

The Screaming of the Innocent
UNITY DOW

There is a powerful, growing movement in the United States and around the world that is calling for a new way of thinking about the world and our place in it. This movement is based on the belief that we are all part of a single, interconnected community, and that we have a responsibility to care for one another and the planet. This is the heart of the Unity Dow movement.

African Detective Fiction 1940-2020 Matthew J. Christensen, 2024 Providing a survey of Anglophone African detective fiction from the late 1940s to the present day this study traces its history both as a literary form and a mode of critical exploration of the fraught sovereignties of the African state and its citizens Since the late 1940s African writers including Cyprian Ekwensi Arthur Maimane Adaora Lily Ulasi Hilary Ng weno Unity Dow Parker Bilal and Angela Makholwa have published over 200 murder mysteries police procedurals spy thrillers and other fictional narratives of investigation and discovery in English language newspapers magazines and novels Distributed widely across the continent's diverse cultural and political geographies these texts share aesthetic characteristics and thematic preoccupations that reflect transnational networks of production circulation and influence Anglophone African Detective Fiction 1940 2020 surveys this literary history and examines how African writers have repeatedly harnessed the detective story to interrogate postcolonial realities of selfhood and the state It argues that African writers have turned the detective story into a highly productive while at the same time suspense filled and entertaining mode of social and political critique first of colonialism and the independence era and latterly of neoliberal governance Offering an overview of paradigmatic texts from Ghana to Kenya and Sudan to South Africa the book traces the contours of the history of Anglophone African detective fiction that is at once a cultural history of a uniquely African assessment of the ongoing problematics of sovereignty and decolonization The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean Since 1950 Simon Gikandi, 2016 The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950 examines the institutional and social peculiarities that make fiction produced in Africa and the Atlantic World since 1950 important to the history of the novel in English Gender Issues in African Literature Ce, Chin, Smith, Charles, 2014-04-03 Gender Issues in African Literature examines the ways in which some protagonists of African fictions are made to counter and challenge intertwined Western discourses on gender employment sexuality and health Here the conflict between Tradition and Modernity is argued from the favourite premise of male supremacist ideology showing how women have unlearned these false concepts to build a sustained feminist movement and re learn the value of sisterhood There is a bold attempt to reread Achebe as a consistent in urging women to fight the seemingly oppressive structures that have traditionally discriminated against them and to disregard their diversity and embrace their unity A chapter of Feminist Re writing disagrees with the attempt to equate theory with political activism and presents Feminist literature as more than a verbal assertion that points to Feminist aesthetics and politics The use of the trauma theory and testimony literature to explore traumatising of female characters and its impact for Zimbabwean civil society is a useful addition to these gender studies in African literature

Postcolonial Postmortems , 2006-01-01 Recent crime fiction increasingly transcends national boundaries with investigators operating across countries and continents Frequently the detective is a migrant or comes from a transcultural

background To solve the crime the investigator is called upon to decipher the meanings hidden in clues and testimonies that require transcultural forms of understanding For the reader the investigation discloses new interpretive methods and processes of social investigation often challenging facile interpretations of the postcolonial world order Under the rubric postcolonial postmortems this collection of essays seeks to explore the tropes issues and themes that characterise this emergent form of crime fiction But what does the postcolonial bring to the genre apart from the well known and valid discourses of resistance subversion and ethnicity And why postmortems A dissection and medical examination of a body to determine the cause of death the postmortem of the postcolonial not only alludes to the investigation of the victim's remains but also to the body of the individual text and its contexts This collection interrogates literary concepts of postcoloniality and crime from transcultural perspectives in the attempt to offer new critical impulses to the study of crime fiction and postcolonial literatures International scholars offer insights into the postcolonial postmortems of a wide range of texts by authors from Africa South Asia the Asian and African Diaspora and Australia including Robert G Barrett Unity Dow Wessel Ebersohn Romesh Gunsekera Kazuo Ishiguro Sujata Massey Alexander McCall Smith and Michael Ondaatje

The Heavens May Fall Unity Dow, 2007 Unity Dow's fourth novel tells the story of Naledi Chaba a young attorney who has to battle prejudices within the legal profession and in the broader society Her clients are mainly women and children and she finds that under traditional law and modern Botswana law they are without protection

Mapping Africa in the English Speaking World Sibonile Edith Ellece, Kemmye Collette Monaka, Owen S Seda, 2010-10-12 Mapping Africa in the English Speaking World addresses issues of representations of Africa in the English speaking world English has become a global language which has turned the world into a global village and as Graddol 2008 states it is now redefining national and individual identities worldwide shifting political fault lines creating new global patterns of wealth and social exclusion and suggesting new notions of human rights and responsibilities of citizenship This book grapples with the relationship between Africa and the rest of the English speaking world and touches on issues of Euro American misrepresentations of the continent in literary works and films misrepresentations which are nevertheless passed as true and infallible knowledge of Africa marginalization of Africans African languages and culture African scholarship language policy language diglossia African theatre in post colonial Africa identity negotiations in post colonial Africa and relations between gender and language among other issues These issues are bound to stimulate debates on Africa and its representations in the English speaking world

Crime Fiction and the Law Maria Aristodemou, Fiona Macmillan, Patricia Tuitt, 2016-12-08 This book opens up a range of important perspectives on law and violence by considering the ways in which their relationship is formulated in literature television and film Employing critical legal theory to address the relationship between crime fiction law and justice it considers a range of topics including the relationship between crime fiction legal reasoning and critique questions surrounding the relationship between law and justice gender issues the legal political and social impacts of fictional representations of crime and justice post colonial perspectives on crime fiction as well as the impact of law itself on the crime fiction s development Introducing a new sub field of legal and literary research this book will be of enormous interest to scholars in critical cultural and socio legal studies as well as to others in criminology as well as in literature Overland
