sexual side of the Nazi party including the mind of Adolf Hitler
