public policy especially environmental policy and area studies Agriculture for improved nutrition: Seizing the momentum Fan, Shenggen, Yosef, Sivan, Pandya-Lorch, Rajul, 2019-02-28 Agriculture's vast potential to improve nutrition is just beginning to be tapped. New ideas, research and initiatives developed over the past decade have created an opportunity for reimagining and redesigning agricultural and food systems for the benefit of nutrition. To support this transformation, the book reviews the latest findings, results from on-the-ground programs and interventions, and recent policy experiences from countries around the world that are bringing the agriculture and nutrition sectors closer together. Drawing on IFPRI's own work and that of the growing agriculture nutrition community, this book strengthens the evidence base for and expands our vision of how agriculture can contribute to nutrition. Chapters cover an array of issues that link agriculture and nutrition, including food value chains, nutrition-sensitive programs and policies, government policies and private sector investments. By highlighting both achievements and setbacks, Agriculture for Improved Nutrition seeks to inspire those who want to scale up successes that can transform food systems and improve the nutrition of billions of people. Push Button Agriculture K. R. Krishna, 2017-03-16 This book covers three main types of agricultural systems: the use of robotics, drones, unmanned aerial vehicles, and satellite-guided precision farming methods. Some of these are well refined and are currently in use, while others are in need of refinement and are yet to become popular. The book provides a valuable source of information on this developing field for those involved with agriculture and farming and agricultural engineering. The book is also applicable as a textbook for students and a reference for faculty. Moving the AEC Beyond 2015 Tham Siew Yean, 2018-02-14 The ten Southeast Asian economies reached a milestone on 31 December 2015 when they announced the formation of an ASEAN Community. Although this includes three pillars: ASEAN Political Security Community, ASEAN Economic Community (AEC), and the ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community, it is the economic pillar that generates immense debate due to its expected quantifiable benefits to member countries. This book thus focuses on the ASEAN Economic Community and seeks to explain the need for building domestic consensus within the member countries. It starts with an overview chapter describing the current achievements of the AEC. It then explores possible explanations for the achievements, non-achievements, and offers a hypothesis on conflicting economic interests in a country as one possible explanation for gaps in implementation. This is because any form of economic liberalisation brings with it the winners and losers, thereby raising resistance to liberalization measures and slowing down the implementation process. The book includes six country chapters: Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, and Vietnam, that examine sources of domestic conflict in greater detail and depth. It also includes a regional chapter co-authored by the ex-Secretary General of ASEAN, Mr. Rodolfo Severino, that brings out the political nature of ASEAN economic cooperation since its inception in 1976. For ASEAN beyond 2015, the book articulates the need to obtain a strong domestic consensus that supports the integration initiatives of the AEC. This can be viewed as a way forward to accelerate and deepen integration within ASEAN. The book concludes with some suggestions on how each country can move towards achieving domestic consensus based on the respective country level analysis

How South Africa Works Jeffrey Herbst,Greg Mills,2015-07-01 The overwhelming challenge that South Africa faces and has to date failed to address is unemployment which falls especially on African youths who were promised a better future after 1994 If the current unemployment challenge is not addressed it will be impossible to sustainably lift many millions of people out of poverty How South Africa Works reviews the country's major economic achievements over the past two decades Through numerous interviews with politicians business leaders and analysts it examines the challenges and opportunities across key productive sectors including agriculture manufacturing services and mining illustrative of the policy challenges that leaders face It scrutinises the social grant and education systems to understand if South Africa has established mechanisms for people not only to escape destitution but be ready to be employed and identifies steps that some of South Africa's most notable entrepreneurs have taken to build world class enterprises Recognising the essential challenge to cultivate more employers to employ people How South Africa Works concludes by offering an agenda and active steps for greater competitiveness for government business and labour Bioeconomy for Beginners Joachim Pietzsch,2020-03-06 This book provides an interdisciplinary and comprehensible introduction to bioeconomy It thus provides basic knowledge for understanding a transformation process that will shape the 21st century and requires the integration of many disciplines and industries that have had little to do with each other up to now We are talking about the gradual and necessary transition from the age of fossil fuels which began around 200 years ago to a global economy based on renewable raw materials and renewable energies The success of this transition is key to coping with the challenge of climate change This book conceives the realization of bioeconomy as a threefold task a scientific an economic and an ecological one Where does the biomass come from that we need primarily for feeding the growing world population but also for future energy and material use How can it be processed in biorefineries and what role does biotechnology play in this regard Which aspects of innovation economics need to be considered which economic aspects of value creation competitiveness and customer acceptance are important What conditions must a bioeconomy fulfil in order to enable a sustainable development of life on earth May it be regarded as a key to further economic growth or shouldn't it rather orient itself towards the ideal of sufficiency By dealing with these questions from the not necessarily consistent perspectives of proven experts this book provides an interdisciplinary overview of a dynamic field of research and practice that raises more questions than answers and thus may nurture the motivation of many more people to seriously engage for the realization of a bioeconomy Agriculture and Resilience in Australia's North Keith Noble,Tania Dennis,Sarah Larkins,2019-08-05 This book examines the mechanisms and strategies farmers in North Australia adopt to manage the setbacks and challenges they face This social research is based on farmers experiences but also draws on the author's own experience after his tropical fruit farm was destroyed by two Category 5 cyclones in five years Through historical analysis the book compares historic and contemporary aspirations for northern development and discusses the influence of the built environment on individuals as well as access to health and other social services Exploring the implications of individual resilience strategies for policy development within the broader context of northern development and evolving environmental governance the book also highlights the fact that this is occurring in a new geological epoch the Anthropocene The book will provide a unique perspective and understanding to government individuals and industries interested in northern Australia and its relationship to the world Near East and North Africa Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition 2018 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2019-04-25 The Near East and North Africa Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition provides new evidence for monitoring trends in food security and nutrition within the framework of the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda The in depth analysis of progress made against Sustainable Development Goal 2 Target 2 1 to end hunger and ensure access to food by all and Target 2 2 to end all forms of malnutrition as well as the state of micronutrient deficiencies is complemented by a review on rural transformation policies aimed at addressing food insecurity and nutrition issues Updated estimates shows that the food security situation on the region continues to worsen since 2011 2013 For the Near East and North Africa 11% of the region s population 50 2 million people are undernourished The findings of the report showed that the failure to reduce hunger in the area is closely associated with the increase in conflict and violence in several parts of the region as also highlighted in last year s edition While the prevalence of undernourishment has risen from 23 to 26 percent in conflict countries since 2011 13 it has remained stable at about 5 percent in non conflict countries This year s report goes further to explore the relationship between food insecurity economic growth and rural transformation It demonstrates that economic growth in the Near East and North Africa region has been slow compared to other regions and suggests that rural transformation can improve growth rates and generate decent employment through strengthening rural urban linkages improving agricultural productivity and expanding the rural non farm economy International Food Law and Policy
