Schweger, 2013-09-17 Paleoecology of Beringia is the product of a symposium organized by its editors sponsored by the Wenner Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research and held at the foundation s conference center in Burg Wartenstein Austria 8 17 June 1979 The focus of this volume is on the paradox central to all studies of the unglaciated Arctic during the last Ice Age that vertebrate fossils indicate that from 45 000 to 11 000 years BP an environment considerably more diverse and productive than the present one existed whereas the botanical record where it is not silent supports a far more conservative appraisal of the region s ability to sustain any but the sparsest forms of plant and animal life The volume is organized into seven parts Part 1 focuses on the paleogeography of the Beringia The studies in Part 2 explore the ancient vegetation Part 3 deals with the steppe tundra concept and its application in Beringia Part 4 examines the paleoclimate while Part 5 is devoted to the biology of surviving relatives of the Pleistocene ungulates Part 6 takes up the presence of man in ancient Beringia Part 7 assesses the paleoecology of Beringia during the last 40 000 years Forest Entomology Robert N. Coulson, John A. Witter, 1984-05-14 This text considers forest insects occurring in forest ecosystems specialized forestry settings and urban forests with an approach and coverage that make it suitable for use in both undergraduate and graduate courses in forest entomology and forest protection Early chapters introduce entomology middle chapters provide the first comprehensive treatment of the principles of Integrated Pest Management IPM of forest insects and later chapters discuss the pest insects according to their feeding group Current Frontiers in Cryopreservation Igor Katkov, 2012-03-14 Almost a decade has passed since the last textbook on the science of cryobiology Life in the Frozen State was published Recently there have been some serious tectonic shifts in cryobiology which were perhaps not seen on the surface but will have a profound effect on both the future of cryobiology and the development of new cryopreservation methods We feel that it is time to revise the previous paradigms and dogmas discuss the conceptually new cryobiological ideas and introduce the recently emerged practical protocols for cryopreservation The present books Current Frontiers in Cryobiology and Current Frontiers in Cryopreservation will serve the purpose This is a global effort by scientists from 27 countries from all continents and we hope it will be interesting to a wide audience Studies of Water Movement in Vegetated and Unvegetated Littoral Areas, 1995
