

The background of the book cover is a photograph of the interior of a grand Baroque church. The view is from the entrance looking towards the altar. A large, dark dome with a fresco of a winged figure (likely an angel or saint) dominates the upper half. Below the dome, a series of arched windows with dark frames and multiple panes allow light into the space. The walls are decorated with intricate carvings and statues. The floor is made of stone tiles. The overall atmosphere is one of historical grandeur and architectural detail.

A World History Of Architecture 1st Ed:

A World History of Architecture Marian Moffett, Michael W. Fazio, Lawrence Wodehouse, 2003 The Roman architect and engineer Vitruvius declared firmitas utilitas and venustas firmness commodity and delight to be the three essential attributes of architecture These qualities are brilliantly explored in this book which uniquely comprises both a detailed survey of Western architecture including Pre Columbian America and an introduction to architecture from the Middle East India Russia China and Japan The text encourages readers to examine closely the pragmatic innovative and aesthetic attributes of buildings and to imagine how these would have been praised or criticized by contemporary observers Artistic economic environmental political social and technological contexts are discussed so as to determine the extent to which buildings met the needs of clients society at large and future generations

The Routledge Companion to Architectural Pedagogies of the Global South Harriet Harriss, Ashraf M. Salama, Ane Gonzalez Lara, 2022-12-30 The established canon of architectural pedagogy has been predominantly produced within the Northern hemisphere and transposed or imposed across schools within the Global South more often with scant regard for social economic political or ecological culture and context nor regional or indigenous pedagogic principles and practices Throughout the Global South architecture's academic community has been deeply affected by this regime how it shapes and influences proto professionals and by implication architectural processes and outcomes too The Routledge Companion to Architectural Pedagogies of the Global South resituates and recenters an array of pedagogic approaches that are either produced or proliferate from the Global South while antagonizing the linguistic epistemological and disciplinary conceits that under imperialist imperatives ensured that these pedagogies remained maligned or marginalized The book maintains that the exclusionary implications of architectural notions of the orders the canon and the core have served to constrain and to calcify its contents and in doing so imperiled its relevance and impact In contrast this companion of pedagogic approaches serves to evidence that architecture's academic and professional advancement is wholly contingent on its ability to fully engage in an additive and inclusive process whereby the necessary disruptions that occur when marginalized knowledge confronts established knowledge result in a catalytical transformation through which new co created knowledge can emerge

Notions of tradition identity modernity vernacularism post colonialism poverty migration social and spatial justice climate apartheid globalization ethical standards and international partnerships are key considerations in the context of the Global South How these issues originate and evolve within architectural schools and curricula and how they act as drivers across all curricula activities are some of the important themes that the contributors interrogate and debate With more than 30 contributions from 55 authors from diverse regional racial ethnic gender and cultural backgrounds this companion is structured in four sections that capture critique and catalog multifarious marginalized pedagogical approaches to provide educators and students with an essential source book of navigational steers core contestations propositional tactics and reimagined rubrics The Routledge Companion to

Architectural Pedagogies of the Global South pioneers a transposable strategy for academics from all disciplines looking to adopt a tested approach to decolonizing the curriculum It is only through a process of destabilizing the hegemonic epistemological and disciplinary frameworks that have long prescribed architecture s pedagogies that the possibility of more inclusive representative and relevant pedagogical practices can emerge Valences of Historiography Gevork Hartoonian,2024-12-30 The compiled essays offer various themes and ways of approaching historiography Each chapter probes the state of contemporary theorization of architecture histories working toward the theme of critically re writing history Essential to each author s contribution are specific traditions created by the mole of history burrowing through the past This book concerns the historian s conjectures towards capturing the past and present zeitgeist Temporality is the theme running through the narrative of this volume It raises the question of whether the ever growing body of work on architectural history should be considered as history More specifically what is the intersection between history and architectural history Furthermore can every text focused on architecture s past be considered categorically historiographic In what capacity does architectural history index history beyond contingencies and without reducing the text to empirical realities and the historian s interest in a specific subject including those collected through archival research itself an emblem of textuality This book upholds the conviction that the past should be recalled accurately and that there is no history but historical criticism the scope of which exceeds the historicity of Humanism Dialectically the timeline experienced across contemporary techno economic and cultural domains aesthetics offers an opportunity to explore architecture produced outside the Euro American continents Valences of Historiography offers a fresh take on architectural history that is useful for academics researchers and architecture students

Later Byzantine Painting Robert S. Nelson,2024-10-28 Written over nearly three decades the fifteen essays involve the three a s of the title art agency and appreciation The first refers to the general subject matter of the book Byzantine art chiefly painting of the twelfth through the fourteenth centuries the second to its often human like agency and the last to its historical reception Responding to different issues and perspectives that have animated art history and Byzantine studies in recent decades the essays have wide theoretical range from art historical formalism iconography archaeology and its manuscript equivalent codicology to statistics patronage narratology and the histories of science and collecting The series begins with art works themselves and with the imagery and iconography of church decoration and manuscript illumination shifts to the ways that objects act in the world and affect their beholders and concludes with more general appreciations of Byzantine art in case studies from the thirteenth century to the present

The Phenomenon of Diagonality Joel Levinson,2025-10-13 Throughout history the force of gravity rendered the right angle sacrosanct in the world of architecture However as the 20th century dawned the long simmering diagonal motif finally arrived full force and upended the fields of architecture design and the fine arts This book summarizes the author s 60 year study of this revolutionary geometric motif and highlights how it is tied to social upheavals and artistic movements Once people understand the concept of Diagonality they will begin to see its angled planes on street corners in art museums and possibly in everyday objects Diagonality has been all around us but hidden in plain sight

The Organizer's Guide to Architecture Education Kirsten Day, Peggy Deamer, Andrea Dietz, Tessa Forde, Jessica Garcia Fritz, Palmyra Geraki, Valérie Lechêne, 2024-07-24 The Organizer's Guide to Architecture Education serves as a timely call to action for transforming architecture education to meet the monumental environmental and social challenges of our time Written by a collective of eight educators practitioners and organizers and structured in three parts the book considers organizing across four scales of architecture education and reorients architecture toward stewarding the planetary commons It speaks to students faculty and administrators in architecture schools as well as professional architects and built environment practitioners who recognize the need to expand and decenter the discipline Readers will gain critical understandings and skills for reimagining architectural pedagogy practice and relations to power structures Empowered by this knowledge readers will be motivated to contribute actively to and drive systemic change within the field Illuminated with how to methods from power mapping to conversation tactics and case study precedents the book catalyzes a collective redefinition of architecture as a vital player in building a socially just and ecologically regenerative future

Innovative tools and design strategies. The case of Eclectic Architecture in Buenos Aires Garrido, Federico Andrés, 2023-05-26 The research deals with a question about Architecture and its design strategies combining historical information and digital tools Design strategies are historically defined they rely on geometry context building technologies and other factors The study of Architecture's own history particularly in the verge of technological advancements like the introduction of new materials or tools may shed some light on how to internalize digital tools like parametric design and digital fabrication

Science and Technology in World History, Volume 1 David Deming, 2014-01-10 Science is a living organic activity the meaning and understanding of which have evolved incrementally over human history This book the first in a roughly chronological series explores the development of the methodology and major ideas of science in historical context from ancient times to the decline of classical civilizations around 300 A D It includes details specific to the histories of specialized sciences including astronomy medicine and physics along with Roman engineering and Greek philosophy It closely describes the contributions of such individuals as Pythagoras Hippocrates Socrates Plato Aristotle Alexander the Great Euclid Archimedes Ptolemy Seneca Pliny the Elder and Galen

Urban Public Space in Colonial Transformations Monika Baumanova, 2022-09-21 This book offers an interdisciplinary perspective on the precolonial to colonial transition in an urban context by focusing on the changing distribution character and role of public spaces and buildings The volume focuses on three case study regions East African coast North West Africa and the Iberian Peninsula The regions are selected to provide a novel perspective on the socio spatial impact of colonialism on the public life of urban settlements driven by different political forces in different geographical contexts and time periods The three study areas are also linked by sharing several features of urban lifestyle such as the role of trade and the influence of religion Islam in particular The intertwined influence of socio spatial urban characteristics on public life is presented on a range of case studies selected from Africa and southern Europe The approaches are rooted in archaeological thinking on the built environment as material culture and incorporate critical interpretation of ethnographies and historical accounts on both the precolonial and colonial eras This volume is of interest to archaeologists and researchers working in urban history anthropology and heritage

Publisher and Bookseller ,1896 Vols for 1871 76 1913 14 include an extra number The Christmas bookseller separately paged and not included in the consecutive numbering of the regular series Time, Space, and Order Christian Frost,2009 The city of Salisbury was built together with the cathedral in the early part of the thirteenth century shortly after the Fourth Lateran Council in Rome and the signing of Magna Carta in England This book describes how the bishop and his chapter took advantage of this extraordinary opportunity The author argues that the political turmoil which affected the development of Old Sarum was replaced at Salisbury by a sacramental vision superimposing ideas of movement and time over a static partly geometric order The most significant occasions used by the clergy to reveal this tension were the Rogation processions around Ascension Day which seem to have left an imprint on the layout of the city The study goes on to suggest that participation in the processions inside the cathedral and the city brought past present and future together in one experience which linked normal time with the foundation of Salisbury as well as the hope associated with the Second Coming This observation not only offers new insights into the concerns of urban Christianity in the first half of the thirteenth century but also points to an alternative way of looking at gothic architecture based around movement
