Book And Extractive Imperialism Americas Capitalisms Frontier:

Extractive Imperialism in the Americas James Petras, Henry Veltmeyer, 2014-07-24 Recent changes in the global economy which include a growing demand for energy and natural resources such as industrial minerals and agro food products have brought about a massive devastating pillage of resources in the developing world by multinational corporations as well as states with energy and food security concerns and concerns about a system global capitalism in the throes of a global crisis These developments have also brought about a major change in the form taken by imperialism actions taken by the state to advance the interests of the dominant capitalist class This book explores the changing face of US imperialism in the regional context of the Americas a major stage in the unfolding drama of a system in crisis Peasants, Capitalism, and Imperialism in an Age of Politico-Ecological Crisis Mark Tilzey, Fraser Sugden, 2023-09-27 This book utilises a new theoretical approach to understand the dynamics of the peasantry and peasant resistance in relation to capitalism state class and imperialism in the global South In this companion volume to Peasants Capitalism and the Work of Eric R Wolf the authors further develop their thinking on agrarian transitions to capitalism the development of imperialism and the place of the peasantry in these dynamics with special reference to the global South in an era of politico ecological crisis Focusing on the political role of the peasantry in contested transitions to capitalism and to modes of production outside of and beyond capitalism the book contends that an understanding of these dynamics requires an analysis of class struggle and of the resources material and discursive that different classes can bring to bear on this struggle The book focuses on the rise of capitalism in the global South within the context of imperial subordination to the global North and the place of the peasantry in shaping and resisting these dynamics The book presents case studies of contested transitions to agrarian capitalism in Bolivia Ecuador Guatemala Mexico Peru and South Asia It also examines the case of transition to a post capitalist mode of production in Cuba The book concludes with an assessment of the nature of capitalism and imperialism within the context of the contemporary politico ecological crisis and the potential role of the peasantry as agent of emancipatory change towards social and environmental sustainability This book will be of great interest to students and researchers in the areas of peasant studies rural politics agrarian studies development and political ecology

The Palgrave Handbook of Africa and the Changing Global Order Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba, Toyin Falola, 2021-11-22 This handbook fills a large gap in the current knowledge about the critical role of Africa in the changing global order By connecting the past present and future in a continuum that shows the paradox of existence for over one billion people the book underlines the centrality of the African continent to global knowledge production the global economy global security and global creativity Bringing together perspectives from top Africa scholars it actively dispels myths of the continent as just a passive recipient of external influences presenting instead an image of an active global agent that astutely projects soft power Unlike previous handbooks this book offers an eclectic mix of historical contemporary and interdisciplinary approaches that allow for a more holistic view of the many aspects of

Africa's relations with the world

The Violent Technologies of Extraction Alexander Dunlap, Jostein

Jakobsen, 2019-10-15 Offering a thought provoking theoretical conversation around ecological crisis and natural resource extraction this book suggests that we are on a trajectory geared towards total extractivism guided by the mythological Worldeater. The authors discuss why and how we have come to live in this catastrophic predicament rooting the present in an original perspective that animates the forces of global techno capitalist development. They argue that the Worldeater helps us make sense of the insatiable forces that transform, convert and consume the world. The book combines this unique approach with detailed academic review of critical agrarian studies and political ecology, the militarization of nature and the conventional and green extraction nexus. It seeks radical reflection on the role people play in the construction and perpetuation of these crises and concludes with some suggestions on how to tackle them. Environmentalism of the Rich

Peter Dauvergne, 2018-02-09 What it means for global sustainability when environmentalism is dominated by the concerns of the affluent: eco business, eco consumption, wilderness preservation. Over the last fifty years, environmentalism has emerged as a clear counterforce to the environmental destruction caused by industrialization, colonialism and globalization. Activists and policymakers have fought hard to make the earth a better place to live. But has the environmental movement actually brought about meaningful progress toward global sustainability? Signs of global unsustainability are everywhere: from decreasing biodiversity to scarcity of fresh water to steadily rising greenhouse gas emissions. Meanwhile, as Peter Dauvergne points out in this provocative book, the environmental movement is increasingly dominated by the environmentalism of the rich, diverted into eco business, eco consumption, wilderness preservation, energy efficiency and recycling. While it's good that, for example, Barbie dolls' packaging no longer depletes Indonesian rainforest and that Toyota Highlanders are available as hybrids, none of this gets at the source of the current sustainability crisis. More eco products can just mean more corporate profits, consumption and waste. Dauvergne examines extraction booms that leave developing countries poor and environmentally devastated, with the ruination of the South Pacific island of Nauru as a case in point, the struggles against consumption inequities of courageous activists like Bruno Manser who worked with indigenous people to try to save the rainforests of Borneo, and the manufacturing of vast markets for nondurable goods, for example, convincing parents in China that disposable diapers made for healthier and smarter babies. Dauvergne reveals why a global political economy of ever more growth, more sales, more consumption is swamping environmental gains. Environmentalism of the rich does little to bring about the sweeping institutional change necessary to make progress toward global sustainability. Capital Movements and

Corporate Dominance in Latin America Noemi Levy-Orlik, Jorge A. Bustamante-Torres, Louis-Philippe Rochon, 2021-06-25

This book addresses the problems of Latin America through two of the most important features of the post-Bretton Woods economic order: large corporations and weak financial markets. In turn, it shows that their impact on economic growth and development is feeble and short-lived. This resulted in income concentration and an extremely unequal distribution of wealth.

in the region Medea's Long Shadow in Postcolonial Contexts Ana Filipa Prata,Rodrigo Verano,2024-06-10 This interdisciplinary volume explores the ancient Greek myth of Medea and its global analogues found in other mythic and folk tales of deadly exiled women such as those of La Malinche and La Llorona examining the connections between these figures and their depictions from antiquity to modernity The book considers the figure of the foreign woman her exile fratricide and infanticide in its ancient Greek form and in global postcolonial receptions in a range of media including drama film novels and the visual arts The chapters illuminate the contradictions of considering the classical Medea as a central reference point for analysis of other female figures from peripheral territories while simultaneously acknowledging the insights that such comparisons can yield Emphasizing the ways in which Medea s seditious nature enables the establishment of an extensive and heterogeneous intertextual network with other mythic characters who represent a similarly disruptive role in their specific local historical and cultural contexts the book argues for a comparative analysis that is equally attentive to myths and folk tales from all regions These essays by scholars of classics comparative and world literatures and postcolonial studies represent a plurality of perspectives from different academic contexts in Africa Latin America North America and Europe and examine how different cultures have depicted women foreigners crime and abjection The foundations of Greek myth and subsequently of the classical tradition itself are interrogated from a postcolonial perspective In tracing the portrayals of Medea and other mythic women through the overlapping features of different female characters and plots and intertwining local cultural and literary materials with broader debates this volume challenges Eurocentric narratives of power and cultural domination and works to decentralize the discussion of Medea from the exclusive domain of classical studies Medea s Long Shadow in Postcolonial Contexts will be of interest to students and scholars working on Greek tragedy and its reception as well as to those studying postcolonial and global approaches to literature culture and gender studies

Research Handbook on Democracy and Development Gordon Crawford,Abdul-Gafaru Abdulai,2021-03-26 Exploring and updating the controversial debates about the relationship between democracy and development this Research Handbook provides clarification on the complex and nuanced interlinkages between political regime type and socio economic development Distinguished scholars examine a broad range of issues from multidisciplinary perspectives across Africa Asia Europe Latin America and the Middle East Collective Empowerment in Latin America Gerardo Otero,Efe Can Gürcan,2024-06-20 This book develops a theory of collective empowerment that looks for change both from the bottom up in civil society and from the top down from state interventions responding to such pressure Reflecting on the advancement of Indigenous and peasant movements in Latin America since the neoliberal reformation of capitalism in the 1980s the book outlines a path for progressive social action in which bottom up pressure by social movements can help progressive parties to gain state power The book considers how Indigenous and peasant movements in Argentina Bolivia Brazil Ecuador and Mexico have tried to reshape crucial structures of society from the bottom up While this mobilization from below is critical and necessary the book argues that these movements must be supplemented by top down change from progressive state interventions as happened mostly in Bolivia and Brazil The authors conclude that progressive societal action can have massive impact in transforming some of the main socioeconomic structures that determine humans relation to the extraction of natural resources income and wealth inequality and even the location of a nation s insertion in world capitalism This book will be an important resource for social movement activists and for researchers working in political sociology sociological theory political studies development studies social movements and Latin American Studies The Oxford Handbook of Land Politics Saturnino M. Borrás, Jennifer C. Franco, Researcher Jennifer C Franco, 2025 Access to land in all its multiple meanings is necessarily diverse complex and contentious and facilitating and maintaining such access constitutes a mosaic of social relations and institutional instruments rather than the minimalist and simplistic reduction of land to land property that in turn tends to be interpreted always as individual private property The Oxford Handbook of Land Politics offers heterodox analytical tools to help the reader make sense of the complexity of the politics of land Marxist Theories of Imperialism Murray Noonan, 2019-12-26 For Marxists imperialism is the highest stage of capitalism Critical analysis of imperialism has been a feature of Marxist throughout the twentieth century The conceptualising and theorising of imperialism by Marxists has evolved over time in response to developments in the global capitalist economy and in international politics Murray Noonan here provides the first complete analysis of Marxist theories of imperialism in over two decades Presenting three phases of imperialist theories he analyses and compares Classical Neo and Globalisation era Marxist theories of imperialism The book moves chronologically tracking the origins of imperialism theorised by J A Hobson at the beginning of the twentieth century up to the present day He critically identifies and engages with a new Globalisation era phase of Marxist imperialism theory Through a detailed scholarly analysis of the history and evolution of these theories Noonan offers vital new perspectives on imperialist theory and its relevance and application in the twenty first century Neoextractivism and Capitalist Development Dennis C. Canterbury, 2018-05-15 The large scale extraction of natural resources for sale in capitalist markets is not a new phenomenon but in recent years global demand for resources has increased leading to greater attention to the role of resource extraction in the development of the exporting countries The term neoextractivism was coined to refer to the complex of state private sector policies intended to utilize the income from natural resources sales for development objectives and for improving the lives of a country s citizens However this book argues that neoextractivism is merely another conduit for capitalist development reinforcing the position of elites with few benefits for working people With particular reference to the role of neoextractivism within Latin America and the Caribbean using Guyana as a case study the book aims to provide readers with the tools they need to critically analyze neoextractivism as a development model identifying alternative paths for improving the human condition This book will be of interest to academics and students in the fields of international development political economy sociology and globalization as well as to policymakers and political activists engaged in social movements in the natural resources sector

Visualizing Loss in Latin America Gisela

Heffes, 2023-05-19 Visualizing Loss in Latin America engages with a varied corpus of textual visual and cultural material with specific intersections with the natural world arguing that Latin American literary and cultural production goes beyond ecocriticism as a theoretical framework of analysis Gisela Heffes poses the following crucial question How do we construct a conceptual theoretical apparatus to address issues of value meaning tradition perspective and language that contributes substantially to environmental thinking and that is part and parcel of Latin America The book draws attention to ecological inequality and establishes a biopolitical ethics based reading of Latin American art film and literature that operates at the intersection of the built environment and urban settings Heffes suggests that the aesthetic praxis that emerges in from Latin America is permeated with a rhetoric of waste a significant trait that overwhelmingly defines it

After the Pink Tide

Marina Gold, Alessandro Zagato, 2020-03-01 The left wing Pink Tide movement that swept across Latin America seems now to be overturned as a new wave of free market thinkers emerge across the continent This book analyses the emergence of corporate power within Latin America and the response of egalitarian movements across the continent trying to break open the constraints of the state Through an ethnographically grounded and localized anthropological perspective this book argues that at a time when the regular structures of political participation have been ruptured the Latin American context reveals multiple expressions of egalitarian movements that strive and sometimes momentarily manage to break through the state's apparatus

Climate Change and Critical Agrarian Studies Ian Scoones, Saturnino M. Borrás Jr., Amita Baviskar, Marc

Edelman, Nancy Lee Peluso, Wendy Wolford, 2023-11-30 Climate change is perhaps the greatest threat to humanity today and plays out as a cruel engine of myriad forms of injustice violence and destruction The effects of climate change from human made emissions of greenhouse gases are devastating and accelerating yet are uncertain and uneven both in terms of geography and socio economic impacts Emerging from the dynamics of capitalism since the industrial revolution as well as industrialisation under state led socialism the consequences of climate change are especially profound for the countryside and its inhabitants The book interrogates the narratives and strategies that frame climate change and examines the institutionalised responses in agrarian settings highlighting what exclusions and inclusions result It explores how different people in relation to class and other co constituted axes of social difference such as gender race ethnicity age and occupation are affected by climate change as well as the climate adaptation and mitigation responses being implemented in rural areas The book in turn explores how climate change and the responses to it affect processes of social differentiation trajectories of accumulation and in turn agrarian politics Finally the book examines what strategies are required to confront climate change and the underlying political economic dynamics that cause it reflecting on what this means for agrarian struggles across the world The 26 chapters in this volume explore how the relationship between capitalism and climate change plays out in the rural world and in particular the way agrarian struggles connect with the huge challenge of climate change Through a huge variety of case studies alongside more conceptual chapters the book makes the often missing connection between climate change and critical agrarian studies The book argues that making the connection between climate and agrarian justice is crucial The chapters in this book were originally published in The Journal of Peasant Studies The Open Access version of this book available at <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/oa-edit/10.4324/9781003467960/climate-change-critical-agrarian-studies-ian-scoones-saturnino-borras-jr-amita-baviskar-marc-edelman-nancy-lee-peluso-wendy-wolford> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license A version of the open access title is also available on the OAPEN platform <https://library.oapen.org/handle/20.500.12657/85297> The SAGE Handbook of Political Sociology, 2v William Outhwaite, Stephen Turner, 2017-10-30 The SAGE Handbook of Political Sociology offers a comprehensive and contemporary look at this evolving field of study The focus is on political life itself and the chapters written by a highly respected and international team of authors cover the core themes which need to be understood in order to study political life from a sociological perspective or simply to understand the political world The two volumes are structured around five key areas PART 1 TRADITIONS AND PERSPECTIVES PART 2 CORE CONCEPTS PART 03 POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES AND MOVEMENTS PART 04 TOPICS PART 05 WORLD REGIONS This future oriented and cross disciplinary handbook is a landmark text for students and scholars interested in the social investigation of politics

The Essential Guide to Critical Development Studies Henry Veltmeyer, Paul Bowles, 2017-07-20 In recent years much mainstream development discourse has sought to co-opt and neutralize key concepts relating to empowerment participation gender sustainability and inclusivity in order to serve a market driven neoliberal agenda Critical development studies now play a crucial role in combatting this by analyzing the systemic changes needed to transform the current world to one where economic and social justice and environmental integrity prevail The Essential Guide to Critical Development Studies takes as its starting point the multiple crises economic political social and environmental of the dominant current global capitalist system The chapters collectively document and analyze these crises and the need to find alternatives to the system's that generate them To do so analyses of class gender and empire are placed at the centre of discussion in contrast to markets liberalization and convergence which characterize mainstream development discourse Each contributor supplements their overview with a guide to the critical development studies literature on the topic thereby providing scholars and students not only with a precis of the key issues but also a signpost to further readings This is an important resource for academics researchers policymakers and professionals in the areas of development studies political science sociology economics gender studies history anthropology agrarian studies international relations and international political economy

Caribbean Development in the New Multipolar World Order Dennis C. Canterbury, 2021-08-26

This book addresses the subject of critical development alternatives for the Caribbean Community CARICOM states in a post neoliberal new multipolar world order based on competition and co operation by the United States the European Union China and Russia for natural resources and markets Neoliberal globalization has traditionally restricted economic and political activities in the Caribbean region to Western style free market capitalism and liberal democracy However through an exploration of the new multipolar world order which replaces the US led unipolar global order that existed since the collapse of the former Soviet Union the author argues that today the Caribbean Community states now have real economic and political options for development alternatives Through examining how countries such as China and Russia have risen to economic success in recent years the book seeks to explore how the Caribbean Community states might adopt such features which would allow them to formulate another development such as introducing measures which can bring about a reconciliation between resource use and endowment and reduce inequalities As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology and development studies with interests in the Caribbean region and world order
