Judgment and Salvation Dustin G. Burlet, 2022-11-03 This book contends the text of the Noachian deluge narrative categorically underscores all God did to preserve life in spite of the disaster Despite the picture of devastation that the narrative depicts the prominent emphasis of the text is on deliverance and redemption i e salvation not judgment The focus of the Genesis flood is acutely bent towards God s salvific rather than punitive purposes The arc of salvation within the flood narrative can be broken down into two main ideas Firstly God s intention for creation is not thwarted and secondly God commits himself to his intentions of creation God s intention for creation can be stated thus the establishment of order via covenant showing the sanctity of human life and the upholding of all life This involves in particular humanity as his image bearers including the lex talionis life for life principle

The Book of Books Thomas Fulton, 2021-02-05 Just as the Reformation was a movement of intertwined theological and political aims many individual authors of the time shifted back and forth between biblical interpretation and political writing Two foundational figures in the history of the Renaissance Bible Desiderius Erasmus and William Tyndale are cases in point one writing in Latin the other in the vernacular Erasmus undertook the project of retranslating and annotating the New Testament at the same time that he developed rhetorical approaches for addressing princes in his Education of a Christian Prince 1516 Tyndale was occupied with biblically inflected works such as his Obedience of a Christian Man 1528 while translating and annotating the first printed English Bibles In The Book of Books Thomas Fulton charts the process of recovery interpretation and reuse of scripture in early modern England exploring the uses of the Bible as a supremely authoritative text that was continually transformed for political purposes In a series of case studies linked to biblical translation polemical tracts and works of imaginative literature produced during the reigns of successive English rulers he investigates the commerce between biblical interpretation readership and literary culture Whereas scholars have often drawn exclusively on modern editions of the King James Version Fulton turns our attention toward the specific Bibles that writers used and the specific manner in which they used them In doing so he argues that Spenser Shakespeare Milton and others were in conversation not just with the biblical text itself but with the rich interpretive and paratextual structures that accompanied it revolving around sites of social controversy as well as the larger often dynastically oriented conditions under which particular Bibles were created

"I Come from a Pancasila Family" Suhadi, 2014 This book examines social identity transformations through interreligious relations in post Reformasi Indonesia It answers two questions how do Muslims and Christians identify and position themselves and others and what are the socio cognitive effects of their identification and positioning The objectives are first to gain insight into the relation between religious discourse and the lack of social cohesion and second to contribute to a theory and method of studying interreligious relations The study is based on 24 focus group discussions in Surakarta Central Java making a critical discourse analysis of them The book concludes that the interviewees use various classifications to identify and position themselves and others although these are not fixed but fluid depending on specific situations and interests The book advocates for a shift from the social identity theory to a multiple identity theory for studying religion and interreligious relations Series Interreligious Studies Vol 6

The Aesthetics of Antichrist John Parker, 2018-07-05 In Dr Faustus Christopher Marlowe wrote a profoundly religious drama despite the theater's newfound secularism and his own reputation for anti Christian irreverence The Aesthetics of Antichrist explores this apparent paradox by suggesting that long before Marlowe Christian drama and ritual performance had reveled in staging the collapse of Christianity into its historical opponents paganism Judaism worldliness heresy By embracing this tradition Marlowe's work would at once demonstrate the theatricality inhering in Christian worship and unexpectedly resacralize the commercial theater The Antichrist myth in particular tells of an impostor turned prophet performing Christ's life he reduces the godhead to a special effect yet in so doing foretells the real second coming Medieval audiences as well as Marlowe's could evidently enjoy the constant confusion between true Christianity and its empty look-alikes for that very reason mimetic degradation anticipated some final as yet deferred revelation Mere theater was a necessary prelude to redemption The versions of the myth we find in Marlowe and earlier drama actually approximate John Parker argues a premodern theory of the redemptive effect of dramatic representation itself Crossing the divide between medieval and Renaissance theater while drawing heavily on New Testament scholarship Patristics and research into the apocrypha The Aesthetics of Antichrist proposes a wholesale rereading of pre-Shakespearean drama
