Publisher s description An Age of Accountability John L. Rury, 2023-10-13 An Age of Accountability highlights the role of test based accountability as a policy framework in American education from 1970 to 2020 For more than half a century the quest to hold schools and educators accountable for academic achievement has relied almost exclusively on standardized assessment The theory of change embedded in almost all test based accountability programs held that assessment with stipulated consequences could lead to major improvements in schools This was accomplished politically by proclaiming lofty goals of attaining universal proficiency and closing achievement gaps which repeatedly failed to materialize But even after very clear disappointments no other policy framework has emerged to challenge its hegemony The American public today has little confidence in institutions to improve the quality of goods and services they provide especially in the public sector As a consequence many Americans continue to believe that accountability remains a vital necessity even if educators and policy scholars disagree

The Unresolved National Question in South Africa Edward Webster,Karin Pampallis,John Mawbey,Jeremy Cronin,2017-03-01 This volume examines the way in which various strands of left thought have addressed the National Question The re emergence of debates on the decolonisation of knowledge has revived interest in the National Question which began over a century ago and remains unresolved Tensions that were suppressed and hidden in the past are now being openly debated Despite this the goal of one united nation living prosperously under a constitutional democracy remains elusive This edited volume examines the way in which various strands of left thought have addressed the National Question especially during the apartheid years and goes on to discuss its relevance for South Africa today and in the future Instead of imposing a particular understanding of the National Question the editors identified a number of political traditions and allowed contributors the freedom to define the question as they believed appropriate in other words to explain what they thought was the Unresolved National Question This has resulted in a rich tapestry of interweaving perceptions The volume is structured in two parts The first examines four foundational traditions Marxism Leninism the Colonialism of a Special Type thesis the Congress tradition the Trotskyist tradition and Africanism The second part explores the various shifts in the debate from the 1960s onwards and includes chapters on Afrikaner nationalism ethnic issues black consciousness feminism workerism and constitutionalism The editors hope that by revisiting the debates not popularly known among the scholarly mainstream this volume will become a catalyst for an enriched debate on our identity and our future

Teaching for Learning and Learning for Teaching Christopher Klopper,Steve Drew,2015-10-30 Teaching for Learning and Learning for Teaching focuses on the emerging global governmental and institutional agenda about higher education teaching quality and the role that peer review can play in supporting improvements in teaching and student outcomes This agenda is a pervasive element of the further development of higher education internationally through activities of governments global agencies institutions of higher education discrete disciplines and individual teachers Many universities have adopted student evaluations as a mechanism to appraise the quality of teaching These evaluations can be understood as providing a customer centric portrait of quality and when used as the sole arbiter of teaching performance they do not instil confidence in the system of evaluation by academic teaching staff Providing peer perspectives as counterpoint whether in a developmental or summative form goes some way to alleviating this imbalance and is the impetus for the resurgence of interest in peer review and observation of teaching This book seeks to recognise cases of peer review of teaching in Higher Education to affirm best practices and identify areas that require improvement in establishing local
