Gómez-Pérez,2010-07-08 The development of knowledge based systems is usually approached through the combined skills of knowledge engineers KEs and subject matter experts SMEs One of the most critical steps in this activity aims at transferring knowledge from SMEs to formal machine readable representations which allow systems to reason with such knowledge However this is a costly and error prone task Alleviating the knowledge acquisition bottleneck requires enabling SMEs with the means to produce the desired knowledge representations without the help of KEs This is especially difficult in the case of complex knowledge types like processes The analysis of different application domains uncovers that process knowledge is one of the most frequent knowledge types whose complexity requires specific means to enable SMEs to represent processes in a computational form Additionally such complexity and the increasingly large amount of data that process executions generate in knowledge intensive domains like Biology or Astronomy requires analytical means with high abstraction capabilities to support SMEs in the analysis of such processes This book presents methods and tools that enable SMEs to acquire process knowledge from the domains formally represent such knowledge reason about it and understand process executions by analyzing their provenance We describe the utilization of Problem Solving Methods as the main knowledge artifacts for process acquisition and analysis in two innovative ways First as formalizations of the reasoning strategies needed for processes and second as high level domain independent and reusable abstractions of process knowledge to provide SMEs with interpretations of process executions Biology Solved Papers Vol.02 YCT Expert Team , 2023 24 NEET

Improving Quality in American Higher Education Richard Arum, Josipa Roksa, Amanda Cook, 2016-05-02 An ambitious comprehensive reimagining of 21st century higher education Improving Quality in American Higher Education outlines the fundamental concepts and competencies society demands from today's college graduates and provides a vision of the future for students, faculty, and administrators. Based on a national multidisciplinary effort to define and measure learning outcomes, the Measuring College Learning project, this book identifies essential concepts and competencies for six disciplines. These essential concepts and competencies represent efforts towards articulating a consensus among faculty in biology, business, communication, economics, history, and sociology disciplines that account for nearly 40 percent of undergraduate majors in the United States. Contributions from thought leaders in higher education, including Ira Katznelson, George Kuh, and Carol Geary Schneider, offer expert perspectives and persuasive arguments for the need for greater clarity, intentionality, and quality in U.S. higher education. College faculty are our best resource for improving the quality of undergraduate education. This book offers a path forward based on faculty perspectives nationwide. Clarify program structure and aims. Articulate high quality learning goals. Rigorously measure student progress. Prioritize higher order competencies and disciplinarily grounded conceptual understandings. A culmination of over two years of efforts by faculty and association leaders from six disciplines, this book distills the national conversation into a delineated set of fundamental ideas and practices and advocates for the development and use of rigorous assessment tools that are valued by faculty, students, and society. Improving Quality in American Higher Education brings faculty voices to the fore of the conversation and offers an insightful look at the state of higher education and a realistic strategy for better serving our students. Scholastic Journalism C.
