Standards Focus: Types of Conflict

Conflict is a literary term indicating the struggle between two or more opposing forces. If conflict is written well, it can create a feeling of suspense, tension, and intrigue. There are several types of conflict:

- 1) man versus man — struggle between two or more characters
- 2) man versus himself — struggle between a character and his conscience, morals, or physical limitations
- 3) man versus nature — struggle between a character and a force of nature such as weather or the environment
- 4) man versus society — struggle between a character and the rules, beliefs, or pressures of a society or community
- 5) man versus fate — struggle between a character and the “forces” of the universe, such as God, destiny, or chance happenings

In addition, conflict can be divided into external or internal conflicts. External conflicts are man versus man, man versus nature, man versus society, and man versus fate. The internal conflict is man versus himself.

Directions: For each of the following quotes from Acts One and Two, decide who or what is involved in the conflict, and which type of conflict is being represented (see 1-5 above). Then decide whether this conflict is a main or subordinate conflict in the play. An example has been done for you.

Ex. Parris urges Abigail to tell him the truth about what happens in the woods: “It must come out—my enemies will bring it out. Let me know what you done there. Abigail, do you understand that I have many enemies?”

Opposing forces: Parris versus certain members of the community

Type of conflict: man versus society

Main or subordinate?: subordinate

1. Abigail defends her name in the town: “She hates me, uncle, she must, for I would not be her slave. It’s a bitter woman, a lying, cold, sniveling woman, and I will not work for such a woman!”

Opposing forces: Abigail versus Elizabeth

Type of conflict: Man versus Man

Main or subordinate?: Main

2. John Proctor rejects Abigail: “Abby, I may think of you softly from time to time. But I will cut off my hand before I’ll ever reach for you again. Wipe it out of mind. We never touched, Abby.”

Opposing forces: John Proctor versus Abigail

Type of conflict: Man versus Man

Main or subordinate?: Subordinate
